THE THREE WISHES. It was down at the orphan asylum one day That three little maids sat round the fire,

Each telling the thing she wished for most If she could only have her heart's desire. "I'd like a pony as white as snow,". Said Maud, "and I'd ride it each day of course And people would stop as I rode along,

And say, "Look at that child on the Said Alice, "I'd like toown a ship. And I'd sail clear round the world, I guess,

And bring back presents for all the girls And a beautiful crutch for dear little Bess!" Then little lame Bess, with her gentle voice, Said, looking around from one to the other. "I'll wish for the loyliest thing in the world-That every one of us might have a mother!"

A wee girl who was visiting ber grandpapa had to be reproved for disobey ing at the table, and finally was removed to a seat in another part of the room After sitting in ellence for some time she called out in humbled tones: "Now, grandapa, if you'll be good, I'll .come back." An agreement was soon entered upon, by which Jule was reinstated by

NERVES PARALYZED.

Nervous Prostration So Severe, Lost Power of Hands, Side and Limbs, But South American Nervine Beat Off Disease and Saved Her.

Minnie Stevens, daughter of T. A. Stevens, of the Stevent Manufacturing Co., of London, was stricken down with a very severe attack of nervous prostration, which resulted in her losing the power of her limbs. She could not life or hold any. thing in her hands, and other complications showed themselves. Her parents had lost hope of her recovery. She began taking South American Nervice, and after taking twelve bottles she was perfectly restored, and enjoys good health to-day. Bold by A. T. Brown.
