LITTLE LOCAL BRIEFLETS

Which Caught the Eyes or Ears of Free Press Reporters this week

—Municipal politics quiet yet.

—Expect winter weather now.

—Council meeting next Monday evening.

—Several new families have moved to town during the week.

—It was a year last Saturday since the election on the electric light by-law.

—It is reported that 8000 licensed sportsmen have gone north a-hunting the past ten days.

—Mr. J. H. Matthews offers his very comfortable and convenient residence on Bower Avenue for sale.

—Shelburne will vote on the question of the purchase of an electric light plant for that village, at the cost of $6.000, on the 24th inst.

—The Sentinel, of Lucknow, came to hand last week enlarged and improved. Bro. Ryan has been at the head for twenty-one years and has earned success.

—Mr. Joseph Roberts, who was blacksmith at Grindell's machineshop for a year, has purchased the blacksmithing business at the four corners, Eramosa Road.

—The exterior of the new Baptist Church is now completed except for the painting and tinsmithing work. The spire has considerably improved the appearance of the edifice.

—The young people of the Baptist Church will hold their first "Nature Study" meeting to morrow evening. The subject will be "Insect life." The public are cordially invited.

—A shunting engine in the G. T. R. yard run over Mr. Arch. McNabb's fine black Dane "Nigger," Monday afternoon, cutting off his hind legs. He was a great favorate with children.

—Rev. Father Haley, of Mocton. in renewing his subscription last week, said "I enjoy the interesting and spicy columns of the FREE PRESS very much in this northern country, and wish you every success."

—We received this week from Mr. J. P. Secord, of Orillia, $1.00 for the FREE PRESS for 1900. He says "I remit in good time for I would not like to miss even a single copy." Mr. Secord sends kindest regards to all old friends in Acton.

—The Executors of the estate of the late Archibald Campbell will offer for sale by public auction next Saturday, 11th inst., at noon, at Agnew's Hotel, the double roughcast dwelling on Main Street, next to Presbyterian Church. William Hemstreet, Auctioneer.

—The annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society in Knox Church this afternoon at three o'clock promises to be an occasion of much interest. In addition to the ladies of Knox Church a number from the other congregations in town will accept the kind invitation to be present.

—The placeing of the electric lights in the centre of the roadway on Bower Avenue has given much greater efficiency to the light there. The trees on the Avenue interfered considerably. Experience always teaches, and we have a Council anxious to learn and to introduce improvements for the general good.

—The Weekly Sun of Toronto is a "clean paper." Sensational reports of murder trials and all similar matter is religiously excluded from its columns. There is not a line in it that may not be read by any member of the family. At the same time no paper gives a more complete summary of events or so great a volume of interesting information.

—The Renfrew Mercury in referring to Milton's estimate of materials and labor in laying cement walks, hints that our county town fathers did not use sufficient cement for a good job, and that no provision was made for the drainage of the walks. Acton walks are tile drained and the cost of the work was 11c. per. square foot, against 10 3-5c., the cost of Milton's.

TWENTY PER CENT. BELOW.

J. H. Hamilton, of the old reliable marble and granite works, Guelph, announces that he will continue to place he best classes of granite and marble monuments, tombs, etc., at prices guaranteed to be twenty per cent. below others—no agent to receive commissions—expenses allowed o and from Guelph to purchasers.

No man can reach the heights of true greatness who lives in an atmosphere of petty and ignoble thoughts.

LEAVING ACTON.

Harness, fur robes, blankets, whips, etc., at first cost for the next twenty-one days. I have sold my business to Mr. Cameron, of Bolton, and have to reduce my stock to fit the present amount by the first of December, so anyone wanting a harness, robe, or anything in the stock will have a chance of buying it at cost until the first of December, 1899. The chance of a lifetime to buy harness at such figures as I will offer. J. H. MATTHEWS Acton.

We'll Share Profits With You.

The FREE PRESS has been pleased to welcome a number of new names on our subscription lists the past few weeks, but we desire to increase the number. We are very anxious to add at least 200 additional names before the dawn of 1900, and the proprietor is willing to make a co-operative effort. Any subscriber who will obtain a new name and forward $1.75 will be credited for his own and the new subscription for 1900, and the balance of 1899 will be sent free. Here is your chance toget Halton's popular family paper at a very low figure.

Acton's Example Emulated.

"All the western towns are discarding the wooden sidewalks and putting in pavement walks, producing an up-to-date business effect. The small town of Acton, with a population of about 1600, has already put down 700 feet of walk, six feet wide, at a cost of 12c. per square foot. Guelph and Galt have granolithic pavements on the principal streets. Milton is putting down some this year at 10 3/5 cents per square foot." — Newmarket Era. The cost at Acton should read 11c. per square foot. The FREE PRESS blundered in stating the cost to the Era.

Fleecing the Farmers.

There seems to be no end to the schemes of smallbore swindlers to pick up a living from the farming community. The latest plan reported is to call on a farmer, plead poverty and request a feed of oats for their horse, which is rarely refused. When the donation is safely stowed away on the waggon another farmer is called on and the same old story told. When the bags are filled the swindlers drive to the nearest town and sell out. After loading up with liquid refreshment they start to hunt for fresh victims. Let the farmers be on the lookout for these vagrants.

Wedded at Elora.

Mr. Henry Mellon, of Acton, formerly of Shiloh, was married at Elora to Miss Mary Jackson, of Salem, on Wednesday, Oct. 25th. The nuptual knot was tied by Rev. Father Cosgrove, of Elora. Miss Aggie Mellon acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Thos. Brennan supported the groom. After the marriage the guests returned to the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. Matthew Brown, where the young people tripped the light fantastic for several hours. Mr. and Mrs. Mellon will reside in Acton in the future. Their many friends will join in wishing them a long and happy married life.—Guelph Herald.

Acton's Light Very Satisfactory.

Councillor Barber, of Georgetown, visited Acton one evening a week or so ago, to investigate the qualities of our electric lighting system. At the last meeting of Georgetown Council when the subject of electric lighting was under discussion, he expressed himself as follows; "I recently paid a visit to Acton and made an examination of the system there. My first impression was not favorable, but upon more minute examination, I found it very satisfactory." He also said he considered that Georgetown was not getting value for the money paid for lighting, and he believed that an effort should at least be made to have the present lighting more satisfactory.

A Visitor's Impressions of Acton.

The editor of the Newmarket Era makes the following references to his visit here: "Though Acton is not a large town, it is wonderfully progressive. Since our last visit the Corporation has put in an efficient electric light service and we are more than ever convinced that incandescent lights give better satisfaction than are lights for the streets. There are something like 65 or 70 lights on the streets, 32 candle power, and on the main street they are suspended in the centre of the street 50 yards apart producing a very pretty effect. Acton has also put down 700 feet of granolithic walk, and so well pleased are the citizens that they intend to more than double the length next year. Acton is a stirring little place, employing about 500 people in the tanning and glove industries. The editor and wife had the pleasure of spending several days as guests of Mr. H. P. Moore and his estimable family, whose residence and grounds are an object lesson of artistic beauty, and must exert an elevating influence on the community."

A Worthy Citizen to Remove.

General regret is felt at the decision o Mr. John H. Matthews to remove from Acton. During the week he has sold his harness business to Mr. Arch. Cameron, from Bolton, and purchased a business in Shelburne. For nearly twelve years Mr. Matthews has been a worthy citizen of Acton. He has conducted an excellent business and has been popular with his customers. He left his father's business in Erin and settled in Acton in November, 1887. During his stay here prosperity has attended him, as evidenced in his large business and his very comfortable and attractive home on Bower Avenue. Because of his worth the honors of his fellow-citizens have been meted out to him. He has occupied a seat as the Municipal Council and also on the board of health. During the season just closed, at considerable inconvenience to himself he managed the Crescent lacrosse team, was their field-captian and marshalled them through the fierce contests engaged in to successive victories and the championship of the Province. Mrs. Matthews has also proven herself an esteemed and useful citizen. As a worker in Knox Church Ladies Aid and as an officer in the Home Circle society she will be much missed, Mr. Matthews and family leave for their new home the first of December. The best wishes of the community will follow them. His successor, Mr. Cameron, of Bolton, comes well recommended as a man of means and energetic business experience.

GREAT SERMONS LAST SUNDAY

By Rev. Dr. Henderson, of Toronto, on the occasion of the Mission-ary Anniversary.

Among the most able and eloquent sermons ever preached in the Methodist Church, Acton, were those of Rev. James Henderson, D. D., Associate General Missionary Secretary of the church, last Sunday. Dr. Henderson is admittedly one of the ablest preachers of the Methodist Church, and those who had the pleasure of hearing him last Sunday were greatly gratified, found a new interest in the great missionary movement, and were inspired to better, truer service as christian workers in the future.

The subject of the morning service was: "Is man worth saving?" and was based upon the text, Matt. XVI, 26—"What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

Dr. Henderson advanced four reasons why man is worth all the efforts put forth for his salvation. 1. Because there are elements of the divine in man. As Ptolemy, one of the early astronomers, recognized the earth to be the immovable centre of the universe, around which the sun, moon and stars performed their daily revolutions, so too, many modern theologians displaced Jesus Christ by recognizing man as the immovable centre around which everything revolves. Dr. Fairbourn, on the other hand, thought that two little was made of man. All truth is of God. The truths of astronomy, botany, chemistry, etc., are as much the truth of God as the Holy Scriptures. The truth of botany etc., cannot save a soul; but the truths of God's word are able to make men wise unto salvation. Man aspires after truth, and the preacher encouraged his audience to search for truth and to do so even at the risk of sometimes making blunders.

2. Man is worth saving because he must live forever. Some object to this teaching, saying, "While I feel the throbbing of physical life and power, I have no evidence of immortality." Why do they so object? Because they are living down in the basement or lower part of their natures. A singer is conscious of vocal power when he begins to sing; the painter knows he possesses artistic power when he begins to paint. So when the soul is fully consecrated to God and lives in complete submission to the Divine will, there will be satisfactory evidence of an immortal nature. Men do not make a 5,000 ton trip hammer for the purpose of cracking nuts; a Corliss engine was not designed to run a dumping cart. A dew drop is far less valuable than the morning star because it soon vanishes away, while the star will continue to flash its beams of light over land and sea. The soul is of infinite value for it will out-last the earth and out-shine the sun.

3. Man is worth saving because he can repeat the thoughts of God. There is no want of harmony between reason and revelation. Human reason is adapted to Divine revelation as the eye is to the light; as the telescope to the stars, which it reveals. Revelation is the telescope by which God brings spiritual and eternal realities within the scope of human reason.

4. Man is worth saving because he reflects God's feelings. Love ought to to be more emphasized than it is. We should cultivate and develop all the brighter and better feelings of our nature. Man's depravity is an evidence of the wonderful capabilities with which God has endowed him. He may obey or disobey—bless or curse God. Do not teach your child that she is a born sinner. Teach your boy that he is born a thief or a liar and he will begin to steal and lie.

In closing, the preacher by apt and touching illustrations, gleaned from personal experiences, appealed to his hearers to do their best to rescue souls from the darkness of heathenism by sending them the gospel light.

The subject of the evening discourse was "Go"—and dealt with objections to going and reasons for going. Dr. Henderson based his remarks on the word "Go," Mark XVI, 15. In a masterly discourse the Doctors met many of the objections urged against Christian missions.

1st objection: The heathen will be saved anyway. By sending the gospel to the Christless millions it is urged we only increase their responsibility. Such reasoning applied to the christian world would stop all progress, for education in all it branches would only tend to increase personal responsibility.

A vivid picture was sketched showing the suffering and misery endured by the human race. In the fore-ground he painted the horrible and revolting condition of the heathen world to-day.

2nd objection: Christianity, it is urged, is only one of the many religions of the world.

By contrasting the world as it was when Jesus Christ came, without orphanages, asylums, etc., etc., with its improved conditions, physically, morally, intellectually and spiritually, the Doctor proved that the Christian religion is the hope of the world.

3rd objection: At the present rate it will take 60,000 years to evangelize the world.

The Doctor believes the world will be evangelized before the middle of the 20th century. The Church has the means and the machinery for the accomplishment of the work.

4th objection: It is a mistake to think that the gospel is the only saving force in the world.

While the world owes much to Greek culture, yet it never has and never can save the soul. David was placed in contrast with Homer; Paul with Plato, and Jesus Christ with Socrates. If Christianity were overthrown, liberty would be dragged from its lofty citadel; society corrupted, and infanticide would be esteemed a virtue.

5th objection: Fanaticism—Sensationalism the result of Christian missions.

Methodism needs a tremendous earthquake of the right kind of sensationalism. Paul accomplished greater victories for God than Apollos, and Luther than Erasmus, because they were full of intense fervor. Only men with hearts on fire can win victories. To-day we talk of fiction as as if it were fact, and of fact as if it were fiction. There is no such thing as wasted enthusiasm. Gordon was slain and buried among the the ruins of Khartoum; but his soul goes marching on. The charge of the light brigade was not wasted energy; it lines in history and will be a source of inspiration to multitudes of men in the conflicts of life.

The offerings of the day were liberal, and, notwithstanding the $1,000 Twentieth Century Fund offering of a month ago, are about ten per cent. in advance of last year.

Death of Mrs. A. H. Brown's Father.

On Saturday, after a long and painful illness, death ended the sufferings of Mr. Richard Nicklin, Aberfoyle, at the old age of 88 years. Mr. Nicklin came to Canada from Staffordshire, Eng., with his parents in 1812. He was then a child about a year old, and learned to walk on the ship's deck as they were coming across the Atlantic. The family first settled on the Bay of Quinte, but subsequently near Elora, where the Nicklins, Swans, Matthews, Moores and Labys resided in the same neighborhood and afterward settled in a group at Acton. Mr. Richard Nicklin went to Aberfoyle and there, with prosperous surroundings, spent the remainder of his days an esteemed Christian man. Mr. Edward Nicklin and Mrs. Elizabeth Thurtell, who is at present visiting here, are the only surviving brother and sister of deceased, out of a family of fourteen.

Money Refunded!

Most stores oblige their customers more or less by taking back goods, but most of them haggle about it and make it unpleasant.

Some stores positively refuse to take anything back. They are as smooth as oil in selling but rough with dissatisfied buyers, especially with strangers. If a merchant big or little puts obstacles in the way of your proper freedom in this respect, his goods are not so good as they look in the store or he is to "close" to be safe.

The use of this thought is to keep you from parting with money where you can't get it back again if you want it. The system of selling every article at a small profit but of a thoroughly reliable quality, is a ruling principle of this firm. We give satisfaction because we get it. That's why we're able to guarantee our goods to be exactly as represented.

Copper Mining Stocks.

For several months shrewd investors have been putting their money into the shares of Copper Mines. This is true not only of men with large amounts of money at their disposal; but also applies to those who have made a study of investments with a view to securing a large return for small investments. As high as has to our knowledge already been realized on some of these investments. The Americans were the first to make a specialty of Copper Stocks. They knew what they were doing, for the reason is not far to seek. Every copper mine in the world is at present taxed to its utmost limit to meet the growing demand for copper for electrical purposes. The reserve stores of copper are being depleted until it pays no longer to use copper in some eastern countries as a coin. Copper has gone up in price from 9 to 18 cents.

The Supply of Copper from the Mines of the World

To-day is only About 80 per cent. of the Consumption.

That is the reason why finaciers have their engineers searching the four quarters of the globe for Copper Mines, and that is the reason the shares in promising copper companies are so easily picked up by investors. If you have any money to invest we would ask you to consider the shares of the SUPERIOR GOLD & COPPER COMPANY, LIMITED. This Company owns and operates some valuable native copper properties. We are in a position to offer you a special opportunity in this stock which as an investment should give you a profit of at least 100 per cent. in Six Months.

Send for prospectus and particulars Occasionally we have an opportunity of giving our clients a special offer on some stocks, and we have this opportunity now. If you are interested, write to us at once. These shares are sold in large or small blocks to suit all buyers.

We deal in all legitmate mining shares on commission. If you want to buy or sell write us.
