

WHAT'S THE USE.

What's the use of growin' up? You can't paddle with your toes in a jockey cap, you can't yell when you're feelin' extra well. Why, every faller knows a grown up can't let his nose...

What's the use of growin' up? When I'm big I don't suppose Explorin' would be right in a neighbor's field at night. I don't like to get my clothes...

What's the use of growin' up? You couldn't ride the cow, an' the rabbit an' the pig don't like you 'cause you're big. I'm a comfortable size now.

What's the use of growin' up? You just have to be one thing: You a pirate, or a king. Or a cow-boy, or a playboy. I don't want to be no older...

ORDEL.

There is a young medical student living in Westport, Kansas, who has decided not to speak, or to be known, or to be called on the young woman recently and during the evening he volunteered to sing. When he had concluded his song he turned to the girl. "I'm thinking of taking voice culture," he said. "Do you know of a good teacher whose charges are reasonable?"

"I know the very one for you," she replied. "His name is Taylor. Give me a card and I'll write down his telephone number for you."

The young man gave her a card. The next day he called Taylor up on the telephone. "This is Mr. Taylor, the vocal teacher?" he asked.

"The what?" came over the wire. "The vocal teacher?"

"Now," was the reply. "I don't teach nothing, I file cards."

HOW ABOUT YOUR UNCONSCIOUS INFLUENCE.

Your influence is as large as yourself. A very small proportion of your time is spent in giving good advice to those about you, but when you are least conscious of it, an influence which radiates from you like heat from the sun, compels others to take the right path or the wrong. Sometimes when the tongue says one thing, this unconscious influence says another, and all the while it seems, its clamor drowns out the sound of your words.

My old grandfather had a way of making his children finish their work. If they began a thing they must complete it. If they undertook to build a cotchouse, they must not leave it until it was done, and nothing of work or play was to be allowed until the cotchouse was finished.

URGENT NEED. "I'll sell you $1,000 worth of this mining stock for 80 cents," urged the promoter. "It's the chance of a lifetime. Within a month it will be selling at a dollar a share."

Nodd—The doctor says we must be careful of our boy's brain. Todd—Why not keep him entirely away from all mental excitement?

Mrs. Belmont—Now, Mary, I want you to be careful. This is some very old table linen that has been in our family for two hundred years.

"Where has he been this evening?" asked O'Leary of O'Toole. "Sure, I have been playing 'Bridget White,'" said O'Toole.

A noted humorist had often petitioned the council of the town where he resided to fill up a middle near his house, but without result.

"Good evening, sir. I am glad to see you stirring in this matter at last," and so saying he closed the door and left the poor councillor to extricate himself as best he could.

A Pleasant Medicine—There are some pills which have no other purpose evidently than to begot painful internal disturbances in the patient, adding to his troubles and perplexities rather than diminishing them.

One night he heard a spluttering noise and a sputtering unit for publication, and, going to his door, he found a respected member of the town council rousing around in the middle of the night.

Was Weak and Run Down WOULD VERY OFTEN FAINT AWAY Mrs. J. H. Armstrong, Fort Elmalay, Ont., tells of her experience with MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS. "I was very weak and run down, and had headaches nearly every day and very often would faint away. In fact, my doctor said that sometimes I would never come out of the faint. It was through one of your traveling agents that I was induced to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking three boxes am glad to relate it has been a number of years since I had a fainting spell and sorely ever have a headache. Too much cannot be said in praise of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, for in me they have effected a perfect cure."

Mr. Spodlong began the youth hanging his hat on the back of the chair. "I will occupy only a few moments of your time. I have come to ask you for your daughter. I—" "Young man," said the elderly banker, "do you?" "Yes, sir, I realize fully that she has been tenderly nurtured and that she is very dear to you, also that her home is one in which she has been surrounded by every luxury. But she is willing to leave it."

Had Weak Back Liniments and Plasters Did No Good BUT DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS Cured Mrs. Arch. Schaner, Black Point, N. B., writes—For years I was troubled with weak back, and have tried for months for days, being scarcely able to turn myself, and I have also been a great sufferer from rheumatism, and have tried all kinds of liniments and plasters, but they did me no good. I was about to give up in despair when my husband advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking two boxes I am now well and able to do my work. I am positive Doan's Kidney Pills are all that you claim for them, and I would advise all kidney sufferers to give them a fair trial.
