NEWS OF LOCAL IMPORT.

A Day of Rest in Seven.

Last evening of citizens will be held in the Episcopal Church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock - at the close of the various church services under the auspices of the Lord's Day Alliance.

Fine Deer on Exhibition.

Both Whitham's and Patterson's both shops have had fine deer on exhibition during the week. Mr. Patterson brought two horns with him from Muskoka. The one at Whitham's was sent to Mr. James Wilson, by Mr. M. Farley, a friend at Fitchburg. It was a beauty, weighed 291 pounds and sported an unusually thin pair of antlers.

Very Much Pleased with Printing.

Last evening the attention was given to A. P. Lattor, Stationer, six jobs of printing comprising 8000 copies. His reply just to hand says: "Goods and invoice to hand. I am very much pleased with your execution of my orders. I would have liked to have seen the work in person. Please give invoice by return mail." Fine Press printing always pleases customers.

Another of Nature's Pranks.

Last spring Mr. James Martin, postmaster at Appleton, stored a number of bags of potatoes in his school. One bag remained undisturbed all summer and when it was opened it was found that the potatoes had gone to work on their own account and reproduced themselves to a surprising extent. In the Spring potatoes were slow may be seen samples of these and they are a novelty indeed.

A Great Concert Coming.

On the 8th December there will be given a musical treat in the Methodist Church of special attraction. The artists are Mrs. Anna Watson Bevell, A. T. G. M., Soprano, in concert, and Arthur H. Howell, choir director of Wellington Street Church, Brantford.

South American, New York: "The feature of the evening was the singing of Anna Watson Bevell, of Toronto, who fairly captivated her audience." Sandwich Echo: "The concert given by Mr. Howell and company on Monday evening was well patronized, the entertainment being one of rare merit."

Post-Nuptial Reception.

Mrs. John R. Kennedy was at home to her many friends last Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. She also received on Thursday evening when a number of her gentleman friends paid their compliments and extended congratulations. Mrs. Kennedy wore her bridal dress of blue broadcloth with white Parisian silk waist.

John R. Barber, Georgetown, Mrs. John Moore, Lincolnton, and Miss Jessie Nicklin and Miss Barbara Warren, assisted, and Missa Bertie Smith, Milton, at the home of John Warren acted as maids of waiting. The tea table was done in white, crimson and green, composed of ribbons, chrysanthemums, snailax and cut glass. Owing to the snow storm on Wednesday the attendance was small, but on Thursday afternoon and evening large numbers of callers attended.

Death of Mrs. George Douglas.

Deep sorrow came into one of the happiest homes in this community yesterday morning when death claimed Mrs. George Douglas at the home of her husband, 18, on 1, Esplanade, after a very brief illness. Some five weeks ago Mrs. Douglas suffered for a few days with an attack of appendicitis. She recovered and regained her usual health and was able to attend to her household duties in Knox Church a week or so ago, however she again became ill from affection of the heart and liver, and yesterday morning between seven and eight o'clock her spirit peacefully took its flight. Mrs. Douglas was the eldest daughter of George Manson, farmer, Irvine, Parish of Thurso, Scotland, where she was born nearly sixty-four years ago. She married George Douglas on the 8th December, 1827. They came to Canada in April, 1871, and two years later settled on the farm where the family still resides. Six children were born to them, four in Scotland and two after coming to Canada. These are Donald, William, James, Alexandrina, Jessie and Boby, all of whom survive.

Mrs. Douglas was a good woman. Her home was her greatest thought, but for all the blessings which came she reverently gave thanks to the Giver of all Good. Her family never wanted a mother's loving care. Her neighbors counted her a friend of the kind, practical kind. Goodness of path is felt for Mr. Douglas and his bereaved family.

ROCKWOOD.

The local branch of the U. C. Bible Society held their annual meeting in the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday night. Rev. J. G. Brown, of Acton, and Rev. J. Charlton, Everton, gave addresses. On Wednesday evening the meeting was held at Everton, when Rev. H. Parry of this village addressed the meeting.

A movement is afoot in town to organize a young men's association. It has the support of the clergy and influential citizens and should be successful. A meeting for organization was held in the Friends meeting-house on Monday evening at which the following were appointed members of the executive: Hon. Pres., H. Black; Hon. Vice-Pres., J. T. Wood; Sec., William Harris; Vice-Sec., J. Davidson; Sec. Treas., Rev. H. Parry; Com. Com., A. Black, H. Leo; Patron, T. Lundy, S. Bailey, S. Boyington, A. Clancy, J. Aldous.

Meetings are to be held weekly for the present in the basement of the Church on Thursday evenings at eight o'clock. Next meeting will be held this week for drafting of constitution and other business connected with organization.

25 YEARS OF FAITHFUL SERVICE.

Thos. T. Moore Resigns His Position After a Quarter Century AT THE HEAD OF ACTON SCHOOL.

Only once in the history of Acton Public School has a principal remained at its head and guided its destinies for anything like a quarter of a century. That has been the record of Thos. T. Moore, the present principal, and his term is rapidly drawing to a close—less than four short weeks remaining until the completion of his stewardship. At the meeting of the Board of Education on Monday evening Mr. Moore's resignation was tendered and accepted.

In his retirement the Acton Public School loses the man who has done more for its success and high standing, during his long engagement as principal, than any other teacher who has ever been connected with the school. Mr. Moore put his whole self into the work for which he was so eminently fitted, and by his energy, his ability as an instructor, his faculty of keeping abreast of the times in all improving methods of teaching, and his sterling integrity and force of character, won and maintained for the school a place at the very head of the schools of the county.

At the meeting of the Public School Board on Nov. 16th, 1878, with W. H. Storey, Esq., in the chair, Mr. Moore was engaged under the following resolution:

Moved by D. Henderson, seconded by Edward Moore, that the application of Mr. Thomas Moore, as Head Master of Acton Public School, be accepted, and that the salary be five hundred dollars per annum and free residence—Carried.

Mr. Moore came to Acton from York County where he had taught in two schools for some twenty years with marked success.

During his long term as principal hundreds of boys and girls have passed out of the school into the world with the best of preparation, fitted to cope with the stern problems confronting them because of Mr. Moore's tuition and their association with him. Those reflect gratefully upon the days so profitably spent in Acton school. That character is never to be forgotten. In Mr. Moore's professional career his life and character and ability have influenced the growth of upright character and imparted valuable knowledge as well. The community will miss with the Free Press in the sincerest wishes that as Mr. Moore enters upon a well-earned rest from the duties of an exacting profession, he will enjoy many happy and peaceful days among us.

ABLE EDUCATIONAL SERVICES.

Rev. J. W. Cooley, of Milton, Preached Weekly Sermons in the Methodist Church.

The educational anniversary of the Methodist Church was held last Sunday and Rev. J. W. Cooley, of Milton, preached sermons, which, though out of the usual style of educational sermons, were strong, helpful and thoughtful discourses, which impressively appealed to the congregation.

The text for the morning discourse was that well-known passage, Matt. 28: 19-20, so generally used as the foundation for missionary, exhortations, but in this case proven to be equally applicable for an educational theme: "Go ye therefore and teach all nations; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you." The educational treatment of the passage was logical and forcible. Christ's ministry had been essentially a teaching ministry and in the last command he expressed his desire that this teaching should go on and extend to wider fields. His ministry was a teaching ministry and not a ministry of priesthood. For the foundation of a universal scheme of Christian education the teaching function stands out most prominently. Education alone will not save man but Christian education will. All culture and education apart from the Church are failures. Teaching all nations was laid upon Christ's followers, and the lesson definitely assigned. Some misapprehend the relation of the processes of education and conversion. Christian education means education on all lines: the body to be kept pure, mental alertness and spiritual education which aims at the perfecting of the saints. Christ's greatest gift to His disciples was the gift of the Holy Spirit—the great co-operating teacher who took the place of Christ. In closing, brief reference was made to the eleven colleges and universities of the Church in Canada, giving education, under Christian auspices, to 2,500 students, and twenty-five missionary schools with a large attendance of pupils.

In the evening a powerful sermon, kindred to the morning discourse, was preached from Isaiah 5: 13, "Therefore my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge." The captivities of Israel always came as a sequel to the abandonment of God's laws. The law-abiding people were always marked by success and peace. Ignorance led to chains. Whatever dissipates ignorance and enlightens and educates the human mind gives liberty. There is no freedom for those who will not know their truth. You cannot have ignorance and freedom. You cannot have the sheer force of divine knowledge liberty will come. Christ came to lead captivity captive. Christ's gospel, Bible, ministry, and Church are all consecrated to the one end of disseminating knowledge. Christ wants men to know the truth so that truth may make them free. His Church is seeking to remove the ignorance and superstition, and flood the world with the knowledge of Jesus Christ, and enlighten and expand until liberty shall be everywhere triumphant.

Mr. Cooley's sermons were much appreciated by the congregation. The offerings of the day were equal to the generous givings of last year. The choir rendered special and very appropriate music at both services.

To be seen obeying is the fundamental act of governing.—Carlyle.
