NOTES AND COMMENTS. Interest in the coming of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Toronto shows that above party strile and detraction there is genuino appreciation of the services of a great Canadian who has been instrumental in

Monday was the 4th, a settling up day it the monetary institutions. Nowhere is the genuine business revival felt more than in the Banks, who practically have their finger on the pulse of business life all the time. The various Banks in the cities report business paper promptly met. Farmers come in now and cheerfully pay up on the very day, which is an agreeable change to what it was some time ago.

Why not begin to spend less money on railways and . more on the common roads of the country? The common roads cannot be monopolized or their stock watered they belong to the people, and the people cannot be deprived of them. Every dollar out into good roads is a dollar put into the farmer's pooket, saving wear and tear of horse-flesh and waggons, belping him to market his products, and increasing the pleasantness of country life, giving better mail delivery, better access to the store; the church, the school house, the public meeting, the neighbor's home .- The Globe.

The passing of an insolvency law by the Dominiou Parliament is more urgently needed to-day than it ever has been: comprehensivo' measure, affecting all the provinces alike, would tend to stimulate trade between Great Britain and the Dominion, and that, we believe, is what everyone is auxious to do. The merchants of Great Britain have repeatedly expressed themselves as desirous of seeing the Dominion Government deal with insolvency and make a uniform law for the Dominion. instead of leaving it to each of the provinces to legislate in the matter as it may think fit .-- Toronto World.

Provincial License Inspector J. Stewart was asked the other day whether from the returns at his disposal he had formed any impressions as to the working of the amended Licenso Act. "The first thing I noticed," said Mr. Stewart, "on getting the returns for the first quarter during which the amendments were in operation was that there were quite s number of convictions for selling liquor to minors. There now seems to be a general observance of the law with respect to the hours of closing. Looking at the whole province, I think the act, including the recent amendments, were never to well observed as at present; and there are now fewer complaints than have been made for

Saturday. General Neal Dow, the prohibition leader, died at his home in Portland Maine, on Saturday. He was a stordy figure in his day, having been twice Mayor of Portland, a member of the Legislature, a Presidential candidate in the campaign that preceded Garfield's election. On the outbreak of the rebellion, although nearly sixty years of age-or fifteen years beyond the subsequent draft limit-he, as a volunteer, raised a regiment, took the field, was twice wounded in battle, was for the better part of a year the victim of all the horrors of Libbey prison, and became a brigader-general after having onlisted at a time when he was old enough to be the father of nearly every distinguished commander on the Union side.

This is the sort of man, whose life spans all but four years of the present century. who has passed peacefully to his rest. During all his later years Neal Dow devoted the greater part of his time to addressing meetings in all-parts of the country in favor of the entire prohibition of the liquor traffic. He was a prolific and powerful writer, and with the exception perhaps of Father Matthew could well be called the greatest temperance exponent o

EDITOR'S TABLE. The October Canadian Magazine, besides being well illustrated contains several mportant and scientific articles. Dr. Bourinot writes of the Royal Society of Canada, W. L. Cotton, of the Premiers of Prince Edward Island, Mina A. Reid, of the Universities of Nova Scotia, and R. G. Haliburton, Q. C., F. R. G. S., of "The Days of Prehistorio Man." The author of the latter article is a son of the famous Canadian litterateur and humorist, Judge Haliburton or "Sam Slick," and is himself a scholar well known among the learned societies of Europe. Among the lighter articles is "The Making of a Dollar Bill," by A. C. Campbell. The book reviews are very bright and the department of "Nationlively in his new profession, without his al Sport" most creditable. Altogether the number is decidedly strong, and evidences the growth of culture and literary tasts among Canadians. The American Monthly Review of Review for October has several articles of unusual interest to women renders. Miss Frances Willard tells the story of the World's W. O. T. U. movement : Mrs. Ellen M. Henrotin, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, outlines the benefits of these organizations; Mrs. Sheldon Amos, of England, writes of a London Women's Club and Miss Mary Taylor Blauvelt contributes an enlightening article on the opportunities for women at the English

Food for the thoughtful reader, who seeks not only entertainment, but also instruction and enlightenment, is furnished in the October number of The Chautauguan by such scholarly and accomplished writers as Prof. Dana Carleton Munro, who deals with "Luther's Influence on Literature," Mr. Hamblen Sears, by treating with fascinating reality "The Building of the German Empire," Prof. George E. Vincent, in an able presentation of "Imperial Germany and Imperial Rome," and Pres. John F. Goucher, whose comprehensive and stimulative lectore on "Individualism," delivered at Chautauqua Assembly on

The October number of the Delineator is called the Autumn Number, and its representation of the new Russian blouse waists. fau-back skirts and all the other Autumn novelties in dress modes and millinery, is made complete by a series of artistic color plates. ### THRILLING RESCUE.

YOUNG LIFE SAVED IN A RE-MARKABLE MANNER.

lorence Sturdivant of Grindstone island, Saved from an Untimely Death-Her Parents Saw' Her Dangerous Predicament, Were Helpless to Ald Her-How She was Rescued.

Among the Thousand Islands is one called Grindstone. It is seven miles long and three wide. The inhabitants of this island are a well-informed class of people who devote their energies to farming and quarrying for a livelihood. In the home of one of these islanders resides Florence J. Sturdivant, the four year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sturdivant. In Pebruary, 1896, she was taken with scarlet fever, and after the usual run of the fever she was left with a weak back and gradually began to lose strength, until finally despite the best efforts of physicians her life hung in the balance. It was at this oriels, when all seemed darkest, that an angel of health appeared on the scene and released little Florence from pain and suf fering and restored her to strength and health. This remarkable occurence is

Mr. Sturdivant said : "Florence was taken sick with scarlet fever and we immediately called a physician. He prescribed for her and we followed his directions closely, giving our little patient the best of care. After two weeks the fever subsided, but Florence was left with a very weak back. Severe pains were constantly in the back and stomach. We did all that possibly could be done to relieve our little sufferer, but to no avail. The difficulty seemed to baffle the efforts of the physician "Finally at the end of four months of reatment we found our patient completely prostrated. At this time we called another physician, who agreed with the disagnosis of our own doctor, and said that the trouble resulted from the scarlet fever. He pre cribed a course of treatment and we fol lowed it faithfully for three months, but | wear, etc.

natead of improving, Florence failed. "Mrs. Sturdivant and myself were completely discouraged. A brother of my wife, who was visiting us, advised us to use Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and I purchased a box of the pills and began to give them to Florence. This was in Octofor the adornment of their book covers, but ber, 1896. After using the pills a short time we could see an improvement. Her true habits of speech and action also have strength began to return and she would sit. up in bed. Her appetite was restored and > ual brightness in her eyes. "We eagerly purchased a further supply of pills and watched with delight the change for the better that was being wrought daily. From sitting up in bed at times during the day and at times standing on her feet, Florence finally became strong enough to walk a little. She gained in flesh and strength rapidly, and the pains gradually left her. In a month's time she had recovered her health and strength.

> We cannot praise too highly the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am positive that without their use our child would have been to-day in the same sad condition of her early sickness -a confirmed invalid-it indeed she had had the strength to with stand so long the ills of her affliction."
