BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS.

Leaf by golden leaf resembles the gorgeous year.

The fading many-colored foliage of the woods is rapidly passing.

The one has come to the long list of fall fairs which have been following in succession since the last of August.

Upon the grounds amid the purple and gold fall the children laugh and their bright spools like arrowheads of gold.

Mr. Eliah Lano has purchased from Mr. Angus Lawson the brick house and lots adjoining on Agnes Street.

The foundations for the splendid new beach house, 120x20 feet, are being put in at the works of the Acton Tanning Co.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church will have a "Glowing Yuletide" social on Thursday evening, 5th November.

A new young people's Bible Class is being organized in the Methodist Sunday School with Mrs. H. P. Moore as teacher.

The morning electric lighting service went into effect on Monday morning, to the satisfaction of electric light users generally.

Guelp had two prominent citizens this week. John A. Cameron, Collector of Taxes and Police Court Clerk, and A. H. Robt. Johnston.

Misses John Cameron, Arch.
McNabb, Jim Stephenson and David Williamson, attended the social at Milton on Monday as jurors.

Rev. H. A. Macpherson and Rev.
C. O. Johnston, held an Union Thanksgiving service in Wesley Church, Toronto, last Thursday morning.

A bouquet of full blown roses plucked yesterday in the garden of Mr. George Campbell, Brock Street, is affording the editor's autumn sweet perfume.

A snubbing between Rockwood and Guelp on Monday caused the cancellation of the 2:23 train west, to the inconvenience of a number of passengers.

The Kilom-Kough Concert Co., under the auspices of St. Alban's Church, in the Town Hall next Tuesday evening, promise a musical and dramatic program of rare merit.

Old residents will read with peculiar interest the column on first page of twenty years ago this week. "This will be a feature of future issues each week."

Every citizen should attend the great Harold Jarvis concert on the evening of the 30th inst. in the Town Hall. The Old-fashioned never do things by halves. The concert will be the musical treat of the year.

The editor has been sporting an elegant bouquet of heather in bloom from the hills of Ontario Scotland, this week. Col. Allan van der Grinten donor and he received it on Tuesday from his cousin, Mrs. Elizabeth Gunn, of Southlandshire, Scotland.

The merchant who gives to his advertising the study and accuracy that he does to other branches of his business will plan to broadly, systematically and carefully make a definite annual appropriation for its needs. "An system of America's oldest and most successful merchants."

Last—On Tuesday evening on Brewer Ave., Willow or St. John Street, a Toronto General Hospital graduate nurse's medal, with many resolutions back. Finder will greatly be obliged by leaving at office of R. J.
McNabb, Division Court Clerk.

NEWS OF LOCAL IMPORT.

The Ministerial Association.
The monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association will be held at Georgetown next Monday. The topic to be discussed will be "The Church and the State." It will be introduced by Rev. D. Dick, Acton.

Annual Bible Society Meeting.
The annual meeting of the Acton Branch Bible Society, to be held on Monday, 23rd October, will be addressed by Rev.
W. W. Weeks, of Toronto, who is a speaker of magnetic force and great versatility. The meeting will be held in the Disciples' Church and all interest in the spread of the scriptures will be present, if possible.

John H. Carter Burned Out Again.
Mr. J. H. Carter, formerly of Acton, had the misfortune last Saturday night about ten o'clock to have his shop and stove factory, near Dutton, totally destroyed by fire. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a defect in the stack at the opening in the roof. The loss is estimated at $1,200. There was no insurance on the building, but the machinery was insured for $1,000.

Georgetown's Weekly Smash.
The "Georgetown" last Wednesday night, a freight on the main line ran into a passenger on the Northern branch standing on a switch in the west end of Georgetown yards. The switch had been left open. The crash was the result of the truck and caused a great deal of damage to the first two cars of each train. The line was blocked so badly that the train due in Acton at 8:10 did not reach here until eleven o'clock, delaying "Thanksgiving Eve" travel.

Georgetown's Wedding Supper.
A pretty but quiet wedding ceremony was performed on "Thanksgiving" evening, Oct. 18th, at 30 Gileas St., Toronto, by Rev. W. E. Hassard, Crawford St. Church, when Miss Mary Gardner, daughter of Mrs. Alice Gardner, formerly of Acton, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Clumens, of Toronto, formerly of Guelp. The bride couple were attended by Miss Minnie Arthurs, of Acton, and the bride's best man, Mr.
Frank Gardner. The bride looked very pretty in a neat travelling suit of brown camel's hair cloth, the coat opening over a white tulle silk blouse. The happy couple are nicely settled in their new home, 847 Bloor St. West, and will be glad to see their Acton friends.

Another G. T. B. Sunday Smash.
It is only a few weeks since the wrecking train was here on Sunday to clear the smudges which occurred at the Queen's Hotel in the G. T. B. yards. Last Sunday it was again with its gang of workmen and derricks clearing up a wreck which occurred near the culvert west of the engine house at 11 o'clock on Saturday night.

The yard was full of trains and a heavy double-headed, backed violently into another freight standing on the main line with brakes set. The result was that two flat cars loaded with granite were converted into splinters. The huge blocks of granite were dumped in the new siding in the G. T. B. yard and smashed the sumpstone line for several car lengths. The auxiliary gang had the wreck removed and the granite reloaded by one o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

The November Delineator.
In the reviewer's opinion this Delineator occupies its recognized position as the foremost fashion publication and one of the high-class literary magazines. Excellent reading and refined art supplement the display of winter fashions, which are more charming than any previous ones.
Many articles of literary versatility characterize the splendid number.
Miss Bradford tells the story of an old-fashioned Thanksgiving. For the children, there is a "Fairyland story," by Livingston Morse, entertaining pastimes, by Lina Beard, describing the construction of the Statue of Zeus at Olympia; an amusing story by C. V. Matthews, called "We Meet Monsieur Daguerre, and a Sewing Lesson." In addition there are numerous articles on fashions, traveling problems of the house and household.

In the Old Church for a Service.
In the fraternal spirit which prevails among the various denominations in town, Rev. A. E. Smith, B. D., took charge of the service in the Disciples' Church last Sunday evening in the presence of Rev. D. Dick at Detroit.
For the first time in twenty-seven years the Methodist congregation was present for nearly thirty years ago, in a very interesting manner, and in the presence of Rev. D. Dick at Detroit.
The service was a most interesting and thoughtful one. To this end they had three great national thanksgiving feasts: first, the Passover, when the first fruits of harvest were offered; second, the feast of Pentecost, at the time of the gathering of the harvest and the blessing of the wheat, and the third, the feast of the vintage, the gladdest festival of all the year.
Harvest joy is a national joy. When the harvest is abundant the people may well rejoice, and rejoice together.
Under existing circumstances we should rejoice and have our hearts filled with thanksgiving to God. It should be a universal joy for all are agreed as to the desirability of having an abundant harvest, and there should be universal thanks. Harvest joy should be a religious joy; a joy before the Lord. To rejoice in an abundant harvest, without rejoicing before the Lord, would be a sin with the apostles of the man in the Scriptures who, after gathering in an abundant harvest, failed to eat, drink and be merry, without a thought of God's part in the harvest. In closing Mr. Smith said a beautiful harvest witness to the fact of God's activity in nature, and to his fidelity to the promise of His word. A collection was taken in aid of the work of the Lord's Day Alliance of this province.

It takes a while to feel real honest concern over battery.

T. P. Smith, eye specialist, will be in Acton, Wednesday, Nov. 18th, one day only, room at the Dominion Hotel.
If you have any defect in your eyesight it will pay to call and see him before it is too late. Examination free.
Call early, or you may make appointment at A. T. Brown's Drug Store.

Mrs. Geo. H. Hawkins, of Stratford, were guests at one of the many and, respectively, were used, but he expired in a few minutes. The double denture was a great shock to Mrs. Maudsloni and Mr. R. J. Maudsloni, the son, who, in their home here, being away from all relatives. Mr. Maudsloni took possession of the home will have about two years ago. He was an esteemed citizen, obliging and always cheerful. He was a member of the Methodist Church and also the I. O.
F. The funeral was held on Tuesday morning, the remains being conveyed to Palmerston, the former home of the family, for interment. Rev. A.
E. Smith, B. D., conducted the funeral service and Messrs. H. Grimble, J. Harvey, A. T. Brown, G. C. Spelght, T. Gamble and James Lackey—the latter four being brother Preachers—were the bearers. Genuine sympathy is felt for Mrs. Maudsloni and Mr. Rolly, who compose the family who survive.

The Union Thanksgiving Service.
The Thanksgiving service in Knox Church last Thursday morning was well attended for a week-day morning, and nearly all the churches in town were represented in the congregation. Rev. J. C. Wilson, B. A., the pastor, conducted the devotional exercises, and Rev. A. E. Smith, B. D., preached a very appropriate and helpful sermon from Isaiah 9: 3. "The Joy before them according to the Joy in Harvest." The theme of harvest joys and thanksgiving was impressed as a most proper thing for all. The Jews, he said, were an agricultural people and their blessings were devotedly and thankfully received. To this
