

EVERY YEAR

There comes new care and sorrow. Every year: Dark days and darker morrows. The ghosts of dead loves haunt us. The ghosts of changed friends taunt us. Every year: And disappointment's daunt us. Every year: "You are growing old," they tell us. Every year: "You are more alone," they tell us. Every year: "You can win no more affection." Every year: "You have only recollections, Deep sorrow and dejection." Every year: "Too true! Life's share is all chaffing. Every year: And we are anxious waiting. Old places, changing, fast us. The living name forgot. There are fewer to regret us. Every year: But the true life draws higher. Every year: Earth's load now grows lighter. And the heavy burden lighter. And the dawn more bright. Every year:

AN EXPERT

In one of the interior towns there lives a farmer who brings butter, eggs and produce to market, and, being illiterate, also brings with him his son to do the "figuring." The other day the son was ill and the old man had to venture alone. For awhile he got along pretty well by letting his customers do the figuring, but presently he sold two rolls of butter to a woman who could not figure any better than he.

A politician who is a great walker was out enjoying his favorite recreation. After going a few miles he sat down to rest. "Want a lift, mister?" asked a good-natural farmer, driving that way. "Thank you," responded the politician, "I will avail myself of your kind offer." The two rode on in silence for a while. Presently the farmer asked: "Professional man?" "Yes," answered the politician, who was thinking of a bill he had pending before the House. After another pause the farmer observed: "You ain't a lawyer, or you'd be talkin'; you ain't a doctor, 'cause you ain't got a bag; and you ain't a preacher, from the looks of you. What is your profession?" "An politician," was the reply. The farmer gave a snort and said: "Politics ain't no profession; it's a disease," said he.

A QUESTION OF SHARPNESS

"Best value in the world—25, 50, 100—thus ran the advertisement. "Dear Sir," wrote Mr. S. H. Hanger, "I have pleasure in enclosing postal order for 25, 50, 100. Please send me one of your razors by return. P. S.—As I don't possess 25, 50, at the present moment, I cannot send it. However, I have no doubt you will send the razor. A large concern like yours one postal order more or less will not count." "Dear Sir," replied Messrs. S. H. & Co., "we beg to forward the razor and thank you for your esteemed patronage. P. S.—Should you have carelessly forgotten to include the razor. To one with such a cheek as yours, however, one razor more or less will not count."

BRIEFS

A reasonable probability is the only certainty. The best thing going is an unbecome guest. Sound travels at the rate of 1,112 feet per second. There is a little wolf and a little rabbit in every man. A whale's greatest speed is from ten to twelve miles an hour. Some men marry for money and some women for alimony. The older a man grows the surer he feels that he never will be found out. Oil and water won't mix, but fortunately for the milkman, milk and water will. When he falls in love every man thinks that he has discovered something new. There never was and never will be a universal panacea in one remedy for all ills to which flesh is heir. What would yelp one ill in turn would aggravate the others. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound, unadulterated state a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual and judicious use the febrile systems are led into a reasonable state of strength by the influence which it exerts on Nature's own restorative. It restores those to whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and by tranquillizing the nervous system to sound and refreshing sleep—imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which being stimulated, courses through the veins, strengthening the healthy, and making healthy, a necessary result strengthening the frame and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased sustenance—result, improved appetite. Northrop & Lyman of Toronto have given to the public their superior Quinine Wine by this method of advertisement, the which approaches nearest perfection of any on the market. All druggists sell it.

THE AUTHOR'S COMPLIMENTS

A little boy wanted to give his mother a birthday present, and he did not know what to give her, so at last he decided to give her a Bible. After he had bought it he did not know what to put on the front page, so after looking through some of the books in the library he decided to put the following on it: "To dear mother, with the author's compliments."

A Standard Medicine.—Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, compounded of entirely vegetable substances known to have a purgative and salutary effect upon the digestive organs, have through years of use attained an eminent position that they rank as a standard medicine. The pills should remain for this. Simple in their composition they can be administered by the weak, the young, the aged, to all who have a healthy and agreeable effect on the sluggish digestive organs.

CONSTIPATION IRREGULARITY OF THE BOWELS

Any irregularity of the bowels is always dangerous, and should be at once attended to and corrected.

Chapped Hands ARE your hands chapped, cracked, or sore? Have you "cold cracks" which open and bleed when the skin is drawn tight? Have you a cold sore, frost bite, chilblains, or a "raw" place which at times makes it difficult for you to go about your household duties? If so, Zam-Buk will give you relief and will heal the damaged skin. A point on the nose places at night, and if it is the hands, wear a pair of old gloves overnight. Zam-Buk's rich healing essences will sink into the wounds, and the smarting, and will quickly heal.

SOME NOTES ON "ORIGINS"

"Humpty Dumpty Sat on a Wall," etc., has come down to us from the days of King John. "The Babes in the Woods" dates from the fifteenth century, being founded upon facts, an old home near Weyland Wood. Norfolk, having the whole story in carvings on a millstone. "Little Jack Horner," "Little Miss Muffet," "Old Mother Hubbard," "Mother Goose," and "Ginsey, Ginsey Gander," are each traceable to the sixteenth century. "Pussy Cat, Pussy Cat, Where Have You Been?" belongs to the reign of Queen Elizabeth. "Three Blind Mice" first appeared in a music book dated 1600. "A Froggie Would a-Wooing Go" was licensed to be sung as far back as 1610. "Boys and Girls Come Out to Play" and "Lucy Locket Lost Her Pocket" both had their origin in the reign of Charles II. "And last of all, 'Under the Tree, the Giant Killer,' 'Hubbard' and 'Tom Thumb' were published by their author, Charles Perrault, in the year 1697. London Notes and Queries.

DIDN'T WANT SUNDAY CLOTHES

"August Belmont in the smoking room of the liner that brought him back to America, told one afternoon some interesting things about London. Mr. Belmont described the street near Tottenham Court road, where second-hand clothes are sold. 'A discussion I overheard' in that street," he said, "well gave you some idea of the prices that prevail. 'I saw,' said a young man, 'two pairs of pants for five shillings. 'I can let you have 'em for my own, for six shillings,' the dealer answered. 'The other three the trousers back into the barrow. 'I don't want a pair for Sundays, I want 'em for workin' in'.

MAKING IT FIT

The colored of a volunteer regiment camping in Virginia came across a private on the outskirts of the camp fully equipped with something. His face was very red and his lips seemed to move as if with the greatest effort. "What are you eating?" demanded the colonel. "Persimmons, sir." "Good heavens! Haven't you got any more sense than to eat persimmons at this time of the year? They'll pucker the very stomach out of you." "I know, sir," that's why I'm eatin' 'em. I'm tryin' to shrink my stomach to fit me rations."

MANY DON'T KNOW HEART AFFECTED.

More People Than are Aware of It Have Heart Disease. "If examinations were made of every one who walks about suffering from heart disease," said the expert, "I should like to say that heart disease is not common in the eyes of the expert. 'I got a man once that the number of persons going about with weak hearts must be very large. 'Hundreds of people go about their daily work on the verge of death, and yet do not know it. It is only when the shock comes that kills them that the unsuspected weakness of the heart is made apparent. 'But that is not all. Heart disease, not disease, is more prevalent nowadays. I should think that the stress of living, the wear and tear of modern business life, have a lot to do with heart trouble. 'There is an old saying that this is correct, and we would strongly advise every suffering in any way from heart trouble to try our Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets and NERVE PILLS.
