

MARRIED.

Douglas-Burke At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. & Mrs. John E. Douglas, 106, 1st Ave., Guelph, on Saturday, Nov. 28th, 1903, by Rev. A. Blair, D.D., John E. Douglas and Miss Ethelma Burke, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. George Burke, formerly of Guelph, Ontario.

DEEDS.

Moses - In Toronto on Friday, 6th December, 1902, William C. Moore, formerly of Acton, aged 62 years.

Taylor - Holden, at 128, Nepean St., Ottawa, on Tuesday, Nov. 24th, 1903, Harry Taylor, son of Mr. & Mrs. John H. Thompson, late of Guelph, and his beloved wife of John H. Thompson, Esq., in her 60th year.

DEATHS.

Judge Olds, sitting at Galt this week, has increased the assessment of the Bell Telephone Company from $2,200 to $3,000, holding that the poles and wires are liable to taxation.

President Roosevelt in his message to Congress, read on Monday, expresses gratification at the result of the Alaska Boundary award, which is "satisfactory in every way" and of "material advantage to our people."

It is stated that Halton County Council will sit an early date discuss the question of establishing a House of Refuge. This is not because the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards. Canada for years has been plodding along quietly developing its strength and seemed rather small in the eyes of her neighbours to the south. Within the past two or three years, however, there is a change of aspect in the eyes of public men and a change of tone in the American press. Our resources and possibilities are now being realized even to the extent of their being a factor in competition with those of the United States. For years the United States have prided themselves on their great sources of wheat and meat supplies, and on the advantages of their settled lands. The growth of Manitoba and the humongous wheat crops of that province in the last five or six years, with the millions of acres carrying rich and fertile soil, still unbroken, have shown the possibility of a great producing country that would soon overtake and leave in the rear the great grain producing area of the United States. And while our neighbors have been almost dazed at this development in Manitoba, the great grain fields of millions and millions of acres in the North West Territories have been opened and the influx of settlers, not only from the United States, but also from Great Britain and the continent, has come in earnestly, only to raise to greater estimation our resources and possibilities. Let us tell the world that our country has achieved a position and status of which every Canadian has a good right to be proud.

KNATCHBULL.

Mr. Charles Darby, of Knatchbull, returned home on Tuesday of last week after a three months' stay in Manitoba.

Mease, Ethelred G. Wilson and George Bell, threshers of Neasagaway, completed their season's threshing Dec. 8th. They have threshed nearly 600 tons of grain a day. This is a good season's work for one machine.

Mr. Levi S. Allison is moving into the house owned by Mr. Langille.

Miss Friendship, teacher at No. 9 school, has been engaged for another year at an increased salary.

Miss Friendship will hold her Xmas examination at No. 9 school on Tuesday, Dec. 22nd inst.

Lots of snow and good sledding now. Some of the farmers would sooner see a little soft weather for a while to replenish their wells and cisterns. Water is very scarce in this section.

COUNTY MODEL SCHOOL.

Standing of the pupils at the Last Examinations.

The standing of each pupil, shown below, was determined by his or her work throughout the term in psychology, methods of instruction, school-law, drill, calligraphy, and practical teaching:

Rosa Smyth..... 78
Nellie Hunter..... 68
Edith Nicklin..... 61
Ursula Russell..... 61
Vina Smith..... 61
May Langton..... 60
Annie Campbell..... 60
Hilda Young..... 60
Celia Clark..... 60
Hazel Harrison..... 60
Alberta Landry..... 58
Lella Cartwright..... 57
Agnes Steele..... 57
Kiffida Roy..... 56
Doris Scott..... 55
Oraida Blalock..... 53
Georgina Merritt..... 52
Jennie Moore..... 51
Bertha McKeown..... 50

Marks possible, 775.

DRUDGERY OF FARMERS' LIFE.

THE NEW ENTRANCE TEACHER.

THE BOARDFOR HELP—HOW TO KEEP THE BOYS IN THE COUNTRY.

ADDRESSES AT GUELPH WINTER FAIR.

Thousands of farmers and stock raisers have gathered this week at Guelph to attend the Provincial Winter Fair, and to listen to the practical and instructive addresses at the various public gatherings.

The sessions of the Experimental Union have been especially interesting. President Nelson Monteith, on M.P. L. of Stratford, delivered his annual address. He dwelt upon the great service the Guelph Agricultural College has done in the farming interests of the country. Through the co-operation of the different members of the union the introduction of improved seeds, seeds and fodder had done much to increase the production of farm products in Ontario. Although it has improved greatly in past years, the condition of the farmer is not yet altogether satisfactory. From a financial point of view, the farmer was better off, but scarcely of help had made such long hours of labor necessary that his life was becoming one of drudgery. Canada was coming into great prominence as an agricultural country, and this promised well for the farmer's future.

Mr. E. C. Drury, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that such an institution be established within two years in all counties which have neglected up to this time to provide Houses of Refuge.

The intention of the United States Government to fortify two small islands out in the West and Pease, which the United States received by the terms of the Alaska boundary award, will be speedily abandoned when the Government at Washington discovers that these islands must, after all, command Port Simpson harbour. Instead of lying respectively two and three miles distant, as stated in the memoranda before the Boundary Commission, these islands of Sibley and Kannahamut, according to surveyors who have just returned from Port Simpson, are twenty and thirty miles distant.

It is now concluded that the part Canada intends to take at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 will surpass everything which has been heretofore undertaken in this direction. There is not the slightest doubt that our country will be to the front in the matter of natural resources, forestry, fisheries and pulp industries, when the matter of awards and prizes is discussed by the jury of awards.

Additional addresses were given by prominent agriculturists of continental reputation. Mr. J. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington said that farmers thought too little and worked to much. One pound of grain on the farm was worth a ton of muscle. The scarcity of help involved new problems for farmers which would probably be solved by small farms more intelligently worked.

Miss McElroy, of Guelph, president of the board, said that the members are growing tender-hearted and averse to their duty from a human standpoint, but because a recent enactment of the Provincial Legislature requires that