BAMBOOZLING GRANDMA.

"There never was a grandma balf so good!" Ho whispered, while beside her chair he stood And laid his rosy cheek, With mennor very meek,

Against her dear old face in loving mood. There never was a nicer grandma born. I know some little boys must be forlorn Because they've none like you. I wonder what I'd do Without a grandma's kisses night and morn "There never was a dearer grandma-there!" Ho kissed her and he smoothed her snow white

Then fixed her ruffled cap And nestled in her lap, While grandma, smiling, rocked her old arm "When I'm a man what things to you I'll bring-A horse and carriage and a watch and ring.

All grandma's are so nice (Just here he kissed her twice). And grandma's give a good boy everything." Before his dear old grandma could reply This boy looked up and with a regulat eye Then whispered in her car,

That nobody might hear, 'Say, grandma, have you any more

LEGS LIKE STOVE PIPES Kidney Irregularities Developed Into Dropsy- -South American

Kidney Cure Cured Him.

South American Kidney Core is doing every day for hundreds what it did for this steamboat man out in Lincoln County. Through exposure while sailing he contracted kidney disease and in a short while dropsy developed, so that his lege swelled as large as stovepipes. Doctors held out no hope for his recovery. He was recommended to use this great kidney specific, with the result that a few weeks' treatment made him able to resume his work again, a cored man, feeling stronger and heartier than he had done for years. Dally. A modest appearing young woman ntered a drug store in Manison Avenue one morning recently and, walking to the end of the counter-nearest the prescription department, mutely held out both hands toward a clerk who chanced to be standing in that partioular place. This clerk, equally mate, reached behind a screen and brought out a blue glass bottle from which a brush handle protuded. After stirring the contents of the bottle with the brush for a few seconds the clerk daintily brushed the tips of the young woman's fingers with the mixture, leaving a dark stein all around the top of each finger nail. With a pleasant nod of her head, and low murmured thanks, the young woman withdrow from the store and the blue glass bottle was put back in its hiding place. Observing a puzzled expression on the face of an old patron of the store who had come in to got a cigar, the clerk said, "Iodine." "What for ?" asked the smoker.

"Prevent fingers from getting sore, replied the clerk. "She is from the musical conservatory, where she practices on the piano three or four hours a day. In order to prevent the finger pails from coming in contact with the ivory keys she has them out very short and we apply "Miss Lucy," said the young Mr. Pitt, | iodine to take the screness out of the ends have their finger nails out to the quick, so "Mr. Pitt," replied the young lady, who that no clicking sound is emitted when was kind of heart and wished to spare his they strike the keys. Hepburn writes Bolls. from Centralia, Ont.: "I can sincerely say that Burdock Blood Bitters is the best spring medicine on the market. Last spring my blood got out of order, and I had seven or eight good sized boils come out on my body, and the one on my leg was much larger than an egg. I got a bottle of Burdock Blood litter, and inside of six days, when only half the bottle was taken, there wasn't a boil to be seen. There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy, for all ills to which flesh is beir-the very nature of many curatives toing such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient -what would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, n Quinine Wire, when obtained in a sound unadulterated state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailestsystems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondence and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquilizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep, imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the healthy animal functions of the system. thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance-result, improved appetite.
