STUNTED

HAIR

Does your hair split at the end? Can you pull out a handful by running your fingers through it? Does it seem dry and lifeless?

Give your hair a chance. Feed it. The roots are not dead; they are weak because they are starved—that's all.

The best hair food is—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

If you don't want your hair to die use Ayer's Hair Vigor once a day. It makes the hair grow, stops falling, and cures dandruff.

It always restores color to gray or faded hair; it never fails.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"One bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped my hair from falling out, and started it to grow again nicely."—JULIUS WITTY.

March 28, 1900. Canova, S. Dak.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor completely cured me from dandruff, with which I was greatly afflicted. The growth of my hair since its use has been something wonderful."—LENA G. GREENE.

April 13, 1900. New York, N.Y.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Hair Vigor, write the Doctor about it.

A BOY'S QUESTION.

I want to ask a question;
Now, 'splain me this who can;
What makes whenever I get hurt,
I'm "mother's great big man,
Too large, of course, and brave to cry,"
But when I ask for cheese,
Or maybe pickles with my lunch,
Why, then—now listen, please—
Oh no, I am "too little, dear,
Must eat nice milk and bread;"
I think and worry over this
Until it hurts my head;
And I'd be very much obliged,
If someone would tell me,
Just 'zactly what's the proper size
A fellow ought to be.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

We desire to inform the public that Castoria is made and put up in the Laboratory of the Centaur Company, New York, in but one size bottle and on the outside wrapper the formula is printed and the Fac-simile Signature of Chas H. Fletcher appears on the face. No other preparation offered as Castoria is genuine. To counterfeit or imitate either in the name or signature is a criminal offence.

Castoria has become a valuable standard family medicine with the endorsement of some of the best physicians in the world. Don't allow anyone to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good," and will answer every purpose, etc. Castoria is sold by all reputable druggists and dealers in medicine.

Do not be deceived when you buy it, but look well at the wrapper and see if it has the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. No other can be genuine. Castoria without the signature is a Base Fraud.

MISSED BY WAITING.

Waiting to be of service is the sure way of missing the service altogether. There is no waiting one's chance in the life of true service. Opportunities throng the path of every-day routine. Every one is susceptible of greater joy. Every one has a burden, often to be lightened by an understanding look, a tactful word, a sense of companionship. But we wait, and offer none of these, because we are not quick to see, and we want to do something notable and striking when we do serve. Meanwhile a whole brood of opportunities are born, and die. Let us be—not wait to be—of service.

A STICKLER FOR SOCIAL USAGE.

Weary Willie—Thankee kindly for de frock coat, mum, but I'll have to decline de straw hat.

The parson's wife—Why, what's wrong with the hat?

Weary Willie—It ain't that mum. But any gent as valued his reppytation for a polite understandin' of dee tiket of wat to wear an' when to wear it wouldn't never allow hisself to be seen in any such a combination.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A WELL POSTED WITNESS.

Judge—Now, my boy, you are on your oath. Do you under stand what that means?

Witness—Why-er-I don't jest-er-reckon.

Judge—Do you know what you're expected to tell?

Witness—Oh, yes; the lawyer that brought me here wrote it all down so's I could study it.

It is a mistake to suppose that a sorrowful aspect will be accepted as piety.

BODY-RESTORER

Food is the body-restorer. In health, you want nothing but food; and your baby wants nothing but food. But, when not quite well, you want to get back to where food is enough.

One of the most delicate foods, in the world, is Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. When usual food is a burden, it feeds you enough to restore your stomach; baby the same.

The body-builder is food; the body-restorer is Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto.

OBSERVATION.

"Gentlemen, you do not use your faculties of observation," said an old professor, addressing his class. Here he pushed forward a gellipot containing a chemical of exceedingly offensive smell. "When I was a student," he continued, "I used my sense of taste," and with that he dipped his finger in the gellipot and then put his finger in his mouth.

"Taste it gentlemen, taste it," said the professor, "and exercise your perceptive faculties."

The gellipot was pushed toward the reluctant class one by one. The students resolutely dipped their fingers into the concoction, and with many a wry face sucked the abomination from their fingers.

"Gentlemen, gentlemen," said the professor, "I must repeat that you do not use your faculties of observation, for had you looked more closely at what I was doing, you would have seen that the finger which I put in my mouth was not the finger I dipped in the gellipot."

NO DANGER.

Two brothers, grown men now, are fond of sitting down and comparing past experiences. One particularly happy recollection is this:

There was an old coffee mill in the attic which, as boys, they greatly desired to possess. One of them, Tom by name, soughthis mother and begged her to give it them.

"I don't believe I can, Tom," said she, regretfully. "I should like to, but I am afraid I can't."

"But why, mother?" urged Tom. "You don't use it."

"No, we don't use it."

"Well, dear" said the mother, gently, "I'm afraid you and Ben will get to quarrelling over it."

"Oh, no we sha'n't!" cried Tom, eagerly. "You needn't be a bit afraid of that, mother. I won't let Ben touch it!"—Youth's Companion.

HOGAN HAD NERVE.

"I hear Hogan is sick," said the barber.

"Yes, but he's better now," said the bailiff. "He want to a doctor, who looked him over, and then wrote out a prescription."

"How much will that cost, doc?" asked Hogan.

"About a dollar and a half," says the doctor.

"Have you got that much to lend me, doc?" says Hogan.

The doctor took the prescription back and crossed off all the items except "aqua pura."

"You can get that for 10 cents, he said, handing it back to Hogan, "and here's a dime."

"Don't I have to take those things you scratched off?" asked Hogan.

"No," says the doctor. "Those are nerve tonics. You don't need them."

BEFORE AND AFTER.

A little girl had a great desire to join the church; consequently she went to the minister, asking to be received into the church. He inquired if she had experienced a change of heart, and she answered affirmatively. The minister inquired further, "Were you a sinner before?" "Yes." "Are you a sinner now?" Again she answered, "Yes." "Where, then, is the difference between your former and your present condition." After some moments' meditation she said: "Before I was converted to Christ I was a sinner that runs after sin; now I am a sinner that runs away from sin."—Mission Friend.

HE HAD AN EAR M...

After hearing evidence in an assault case between man and wife, in which the wife had had a deal of provocation, the magistrate, turning to the husband, remarked:

"My good man, I really cannot do anything in the case."

"But she has cut a piece of my ear off, sir."

"Well," said the magistrate, "I will mind her over to keep the peace."

"You can't," shouted the husband, "she's thrown it away!"

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

OVER-POLITE.

Mark Twain tells of an incident which happened in one of his most comical addresses to quite a large audience in a country town, where he had exerted himself to the utmost, but had utterly failed to start an audible smile. He had finally closed with the impression that he must have been a failure. As the audience was leaving one of the gentleman came up to him and said:

"Mr. Twain, we enjoyed your address very much; it was extremely interesting, but do you know there were two or three times during the evening I had just all I could do to keep from bursting out laughing, some of your remarks were so funny."

There is no form of kidney trouble, from backache down to bright's disease, that Doan's Kidney Pills will not relieve or cure. If you are troubled with any kind of kidney complaint, use Doan's Pills.

A matchless story is a novel that ends without a wedding.

Recuperative Effect.

Considered with reference to its recuperative effect, there is not so much good in the ordinary vacation as there is in a single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. The latter costs $1; the former—well, that depends; how much did yours cost last year?

Hood's Sarsaparilla refreshes the tired blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage.

Superstition would soon die out if it had fem nurses to minister to its wants.

As Parmalee's Vegetable Pills contain mandrake and dandelion, they cure liver and kidney complaints with unerring certainty. They also contain roots and herbs which have specific virtues truly wonderful in their action on the stomach and Bowels. Mr. E. A. Gelmereque, Bhrakespear: "I consider Parmalee's Pills an excellent remedy for biliousness and derangement of the liver, having used them myself for some time.

It's difficult to convince the taxpayer why foot the bills of congress that talk is cheap.

If your children are troubled with worms give them Mother Graves Worm Exterminator; safe, sure, and effectual. Try it and mark the improvement in your child.

But for adversity—lots of men would never find out whether they were honest or not.

One Laxa-Liver Pill every night for thirty days makes a complete cure of biliousness and constipation. That is just 25 cents to be cured.

When a man offers you something for nothing it will pay you to walk around it by the furthest possible route.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmalee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles, as they set the soiddily, open secretions, healthy nutriment, food part, and the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia.

It is hard to put confidence in the high-mindedness of any man who gathers about himself a circle of low companions.

He Has Tried It.—Mr. John Anderson, Kinlosa, writes: "I venture to say few, if any, have received greater benefit from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, than I have. I have used it regularly for over ten years, and have recommended it to all sufferers I know of, and they also found it of great virtue in cases of severe bronchitis and incipient consumption."

Perfect patience is a jewel which is won only by years of prayer and toil.

NINE BOILS.

FOUR RUNNING SORES.

The T. Milburn Co., Limited,
Toronto, Ont.

Some time ago my blood got out of order and nine large boils appeared on my neck, besides numerous small ones on my shoulders and arms. Four running sores appeared on my foot and leg and I was in a terrible state. A friend advised Burdock Blood Bitters, so I procured three bottles. After finishing the first bottle the boils started to disappear and the sores to heal up. After taking the third bottle there was not a boil or sore to be seen. Besides this, the headaches from which I suffered left me and I improved so much that I am now strong and robust again.

Worst begets in base minds envy; in great souls emulation.—Fielding.

Attention in the world of homœopathic medicine has been its very source of progress, as in politics and religion—the difficulties of opinions and the individuality of men have been parent to the disagreement by which the standard of these bodies have been elevated. So with most of our famous preparations—foremost in illustration of which truth stands the world-famous remedy to general debility and anguor, "Quinine Wine,"—and which when obtainable in its genuine strength, is a miraculous creator of appetite, vitality and stimulant, to the general fertility of the system. Quinine Wine, and its improvement, has, from the first discovery of the great virtues of Quinine as a medical agent, been one of the most thoroughly discussed remedies ever offered to the public. It is one of the great tonics and and natural life-living stimulants which the medical profession have been compell to recognize and prescribe. Messrs. Northrop and Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the preparation of their pure Quinine Wine the great care due to its importance, and the standard excellence of the article which they offer to the public comes into the market purged of all the defects which skilled observation and scientific opinion are pointed out in the less perfect preparations of the latter.

POETRY IN THE FULL DINNER PAIL.

"There is no poetry in the full dinner pail, nor in the sorry one." This has recently been said. It is true and it isn't true. Two men watched a herd of swine heading toward a Western city. One said: "How that drove of hogs!" The other said: "No, through the future picture galleries of the city." Time has shown that the hopeful man was right. That city now basks not of its swine, but of its libraries, its science, and its contributions to the art of living well. The full dinner pail means something more than commercialism and a sordid view of life. It means comfort at home, some leisure, a chance to educate the children, and a conviction that the road to open from the home of the operative and the artisan toward the best that life affords. Many who are interested in social progress fail to understand what it is that an intelligent workingman wants most of all. He is not a fool, and his wants are not unreasonable. He asks for that which he fairly earns and honestly pays for—a fair chance for his children. As he sees the future through their fortunes, he becomes a poet. He dreams dreams that are fair and honorable. He sees an open door through which he may not pass, because for him opportunity comes too late, but which is nevertheless the Gate Beautiful, because through it he sees the fair inheritance of his children's children, in a land in which the millions are contented because they have comfort, and are free to rise to better things.

A MACLEAN AND A CAMPBELL.

When Sir Archibald Campbell was Governor of New Brunswick he objected to meet with an aged Highlander of the name of Maclean, who had done brave selfless service for his country, and had borne himself well in many a fierce encounter. After his discharge he had settled in the woods; but things had not gone smoothly with him, and his circumstances were quite straitened. Anxious to befriend him His Excellency invited him to make his home at Government House, where he could find easy work to do in blacking boots and shoes and such like little things. The old man was quite indignant, the hot blood mounting to his cheeks; and, drawing himself up to his full height, he replied, with all the dignity of a lord, "Na, na, Sir—na, na. A Maclean never blacket a boot for a Campbell." He preferred privation with independence on the farm to ease as a menial in a rich man's house—a feeling that was appreciated by no one more warmly than by the genial and kind-hearted Governor.
