EDITORIAL NOTES.

In the British House of Commons there are 116 lawyers and only fifteen farmers.

The result in the North Bruce election gives the seat to Mr. McNall, a majority of one.

The drop in the price of live hogs of about $1 a few weeks ago, so checked their delivery in the country that buyers have been obliged to advance the prices paid and there has been quite a rise this week. The receipts are larger in consequence.

Thirty-six municipalities in Ontario have already decided in favor of absorbing state labor, and a number of other municipalities vote upon the question at the coming elections. Nelson and Nassau counties have taken the initiative in this coup.

A new section of the Criminal Law that will come into force on January 1st will be of painful interest to constables, and others engaged in the enforcement of the law. It renders any one who, through legal neglect or any carelessness, allows a prisoner or a fugitive to escape, liable to one year's imprisonment.

The County Council met for its first session on Tuesday. With this session the present council expired, it having served two years. There is likely to be several changes in the next County Council. Several of the present members intend to drop out, to give others a chance to serve their municipality.

Lord Roberts should visit Canada, as he has done before, for he gives a great reception. He is probably himself most appreciative in his references to the soldiers whom Canada sent to South Africa, and the people of this country will be only too delighted to be able to prove him personally, that they are ready to accord well-deserved appreciation of true merit as he himself.

A meeting of representatives of all the municipalities affected by the radial rail line was held yesterday by Mr. G. H. Moore, of Toronto, to be held shortly in that city. The aldermen's scheme covers a wide area. Acton is one of his objective points. According to his own statement, the municipalities through which the roads are projected have thrown cold water on his attempts to interest them in his scheme.

The Canadian Produce Co., of Toronto, last week received an order from Great Britain for ten tons of Canadian chickens. This order was obtained upon a sample of a few hundred pounds sent six weeks ago. This is the largest order for Canadian chickens ever received and is a good start for the Canadian industry. Mr. Gillott's article in today's page records the sending of chickens for shipment, will, in view of the above, be of special interest to poultry raisers.

Mr. G. C. Goodman, Superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, says that the chief subjects for the Farmers' Institute meetings are bacon, cold storage and poultry fattening. Cold storage appliances for the farm will receive considerable attention and plans presented for the construction of a suitable cold storage system for each farmer. All the speakers will assemble at Guelph on Friday in December, during the meeting of the Experimental Union and the Provincial Winter Fair, where experts will address them and practically demonstrate the questions.

The representatives of farm properties within the limits of village and town, at the Ontario Assessment Commission meeting in Toronto, last week, contended that such properties really derived no benefit from being within a village or town, that on the contrary, it was positively injurious, as the presence, for instance, of dogs prevented the keeping of sheep, and the presence of chickens prevented the raising of certain kinds of crops. They asked that all farm property situated in towns or villages should be assessed on the same basis as the neighboring township, and should pay the township rate of taxation.

The Newfoundland election returns, now complete, show that Liberals have been placed in all but four seats, the returning standing Liberals 44, Conservatives 4. The death of Mr. G. H. Reid getting control of the Legislature with his proposed corporation is said to have caused the great stampede. The Islanders also held the idea, by impounding Mr. Reid, that they might get rid of some of the objectionable features of the original G. Reid contract, which as completely cover the Island franchises.

The preparations for bringing the Mountaineers and their supporters into the full court are now being made by all the parties concerned. The Dominion Government will be represented by Mr. M. H. M. A. Alkins, the framer of the act; the Hudson Bay Company by Mr. W. E. Pardee; the Licensed Victuallers' Association by Mr. P. H. Phillips, and the Dominion Alliance by Messrs. W. H. Mulock and E. L. Taylor. In order to facilitate the proceedings the Government has prepared a series of questions, which the court will be called upon to answer.

The London Daily Mail announces that it has been definitely decided that the Duke and Duchess of York shall visit Canada. This is the first of the "right" it is stated, but probably they will not be here on their way to Australia, or on their way home, as the Duke of York is to open the first Parliament of the Australian Commonwealth. The Montreal Star suggests that it would be much to the advantage of Canada if the visit could be so timed that the Royal party could reach this country in the summer, but whether they come in summer or in winter, the Prince and Princess will receive a warm welcome from the whole Canadian people.

OUR SOLDIER HERO.

IN MEMORY OF W. J. MOORE.

IN MEMORIAM.

BOWARDEN W. J. MOORE—DIED AT PRESTON, ONT.—NOVEMBER 10, 1900.

Plague dying as half mast our Nov. 17th, together with a dispatch from Galt Town, via Ottawa, came to us, and the sad news to the citizens of Acton:

"The wind is still, the sky is bright,
Above our village lies,
Because a message full of woe
Has touched the hearts of all.

We mourn for a soldier son,
Who died in battle, and
That is why the grand old flag
Is flying low-day."

He sleeps where late the strife had been,
Where fall the leaden showers;
He died for "Mother Queen,"
That gallant old Dame.

Though far and fast that holds his grave,
We can call it home;

For there the flag of Britain waves
The same as in our own.

And though no courage may be might
To defend the spot where here,
The old soldier stands and expireth sigh,
There is the silent shore.

And sometimes, when the breath of spring
With fragrance fills the air;

What soft flowers from the field surprise
And all is fresh and fair,

Mayhap some tender hand shall pluck
For him the brightest bloom;

For nature's sweetest gift is used
To grace a hero's bier.
