West End Hockey Players Ever.

The Toronto sports published the following respecting a ladies' hockey match played at Orangeville last Friday evening: "Last night witnessed the last and best hockey game of the season between the Orangeville ladies hockey club and the ladies club from Erin, who were defeated last Tuesday on their own rink by a score of 6-1, by Orangeville. The Erin ladies went to Orangeville prepared to trim the puck-chasers of that town to a finish, and they did. Score, 4-1 in favor of Erin. The visitors' team was composed of the Misses Mason, of Acton, who, experts declare, put up the fastest and most sensational hockey they have seen played anywhere. These young ladies, who are twin sisters, were the first to break through the local players. HALLIMAFAD.

Last Wednesday afternoon, 18th inst., the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McLean, 8th line, Erin, was the scene of a very happy event, when their sister Miss Ella McKeown, of Hallimafad, was married to Mr. John McLean, of 8th line, Erin. Promptly at 2 p.m. the bride, wearing the sum of her brother, Mr. David McKeown, came in to the parlor to the strains of "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, played by Mr. David McKeown, nephew of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Miller, of Hallimafad, assisted by Rev. Wm. McLean, of Orangeville, brother of the groom. The bride was prettily attired in cream-colored and carried a bouquet of white roses, white carnations with spray ferns. Miss Jennie Bond, niece of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore cream veil and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Norman McKeown acted as groomsmen. The ceremony was performed under a canopy of evergreens. After the ceremony the bride and groom, with forty guests repaired to the dining room where they partook of a sumptuous wedding breakfast, after which a very pleasant afternoon and evening was spent in music, games and social intercourse. The groom's present to his bride was a handsome gold ring and to the bridesmaid a gold brooch with a ruby setting. The happy couple left in the evening for their new home on the fourth line, Erin.

On Thursday last week a number of their friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burnside, on the eve of their removal to the H. G. Brown farm near Acton, to spend a social evening and to give tangible evidence of esteem for Mrs. Burnside's services in connection with the Methodist Church here. A delightful evening was spent and the following address presented: To Mrs. Burnside.

DEAR SISTER:—We, a number of your friends, have met together for the purpose of expressing our regret at your removal from our midst. We desire also to express our appreciation of the service you have rendered while you have been associated with us in church work.

With you we will accept this present as a slight token of the esteem which you are held by us, and we join together in wishing you prosperity in your new home. You will find a place of usefulness in the cause of Christ, and we trust that God's abundant blessing will attend your home.

Signed on behalf of the Methodist Church, Hallimafad.

New Methods

DEAR FRIENDS:—On the first of March we proposed to close our books. We believe we can give you better service, bigger values and a larger stock to select from, save you money and in every way serve your interests better by concentrating our time, energies and capital to a strictly Cash Business. Credit costs money in book-keeping, idle money, postage, stationery, loss, time on collections, etc. It divides up our capital, it divides up our time.

This time devoted to the study of value for you, this money applied to the giving to you of better values, will, we now appeal to you as a move in the right direction.

Our policy the "Right goods at the right prices" with liberal treatment for our customers, has for the past twenty-four years kept our business growing steadily year by year until now we find that to keep pace with our growing trade it is necessary to adopt new up-to-date methods. "To buy for cash, to sell for cash."

With our long experience in merchandising we feel confident that we can offer you the right goods at the right prices. Quality, style and prices will be carefully considered. Our stock is now larger and better than ever before. Shipments of new spring goods are arriving daily, all of such high quality as to select from. It is an advantage to see what you are buying, what you are parting with your good money for. If goods are not satisfactory we will cheerfully exchange.

It will cost you nothing to investigate our goods and prices. You are welcome whether or not you wish to purchase. A visit to our store will not only interest you, but benefit you. If our goods, prices and service are not what you expect, tell us. This will help us and we will help you.

This is a fair proposition worth a trial. We trust that our past pleasant trade relations may be reproduced by the adoption of this "Twenty-first Century Retailing System" which means buying goods at the lowest price.

Thinking all our friends and customers for their liberal patronage and in the anticipation of seeing you more frequently here before, I remain

Yours for Mutual Benefit,
J. H. JACKSON, Georgetown.
