Mostly of a Local Character, and every item interesting.

Only a Coat of Paint. The G.T.R. painting gang spent about a week here and repainted the exterior of their old depot, water tank, etc. There is an improved appearance, but our citizens Passa. unanimously think that a town which gives the G.T.R. an annual revenue of upwards Misses Laird this week. of $50,000 is deserving of more consideration. A coat of paint is a very ineignificant Bunday at his old home. substitute for the long-hoped-for new depot.

A Bloy clo Tourist Swindler. His year bas just expired and be bade farewell to the congregation in an impressive sermon last Sunday morning. His discourse was a fatherly exhortation to the members to embrace all duties calculated to advance God's kingdom, and to show to the world that they are living working obristians. During Mr. Luxford's term in Acton, he informs the FREE PRESS, some thirty-persons bave been brought into the church. Mr. and Mrs.

Luxford will go to Buffalo for a few days this week, and will then proceed to their Knox Church Harvest Home. Next Sunday will be observed as Flower and Harvest Home Sanday in Knox Church here. Special sermons will be preached morning and evening by Rev. H, A. Macpherson, paster of the church. Music will be furnished by the church Carroll this week, choir at both services. In the Sabbath School in the afternoon an address will ! given by a prominent Sabbath School worker from a distance. On Monday evening, 10th inst., a harvest home social and lecture will be given in the church. The lecture will be given by Rev. R. E. Knowles, B. in the basement of the church from 6 to 8 It Was a Juley Trip. Last Friday afternoon a trio of well known Georgetown ladies decided to enjoy a wheeling trip to Acton and spend an hour or so with friends here. When little more than half way the clouds became black and the rain subsequently came down in splendid volume for the newly sown wheat, but with a decidedly dampening effect upon the spirits and persons of the wheeling party. With considerable pluck they continued their journey to Acton, but when -The volume of travel last week from they arrived here they presented a spectacle. miserable in the extreme. They were thoroughly drenched and mud-bespattered, and their pretty summer costumes were completely ruined. Their appearance as they entered the home of their lostess was ladicrous indeed. They tarried until morning before making the return trip. The Case Was Dismissed. Another chapter has been enacted in the history of the disagreement of a couple of our local magistrates, referred to in last issue. Several citizens who had an alleged grievance against one of the magistrates because of a recent conviction by him for illegal conduct, formed a syndicate to meet the expenses, and entered a case before G H. Kennedy, J. P., at Georgetown. The hearing was set down for Friday at the above town. Lawyers from Guelph were engaged, and a number of witnesses from Acton were taken down. The case was court to be firmsy and unsatisfactory, and ho defendant was honorably discharged. The experiment of "getting even" with the aforesaid magistrate was rather an exsensive one for it cost the syndicate something like $25, and they had not much satisfaction after all.

How Milton Regards Manufactories. The Milton Champion says -On Monday evening an informal meeting of the town council was held to listen to the representations of Swackhammer Bros., of Acton, who propose to establish a sole leather tannery here. Both the brothers the question of older in connection with the | thoroughly understand their business, and one of them is ex-foreman of the Bear more tannery at Acton. Their proposition was to buy the necessary land, erect buildings and commence with a force of twentyfive employees, the town to lend them $60,000. Everything was satisfactory except the amount of the loan; which the members of the council generally thought too large for a town of Milton's sise. There is no prospect that such a figancial arrangement will be entered into, but it is hoped that the Messra. Swackhammer may induce capitalists to buy stock in their scheme and that they may be able to propose greatly nodified terms to the council. Bols leather tunning is a paying business, and there is no reason why such a tannery should not succeed in Milton. The fact that its employees would be men, some of them heads of families, is Osgoode Hall, Mrs. Dr. Spanlding suing a strong argument in favor of municipal
