The inside | prosperous life. department, in some respects, did not equal other years, especially in the roots, but the cattle, horses, slicep and hoge were in advance of any former show. The exhibit of horses in all classes, especially in the carriage and roadster classes, was quite in advance of any former year. One interesting fact was noted in regard to the filly owned by Willie McDowell, of the 4th line, which took the first prize in the carriage class. This colt was the eighteenth of the old prize mare of Mr. Howson's which took so many prizes in the years gone by. She is now twenty-five years old. A number of the prize animals will also be shown at

Tuesday evening a public meeting was held in Gienwilliams. The Revs. J. H. MoArthur. Thos. Rogers and G. A. Mitchell gave the addresses. A similar meeting was also held in Norval on Tuesday evening. It is expected that Georgetown will give a good majority on Thursday. The past week has been one of great corrow to the west of us on the 5th and 6th concession. Early last week little Wray Bowman, youngest son of Mr. Wm. Bowman, sged five years, was struck on the head by an apple falling from a tree. Little was thought of it but trouble soon developed and on Thursday night he died of paralysis. The funeral took place in Georgetown on Saturday.

Immediately after this funeral in the same locality on the farm of Mr. Ross three young men were out shooting when the gun of one went off accidently and the ful sharge of shot entered the left leg of Jefferson Bescoby, Although our four doctors were soon on hand after the body had been brought home to his father's, a distance of about a mile, yet nothing could be done to help him and he died early Sabbath morning. The funeral took place m Tuesday afternoon and was one of the argest ever seen in that locality. Being a volunteer the band, officers and men of the company were all in attendance. Acton's Relation to The Liquor Traffic.

Acton has a population of 1500, and the total assessment on real and personal property and taxable income, after deducting exemptions, is $281,415. (See assessor's roll 1898.) There are 3 licensed hotels, and the town receives about $345.00 per year as its share of the total license fees

The Report of the Royal Commission states that $39,879,854 was paid by the people of Canada annually during the three years 1891, '92 and '93 for spirits, malt liquor and imported wines. This was an average of $8.25 for each inhabitant of the Dominion. The same report shows an average consumption of alcohol per head for Ontario to be 1-10 more than the average for the Dominion; it is therefore within the mark to assume that the people of Acton consumed their average share of the whole amount; and have spent x 500 times $8.25, which is $12,375.00, of which $345.00 is paid back to the town treasurer leaving an expenditure by our citizens of paid back to the town treasurer, leaving an expenditure by our citizens of but on the contrary, in many cases, they have impaired health or wrecked constitutions, to say nothing of the bad moral effects.

This amount is equal to the total wages of 29 men working 280 days a year at $1.50 per day. The families of such men would amount to about 145 people, hence our drink bill would pay the wages of a community about one-tenth the size of Acton, the assessment of which would be $28,145 if in proportion to the present assessment, the taxes on which at 17 mills (this year's rate) would be $470.46. It is, doubtless, fair to assume that this $12,375 is about the average annual expenditure for the past 30 years, for although the population may have increased, yet the rate of consumption has decreased. Now, had our citizens each year during that time deposited this amount at say 4 per cent. interest, instead of spending it in liquor, they would have over $600,000.00 to their credit, in addition to all they now have; or in other words, the amount spent in liquors during 30 years, together with interest, amounts to more than twice the whole assessment

Acton's drink bill for three years would, if saved, supply us with water-works, a complete sewage system, a first-class electric light system and pay for putting our streets and walks into first-class condition as well, without requiring a cent of municipal taxes for these purposes.

To the foregoing might be added considerable of the loss through idleness and lessened wages to many of those who drink, etc., but we think these facts enough to cause our fellow-citizens to realize the importance of doing all in their power to stop this worse than foolish expenditure of money.

Now take the country as a whole and let us look at the way the money
