BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS.

-Pretty cool August weather.

-Clinton's rate of taxation is 27 mills.

-Toronto Exhibition opens in two weeks.

-The rural schools reopen next Monday.

-Georgetown's rate has been struck at 20 mills.

-The crops are going under cover rapidly these days.

-The threshers are now the busiest men in the country.

-The Board of Education will meet next Monday evening.

-The long summer vacation is rapidly drawing to a close.

-Good morning! Have you renewed your Price's Paper subscription?

-Wm. Audert, of Welland, was fined $10 and costs on Saturday for selling newspapers on Sunday.

-The pavement contractors expect to complete Church Street this week. They have laid a fine walk there.

-About a score of Acton young people picked up at Stanley Park and had a very enjoyable time on Friday.

-Municipal Clerk Moore returned to Judge Gurnham on Monday evening appeals for names to be added to and struck off the Voter's list of 1903.

-As the result of a collision in the G. T. R. yards at Niagara Falls, Ont., on Saturday, four boys on a Sunday School excursion train were injured.

-The true way to build up a town is to sustain home enterprises, home improvements, home manufacturers, home business men, home laborers and mechanics.

-Councillor Hynds has been wearing a very benign smile the past day or two. In addition to his many other honours he now enjoys the distinctive title, grandpa.

-It looks as if Acton might have another wood famine the coming winter. Mr. James Brown having gone out of the wood business there is no stock in town.

-What about that civic holiday, so much talked about? Excursions to Bencbridge, Penetang and Collingwood have been talked of, but no action has yet been taken.

-Dan Mann said in an interview in Winnipeg the other day that his road would be shipping wheat to Great Britain via Hudson's Bay long before the G. T. R. is ready for operations.

-Mr. J. L. Warren, of Cedar Creek Farm, brought a fine sample of his Hyperphosphoric Enzyme to the Price's Paper office on Saturday. It measured 8 ft. 2 in. in length. Pretty good growth for the 8th August.

-The by-law to raise $30,000 for the establishment of a first class system of water works for Buck's Falls, was voted on Monday and was carried by a substantial majority, only 15 votes being recorded against it.

-Mr. Sidney Saunders has proven himself an adept at growing early celery. He left a fine bunch of the silver plume variety at the Price's Paper office on Tuesday, well developed and blanched for fourteen inches.

-Mr. W. D. Frick, who recently engaged with Adams Bros., the big harness and bag manufacturers, Toronto, as a manager of their bag department, has purchased a residence at 72 Oliver's Avenue. He expects to remove his family to the city in about two months.

NEWS OF LOCAL IMPORT.

St. Alban's B. N. Picnic.

The annual picnic of the friends of St. Alban's Sunday School, to the number of about fifty, held their annual picnic in Warren's grove on Saturday afternoon. The weather was propitious and the school had a delightful time. Rev. and Mrs. Hoscoe were everywhere in evidence in the effort to give pleasure to the scholars.

King's Church last Sunday.

Rev. Mr. McKay, who has been in charge of the congregation at Missions for the past year, preached in King's Church last Sabbath. Mr. McKay is a very able and ready speaker. His two sermons contained much food for thought. The morning sermon was a splendid exposition on "Prayer," the evening one on "Lesson from the Life of Joseph." Next Sabbath Rev. Mr. Ross will preach.

Harvest Excursions After All.

It was generally expected a week ago that owing to the great immigration to the west this year there would be no harvest excursions, but it now appears that a goodly number of hands will be required to harvest the grain this year. The rate of a man will be $10 going, and on presentation of the necessary certificate, a return ticket may be purchased for $10. Good going August 18, and return not later than Nov. 31.

Mr. George Pike, of Rockwood, jumped off the 6:21 train on Tuesday evening at the station here while it was in motion, and falling heavily to the ground, sustained a serious injury to the left leg. The young man was on his way to the North West and intended leaving Toronto yesterday for Winnipeg. Dr. McKeague dressed the injured member and the unfortunate young fellow was sent to the hospital at Guelph on the 8:10 train.

Half Holiday in Guelph.

At the request of the Royal City Clerks' and Salesmen's Ass'n, the merchants of Guelph have agreed to close their stores every Thursday afternoon at 12:30 during July and August, and all persons visiting Guelph, as well as those living in the city, are requested to do all shopping before that time on those days. This half holiday is being observed at considerable expense and hard work on the part of the Ass'n, and the holiday was obtained only on the Ass'n promising to do all in its power to advertise the same and help the merchants keep their business.

We want you to do your part. - Any Exchangeable Smiths Sunday Evening.

Rev. A. E. Smith, B. D., and Rev. W. S. McAlpine, B. A., exchanged pulpits last Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. McAlpine preached in the Methodist church, and Rev. Mr. Smith in the Baptist Church on Sunday evening.

The two houses belonging to the John J. Lawson estate were sold last week. The cottage at the corner of Elgin and Arnes Streets was purchased by Mr. T. W. Shaw, of the Acton Farm, for $2000. Mr. Shaw has occupied this cozy home for some years. The new house at the corner of Church and Willow Streets has come into the possession of Mr. W. J. Chapman, of W. H. Storey & Son, Limited. The price paid was $1700. Mr. Chapman will proceed at once to complete the exterior, which, when finished, will give him a very handsome and commodious residence.

Interesting and Valuable Relics.

Mrs. Presley, of Madras, Mass., who is spending the summer with Mrs. John G. Walters, Park Ave., has with her a number of interesting relics. Among these are a well preserved copy of the Columbian Mercury, published in Philadelphia, on Saturday, Dec. 17th, 1776. It is a copy of the newspaper on the monument just erected in the burying ground at City Road, London, to the memory of John Wesley, who died the March previous. Mrs. Presley also has a fine tree shilling of the Colony of 1822, which was found when excavation was being made for the cellar under the house in which Mrs. Presley now resides. A banknote of 1810 for 10 tenths, taken from the pocket of a Spanish soldier who was killed in the Spanish American War, is also in this interesting collection.

The Methodist Sunday School Picnic.

The annual picnic of the Methodist Sunday School, held at the farm of Mr. John G. Walters, on Sunday afternoon, was ideal and thoroughly enjoyable. The weather was bright and pleasant and the picnic grounds - ex-Warden Warren's beautiful grove - so convenient to town that every fifth in the primary classes walked in the procession without any fatigue. The school paraded on the Church lawn and at 2 o'clock, headed by Acton Cornet Band, moved off on the Mill Street pavement. There were about 300 present and their flags and banners and happy faces made a very pretty sight. Arrived at the picnic grounds the exuberant spirits of the joyous throng had free way. Splendid swings were promptly put into requisition and commencing with the junior class all the classes, including the teacher and parents, were given almost a surfeit of this pleasurable pastime. Base ball, foot ball and other games were also provided and the afternoon was a succession of enjoyments to the end. The picnic practically closed at four o'clock the ladies commenced serving tea and four times did they replenish the prettily decorated long tables which accommodated eighty at each sitting. Refreshments were all to the accompaniment of the proceedings were the fact that not only the lady teachers and officers of the school were present in force, but nearly all the male teachers and officers were also present and exerted themselves to cheer the effort and pleasure of all. Special thanks are due to Acton Cornet Band for the generous part they took in the day's pleasures.

Man's mark is silence, woman's is smile.

CLIMBING THE LADDER OF SUCCESS.

The first new wheat offered on Acton market was brought in on Monday. Robert Sprugel, Esquire, sold a load of Muggel wheat to Robert Noble for $2. Charles Corrie, Esq., brought in a load of red Chasson for which he also got $2. Joseph Allan, Ballinacree, brought in the first barley which brought $2.50. The highest price for the latter half of barley was $2.50. Mr. J. Humphrey bought on Acton market last evening between 5000 and 6000 bushels of wheat. He expects to do equally as well this year, and says if the proposed new elevator is ready in time he will largely augment this amount.

DEATH OF MR. D. J. WYNE.

At her home at Laporte, Indiana, Internment Home this afternoon.

Sorrow reigns at Sunderland Hill, the home of Mrs. W. H. Storey, this week.

The death of the young son of Mr. W. H. Storey, at her home at Laporte, Ind., on Monday, in the sad case.

While visiting in Acton about a year ago, Mrs. Wyne was taken ill and underwent a severe operation. Her health has never since been good. About a week prior to her death, while returning from Chicago by boat, she fell heavily upon the deck and sustained internal injuries which resulted fatally. On Wednesday a telegram came to the friends here stating that she was seriously ill. Mr. W. A. Storey left by first train and on Sunday morning Mrs. Alex. Secord and Dr. J. M. McDonald, who attended Mrs. Wyne during her illness, here proceeded to Laporte, arriving that evening. - Notwithstanding all that human skill could accomplish death came next morning.

Edith Pearl Storey was the youngest daughter of the late W. H. Storey, and was born in Acton in April, 1871. She was married to Dr. J. D. Payne, then of Richmond, Iowa, in March, 1892. Two sons, William Robert, and Franklin Storey, aged 7, are left to mourn the loss of a mother's tender affection and care. She was a member of the Methodist church at Laporte and greatly beloved by all who knew her.

The remains arrived in Acton on Tuesday morning accompanied by the sorrowing husband, the two little sons, and the friends who had been summoned to her bedside. The funeral will be held this afternoon. A service will be held in the Methodist church at three o'clock and the remains will afterwards be laid to rest beside her father and brother in the family plot at Fairview Cemetery.

The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved family.
