EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Henderson, M.P., in conversation with a Herold representative yesterday, agreed that political matters in Halton were, up to the present, very quiet. "If Halton doesn't hurry up," he said, "the election will be decided by the condition of the field, behind." However, he added, "short campaigns are always desirable."

The Board of Health of Woodstock has compelled bakers to give up using tickets, on the ground that by so many persons handing them the disease germs are spread. Hereafter the bakers must use cards, good for a dollar's worth of bread and as each loaf is delivered a hole is punched in the card, so that the tickets are even worse than bread tickets, as the ticket is often put into the pitcher, thus transferring disease germs to the milk.

The total number of passengers carried by the Grand Trunk Railway from the opening to the close of the exhibition was 61,051, an increase of nearly 7,000 over last year. The Canadian Pacific Railway also, while not having made up its full passenger estimate, that it carried about 26,000 passengers, or some 2,000 more than last year, with roads having replaced all the coaches, and displaced most of the Toronto cars, at the opening of the London Fair, which opened last Thursday.

Notwithstanding the heavy special taxes imposed for war purposes by the United States, it is estimated that, should the same rate of taxation continue, to the end of the present fiscal year, which has marked its progress so far, the treasury deficit will reach one hundred million dollars. The shortage is distributed thus: Army, eight million; navy, ten million; miscellaneous charges, arising from control of Cuba and the Philippines, ten millions. These figures represent an expenditure in excess of sums voted by Congress much greater than the like extraordinary expenditure by Britain in her warlike enterprises.

GEORGETOWN.

Last Friday, George, the four-year-old son of Mr. Constable George Guthrie, of the Royal Canadian Constabulary of Georgetown, met with an accident, which resulted in his death. His right hand, George, who is at 24 Balsam Avenue, is in close proximity to the G. C. I. tracks. He was not playing on the tracks, and, seeing an approaching shotgun, placed some pins on the rails. He was thus engaged when the engine came along and the wheels passed over his hand. He was taken to his home and afterwards removed to the Black Children's Hospital. His hand was terribly crushed.

A number of our local horsemen are quite tickled over their horses at Toronto fair.

The attendance at the High School is in advance of last year.

This has been a great week in the hop yards. Half the children in town are engaged in this healthful occupation.

The new concert walks are much admired by citizens and visitors.

A large number of our residents and former friends attended Toronto fair last week.

Mrs. Agnes Noble, widow of the late John Noble, died very suddenly last Friday at her home here. She had been in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, for some time during the last few weeks. Her remains were interred Saturday afternoon.

Elois and Eric have been ordered to play off for the junior lacrosse championship of the district, in the park here on Friday.

NEW LITERATURE.

For twenty-six years Canon Farren's "Life of Christ" has had a leading volume in all theological libraries, and for its excellence in inculcating the critical and devotional study of the life of our Saviour on earth, it has had a place in many Christian houses. That volume was based on long study not only of the four gospels and the Old and New Testaments, but of all the sources of knowledge open to the student, from the most ancient to the most modern. Canon Farren, author of "The Story of Chastity"—has just written a new volume entitled the "Life of Christ." This volume gives the result of further studies of the life of Christ, and is a most valuable and interesting work. The object of the new book, says the author, "is to deal with questions of high importance, which the gospels suggest, and it aims at dispelling the faith and brightening the hope of all who read it honestly." Biblical students will prize this new work highly. They will find it a volume containing the rich results of the scholarly research of this great and good man, with whom we are well pleased to satisfy ourselves on many points in the study of Christ's life and mission, which have been more or less obscured by the arguments of the "higher critics."

The new work is fresh from the presses of William Briggs, Worcester, has 460 pages, and is sold at $1.50 in well-bound cloth edition.

AN OLD ESTABLISHED FIRM'S IMPROVEMENTS.

Wm. H. Bond & Co. have made improvements and additions to their linoleum and oil cloth department, which will be appreciated by customers. The south west wall of the old room has been moved back ten feet giving room for 50 seats, and the floor has been raised, which is to lay out and cut the largest room. Upstairs the piano shop will be converted into an oil cloth and matting room, with large spaces and good light. The linoleum room will have plate glass front; and when completed will have three times previous space.

For internal or external use Haygarth's Yellow Oil cannot be excelled as a pain relief and soothng remedy for all pain.

FINAL MOVEMENTS TAKING PLACE.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—There is a marked revival of public interest in the war in South Africa owing partly to the vigor with which Lord Roberts is conducting the operations, but mainly to the political effects in connection with the approaching elections. Lord Roberts' new objective point is clearly Koonapkop, and Gen. French's cavalry division, with Gen. G. G. Caron's, is now being concentrated on the city of Galopo, where it is reported a thousand or more lives have been blotted out and a tremendous property damage has been incurred.

The waterworks are in ruins, and the citizens are still blown away or filled with salt water, so that the lack of water is one of the most serious of the present troubles, and has been increased by the arrival of the British forces from Bulawayo. General French has started for Carolina, so as to reach Barberon by the Ermala road, while General Hotton and Henry are whirling eastward over the hills and near the railway along which Gen. Vols Carow advanced. There was fighting all along the line on Sunday and the Boers were steadily driven back.

NOTE PROBABLY ATTACK.

Himself—Gen. Buller, leaving Gen. Hamilton behind him at Lydenburg, had been attacking Gen. Botha's force on the summit of a mountain, where a turning movement was impracticable. The road from Lydenburg makes a loop toward Krugersdorp, and then easterly to Pithouse.

There is hardly a habitable house in the city and nearly every business house is damaged. The school buildings were ruined and badly wrecked. Pine churches are used for posts, and electric light plant and the cotton factory were burnt down. The railway bridge collapsed near the cotton mill, and the bridge was repaired by the Boers, who had reached 3,000 in Colleton. The Mississau and Tafel relief force under Gen. G. G. Caron had been sent to the rescue, and the cotton crop, at from fifteen to twenty million dollars.

The storm began at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. Previous to that a gale had been raging in the Gulf, and the tide had been running high. At 12 m. a current from the north, and was in direct opposition to the force from the Gulf. While the storm in the Gulf piled the water on the beach side of the city the north wind piled the water from the bay on the bay part of the city.

About noon it became evident that the city was going to be visited by disaster. Hundreds of residences along the beach front were hurriedly abandoned, the families fleeing to higher ground in hopes of safety. Every house was opened to the refugees, black or white. The wind was so fierce that the rains, like fire, were scattered. The houses were blown to the ground, and the trees were uprooted to their roots.

At 3 o'clock the waters of the bay and sea met, and by dark the entire city was submerged. The flooding of the electric light plant and the gas plant caused the destruction of the railway, and the railway from Kroonstad to Pretoria and thence to Belfast is held by a line of entrenched positions. Lord Roberts has adapted his tactics to the requirements of guerrilla warfare, and at the same time has scattered Gen. Botha's command, and is pursuing him with dispatch to Kroonstad, where the open door into neutral territory may be closed.

Meantime Kruger and Steyn are now at Pilgrim's Rest.

TO CLEAR THE MAILWAY.

It is evident that while Gen. Buller is hammering away at Gen. Botha's strongholds around Lydenburg Gen. French is expected to drive the remaining Boer forces out of Barberon and clear the way to the Portuguese frontier. Other districts have been impaled by the British forces.

That these final movements in the Eastern Transvaal may be conducted without loss of life is a matter of hope.

LIMETHOUSE.

A very pretty wedding took place on the afternoon of Sept. 6th at 3 p.m., when Miss Jeanne McDonald, 21, Miss, was united in happy wedlock to Mr. Duncan Currie, of Georgetown, Miss. Nellie McDonald, sister of the bride, was bridegroom, while Mr. Currie, brother of the groom, acted as best man. There was a large gathering of friends and relatives and the bride received many very costly and useful presents. After the wedding feast was taken off, the guests indulged in dancing until the small hours, when they all repaired to their respective homes leaving their bedchamber to the young couple.
