The Young Folks.

NEW EVERY MORNING.

Every day is a fresh beginning. Every day in the world made now; You who are weary of sorrow and languishing.

Here is a beautiful hope for you—A hope for me and a hope for you.

All the bad things are past and over. The tasks are done and the tears are shed.

Yesterday's errors let yesterday cover.

Yesterday's wounds, which smarted and bled.

Are here with the healing which night has shielded.

Yesterday now is apart of forever, Bound up in a sheaf, which God holds tight;

With glad days and sad days, And days which never come.

Shall wait no more with their bloom and their blight,

Their fullness of sunshine or sorrowful night.

Let them go since we cannot relieve them.

Careless and cannot stand; God in His mercy received, forgive them;

Only the new days are our own.

To-day is ours, and to-day alone.

Here are the skies all burnished bright.

Here the sweet earth all reborn,

Here the tried balm springing lightly.

To consider sun and to share with the moon.

In the elation of love and the cool of the dawn.

Every day is a fresh beginning;

—Laten, my soul, to the glad refrain,

And, spite of old sorrow and older

—And purer foreclosed and possible pain,

Take heart with this day, and begin again.

Will act, not so nicely directly upon the nerves, but still the digestive functions and the abundant formation of red, vitalizing blood. Nerves can't be fed on medicine. They can, however, be restored and strengthened by assimilated food. The marvelous action of Ferroxine arises from its action over the digestive and assimilative processes. When you take Ferroxine the blood is purified, strengthened, and grows rich and red. Then you grow vigorous, healthy and beautiful, ready for work, because you have the strength to do it. No tonic for the body, blood or nerves compares with Ferroxine. Price 50c. Sold by A. T. Brown.

WHITE AND RED

Pale blood—pale face—poor health; Scott's Emulsion—red blood—rosy face—good health, that's the order of events.

Our first lines give a condensed history of many cases, chiefly young girls at school. For some reason girls of that age are frequent sufferers from pale blood—a real blood starvation.

Scott's Emulsion, a clean white medicine, makes rich, red blood and rosy faces. It is blood food.

We send you a sample, upon request.

LORD KELVIN'S APPROPRIATE KEYNOTE.

The jubilee of the submarine cable reveals a little story of Lord Kelvin, whose inventions, the mirror galvanometer and siphon recorder, made submarine telegraphy commercially practicable.

At that time Professor Thompson, as he was then, was working on his deep sea sounding work, he was one day engaged in a cluster experiment with a long coil of wire.

"What is that for?" inquired the cluster, pointing to the wire.

"Clicking sounds," replied the professor.

"Alas," said the guest, "peculiarly. What kind of note does it give off?"

"The deep C, of course," came the answer like a shot, accompanied by the well-known twinkle in the professor's eye.

"Alas," said the guest, "peculiarly."

"It is the same as the note of the owl."

"What is that for?" inquired the cluster, pointing to the wire.

"Clicking sounds," replied the professor.
