From personal reports of members of the Globe staff and other equally reliable sources the information comes that the fall wheat overywhere presents a most hopeful appearance. Colonel Goodwillie has for many years been an active officer in Halton Battalion, has earned his preferment and is well qualified for the position, having, in addition to his experience in connection with the battalion spent two terms at the Military College. Mr. Goodwillie will no doubt prove a very popular successor to Col. Kerns.

An enjoyable evening is anticipated. Put Down Permanent Drains. The folly of using lumber for drains and sowers, especially when laid in the center of the streets, has been manifested very fully here the past week. For several months the Mill street drain has been defective and as a result the cellars on the north side have been periodically flooded. The Council remedied the matter temporarily, but last week it was found that more effective action must be taken or heavy damages were likely to result. In order to determine the whereabouts of the defect the new road bed on this street was torn up in four places before the obstruction was located. The drain was found to be decayed and caved in; but when opened there was soon a rush of water from the flooded cellars. The drain should be replaced with a substantial tile drain and trouble in future would then, be averted. The road bed where the street was opened will not be es good egain for months.

The Vacant Reeveship. In compliance with the municipal procamation the electors met at noon on Saturday to nominate candidates for the Reeveship, rendered vacant through the death of Mr. W. H. Storey. The new egulation requiring all nominations to be put in writing was observed, and at the close of a very quiet hour the clerk was in possession of the following nominations :-A. E. Nicklin-Proposed by Dr. J. E. first Tuesday in June. Drep, seconded by W. H. Denny.

J. B. PEARSON-Proposed by J. A. Mc Grail, seconded by John Williams.

W. H. DENNY-Proposed by Alex. Becord, seconded by Hogh-Mann, JAMES CLARK-Proposed by H. P. Moore, seconded by A. J. McKinnon.

Ex-Reeve Nicklin and Councillor Clark declined to accept the nomination. The contest is therefore between ex-Reeve Pearson and ex-Councillor Denny. Both candidates are well-known and wellqualified for the position to which they aspire. Mr. Pearson has, perhaps, some advantage over Mr. Denny because of his former occupancy of the office, but Mr. Denny, while a member of the Council. proved himself a capable and interested servant of the people, and never shirked duty, even when it conflicted with his time or personal intereste.
