

All except bad ones!

There are hundreds of cough medicines which relieve coughs, all coughs, except bad ones! The medicine which has been curing the worst of bad coughs for 60 years is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Here is evidence:

"My wife was troubled with a deep-seated cough for four years. One day I thought of how Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved the life of my sister after the doctors had all given her up to die. I sent for the medicine and it cured my wife completely. It took only one bottle to cure my sister. So you see that three bottles (one dollar each) saved two lives. We all send you our heartfelt thanks for what you have done for us." — J. H. BURG, Mazon, Ill., Jan. 13, 1899.

Now, for the first time, you can get a trial bottle of Cherry Pectoral for 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

The Action Free Press.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11th, 1900.

The Young Folks.

SOME OTHER DAY.

There are wonderful things we are going to do.

And here are some we hope to drift into.

With folded hands, the hands that trill,

We watch and wait for a favoring gale

To fill the folds of an idle sail.

Home other day.

We know not what we will do.

Home other day.

But we hope to curl ourselves to begin

Home other day.

And so we drift with the tide.

Until at last we will have.

The strength of the hope we leaned upon

Home other day.

And when we are old and our race is run

Home other day.

We fret for the things that might have been.

Home other day.

We trace the path that leads us where

The beckoning hand of the daybreak

Leads us onward to the here.

Home other day.

—Sorrelles Journal.

Marriage is a lottery in which men's stakes and their liberty and women their happiness.

Why go limping and whining about your corns, when a 25 cent bottle of Halloran's Corn Cure will remove them? Give it a trial and you will regret it.

About the age a woman quits saying "When I marry" a man begins to say "If I marry."

Dr. Petty's never fails to give relief and they cure it gives an honest trial.

If all the wrinkles were elephants some women wouldn't make any more faces about that.

There are so many cough medicines in the market that it is sometimes difficult to tell which to buy; but if we had a cough, a cold or any affliction of the throat, or lungs, we would take Black's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. Those who have used it think it is far ahead of all preparations recommended for such complaints. The little folks like it as it is pleasant to syrup.

No woman is ever happy or has any wrinkles till she has fallen in love.

We are spending thousands to make Dr. Petty's known. Our money proves our faith. A trial will assure yours.

Convention is the soul's harbored-fife feast to keep the party off.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera, all forms of constipation, and tickiness, etc. It promptly gives relief and cures all diseases of the bowel. It fails to affect a positive cure. Mother should never be without a bottle when their children are ailing.

Be sure you are right, then let the girl go ahead.

For a clear complexion, take Dr. Petty's Pill. They never fail to clear the skin.

Thousands of ladies swear by them.

One of the largest of the biggest rail road corporations of this country employed a confidential passenger with the idea of presenting gifts, as far as possible, for personal damages. It has proved a profitable innovation and is being taken up by other railroads.

FAT AND LEAN

That is, babies; fat; they are happy and safe; lean; they are neither happy nor safe.

Apart from being entirely healthy or not quite well, a fat one has much reserve of vital strength to resist any sudden attack, while the lean one has little or no reserve.

The way to be fat and well is Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. A little; only a little. Not any, yet healthy and plump already; let well enough alone.

Will send you a little to try if you like.

BUTTER'S BROWN'S Chemist, Toledo.

THE WOMAN WHO HARNESSED THE HORSE.

I had decided not to distract the horse of straps that Arthur called harness, and when Alice insisted on sending me to the stable to adjust the harness, I said, "I was rather surprised, but I am out of the question to walk so far, and I went unwillingly to the stable to prepare for the trip."

Alice followed me in about an hour, and began to criticize, in a way that did not improve my temper, for I was taking a great deal of trouble to oblige her.

She declared that there should be two straps on the mare's waist, but in spite of her protest, I put the strap over the back, where it would be of some use in helping to hold up the handles of the wagon, and drove away, quite pleased at my success.

My good humor did not last long because of the vulgar jocularity of the people I met. In going down a steep hill my attention was concentrated on the handles, which suddenly projected themselves above the mare's ears, when a man who was passing shouted, "Look at your horse!"

I had no chance to reply for the vehicle was winding down the hill at a rate that left him far in the rear before could have inquired what he meant. My belt was a plain black silk one, with a heavy steel buckle, and not likely to attract attention, even in the country, so I concluded that the expression was a catch phrase epitomizing the rural conception of the wit, and not called forth by that article of clothing.

This was confirmed when I met a small boy who saluted me with the same idiotic remark, jocosely replied by asking him where he got his belt, but if his mother was out.

My urbanity almost failed, however, when a man in a top buggy, dressed like a minister, drew up his horses and began solemnly, "My friend, your ballyhoo—"

"Yes, I know," I snapped. "Look at your own."

"Your ballyhoo is—" he insisted, dogmatically.

"Where do you get that hat?" I shouted with added passion, driving rapidly away.

—Scriven's.

DO YOU KNOW

That Weakened Nerves Produce Disease and Suffering?

Paine's Celery Compound, the Only True Nerve Medicine and Nerve Food.

It Builds Up and Keeps in Perfect Condition the Great Nerveous System.

When the marvelous complexity, delicacy and妙 of the nervous nerve system is fully realized, we are not surprised at the sweeping assertion of Dr. Lansing, Professor of Clinical Medicine in Uihman Medical College, Chicago, that "all diseases are due to lesions of the nervous system," or, in other words, disease results from a weakened or disturbed nervous system.

It was the life-work of that great physician Dr. Phelps to give suffering men and women a medicine that would act directly on the nervous system. He made Paine's Celery Compound before one of the ablest physicians that ever assembled in Dartmouth Medical College.

It met with their approval, and thus at once prescribed it in their practices, and found it a life-saver when other means failed.

To-day, tens of thousands sound the praises of Paine's Celery Compound. In every town and village of this country, people are found who owe their life and good health to Paine's Celery Compound, nature's nerve medicine and nerve food.

If you are sleepless, irritable, disposed to mucus, or have fevers, chills, coldness of hands and feet, deficient tone in the stomach and intestines, bear in mind your nervous system needs attention and repairing. No other medicine but Paine's Celery Compound can do the good work for you, and make you what you should be, vigorous, strong and happy.

Days are dangerous. The little aches and pains of to-day may tomorrow develop into agonies and misery. One bottle of the wonderful compound will work a mighty change.

If a man looks sad and preoccupied for about six months after his wife dies all the women will say "fairly worshipped the ground she walked on."

Mrs. F. W. Morris, Kinsmen, Ky., writes, "I suffered for five years with palpitation, shortness of breath, asthenia and pain in the hands, but Dr. Paine's Celery Compound relieved all my distressing symptoms. I have not suffered since taking them, and now sleep well and feel strong again."

James H. Morris, New York, says all diseases arising from weak heart, worn out nerve tissues, or watery blood.

Nothing is superior to the human mind when it meets those who made it.—St. Barnabas.

Attention to the world of homoeopathic medicine has been in very source of progress, as in poli-ice and religion—the difficulties of opinions and the individuality of patients, however, are the chief difficulties in the market. They are so small a child can take them with ease yet one's knowledge of which the standard of the homoeopathic doctor has elevated." With most of our famous preparations—formulated by the great masters of the past—there is something wrong. To the young it always seems trouble. To the young it is a warning to any one unless they are too fat. Dr. Paine's Celery Compound produces a man who is a woman loves a man for what she thinks she can make him if he will let her.

Jambous Rivalry cannot last long. The demand for Dr. Agnew's Little Pills is a marvel. Cheap to buy, but diamonds—gold—handiwork, coated tongue, water labels, pain after eating, sick headache, never grippe, operate, pleasantly, ro-cents.—37

Not being tutored in suffering, I learn to pity those in affliction.—Virgil.

Child and Kidney Difficulties.—Mr. J. W. Phillips, of Lufwerville, N. Y., writes: "I have had great relief from Dr. Paine's Celery Compound, especially in the cure of the various diseases of the liver, kidneys, heart, lungs, etc. It has relieved me greatly, while all other remedies have failed. They are the best medicine I have ever used." In fact so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that disease of almost every name and nature are driven from the body.

Love is an ache in a new place.

An all-round remedy, one that always should be in the house for every emergency. Dr. Petty's Pills discount anything in the market. They are so small a child can take them with ease yet one's knowledge of which the standard of the homoeopathic doctor has elevated." With most of our famous preparations—formulated by the great masters of the past—there is something wrong. To the young it always seems trouble. To the young it is a warning to any one unless they are too fat. Dr. Paine's Celery Compound produces a man who is a woman loves a man for what she thinks she can make him if he will let her.

A "boobing-ask" is a funny thing. A woman puts on after the has got her hair combed in the morning she expects some woman to come to see her.

—Scriven's.

PEOPLE RECOVERING

From Pneumonia, Typhoid or Scarlet Fever, Diphtheria, La-Gripe or any Serious Sickness.

One Foot in the Grave.

Every physician knows that women have not yet confidence by the way they always have their pictures taken in each other's clothes.

Where others fall, there Dr. Petty's Pills prove their power to cure.

Every time a man gets married there is some woman who makes up her mind that she would have referred him, anyhow, if he had been fool enough to talk her.

Hick's Headache, however annoying and distressing, is positively cured by Laxa-Liver Pills. They are easy to take and never grippe.

The aging of timber, which formerly required long storage, is now completed by electricity in a few hours.

—Scriven's.

CHILDREN CRY FOR CASTORIA.

Get married is a lot like laying out a corpse; you have to have a special talent for it.

Does your head ache? Take a Petty. Does your back ache? Take a Petty. Does your side ache? Take a Petty. And do not take any other.

Neither cheese, cabbage, fish nor baked beans should ever be put into the refrigerator. They spoil the taste.

These nerves, restored back circulation of the heart, and a general improved condition.

I have to command them to sit on, suffering from the site effects of grippe, or any other severe illness.

MR. ROCKEFELLER'S FIVE MAXIMS.

John D. Rockefeller, the "Oil King," whose wealth, joining the $125,000,000 mark, was his first start in a business way, has built up the twenty-four, for twenty-five cents a day. He has earned his position as a multi-millionaire by adhering to the principles of the following five maxims:

1. It should be every man's duty to get all the money he can, keep all he can, and give away all he can.

2. Pay only what can be paid for, and upon debt as the first payment.

3. Live within your means, and don't think too much of your neighbor's good fortune.

4. Keep a record of all expenditures and receipts, so that at the end of a year you can tell whether you are saving enough money to provide against the inevitable rainy day. Any one can make money; few can save it.

5. Live as though every act of yours was under the scrutiny of your bitter enemy.—Saturday Evening Post.

This is What They Say.

Those who take Dr. Wood's Parastiflaxine, the new wonder drug, for the cure of rheumatism or dyspepsia, say it acts promptly and permanently, even after all other preparations fail. You may take this medicine with the utmost confidence that it will do you good. Why? It has done for others what it will do for you.

Constipation is cured by Hood's Petty.

The quality of the life of everyone is the same as the quality of the life.—Hawthorne.

Petty's Pills are small—more miles—but one is a dose, and every dose counts. There are no blanks.

Most men are like eggs, too full of them, to add anything else.—Joh. Billings.

Castoria's Yellow Oil is prompt to relieve and cure to cure colds, chills, hoarseness, throat, pain in the chest, hoarseness, quinsy, etc. Price 25 cents.

Women may have cures named after them, but most of the new diseases are named after men.

STRONG AND VIGOROUS.

Every Organ of the Body Toned up and Invigorated by

Paine's Celery Compound, the Only True Nerve Medicine and Nerve Food.

It Builds Up and Keeps in Perfect Condition the Great Nerveous System.

When the marvelous complexity, delicacy and妙 of the nervous nerve system is fully realized, we are not surprised at the sweeping assertion of Dr. Lansing, Professor of Clinical Medicine in Uihman Medical College, Chicago, that "all diseases are due to lesions of the nervous system," or, in other words, disease results from a weakened or disturbed nervous system.

It was the life-work of that great physician Dr. Phelps to give suffering men and women a medicine that would act directly on the nervous system. He made Paine's Celery Compound before one of the ablest physicians that ever assembled in Dartmouth Medical College.

It met with their approval, and thus at once prescribed it in their practices, and found it a life-saver when other means failed.

To-day, tens of thousands sound the praises of Paine's Celery Compound. In every town and village of this country, people are found who owe their life and good health to Paine's Celery Compound, nature's nerve medicine and nerve food.

If you are sleepless, irritable, disposed to mucus, or have fevers, chills, coldness of hands and feet, deficient tone in the stomach and intestines, bear in mind your nervous system needs attention and repairing. No other medicine but Paine's Celery Compound can do the good work for you, and make you what you should be, vigorous, strong and happy.</