

CLEANING HOUSE

Dolly's clothes are on the line. Dolly's dishes fully cleaned. Dolly's home is swept off through. Chairs and tables look like new. Dolly's little mother, May, has been cleaning house today. Picture looks a pretty row. Such a pretty one she is. Games and blocks, ball put in place; on so tired, says little May. We have been cleaning house today.

THE FIRST SABBATH-SCHOOL BEGAN IN "SOUTY ALLEY"

"Hobby Wild Goose and his ragged regiment" was the name chosen after Robert Balkeys, the first modern Sunday-school advocate and his scholars. The thoroughfare was "Souty Alley," and the scholars were the ragged boys who toiled in the pin factories of Gloucester, England. Robert Balkeys paid Mrs. Bradburn, a poor woman, one shilling each Sunday to teach the boys the Bible. Three years later there were 250,000 boys and girls attending Sunday-school in the kingdom.

To-day the Sunday-school hour, in city or village, the civilized world over, resembles Littlepage land on dress parade. Streets leading to churches are bony with lads and lasses, most ragged, but dressed in their best, going happily to "learn the wondrous story." Thousands now do the work. Robert Balkeys started January Delinquent.

GOOD ADVICE

Cotton's Weekly, published at Cowansville, Que., gives a good deal of attention to the temperance question, and in a recent article, commenting on hotel values, it gives some sound advice to men in the liquor business in the following statements:

The value of hotel property has been going up. The prices paid for hotels with license attachment have been climbing skyward. To many thought it absurd if I had as though many hotel keepers will be sorry for their purchases unless they can afford on some one else at a higher price before hotel values begin to drop.

Moreover, a license is very precarious, and any year may see the license in a village cut off. With the cutting off of a license, hotel values must drop.

So popular is Bickles' Anti-Contusive Syrup as a medicine in the treatment of colds and coughs or ailments of the throat, due to exposure, to draughts or sudden changes of temperature, that all druggists and dealers in patent medicines keep supplies on hand to meet the demand. It is pleasant to take, and the use of it guarantees freedom from throat and lung diseases.

AN ENTERPRISING NOBLE-WOMAN

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Her marriage, Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

Many mothers have reason to bless Mother Gravas' Worm Externalizer, because it has relieved the little ones of suffering and made them healthy.

HER QUESTION

A colored woman of Alexandria was tried before a magistrate, charged with infanticide treatment of her offspring. Evidence was clear that the woman had severely beaten the youngster, aged nine years, who was in court to exhibit his battered condition. Before imposing sentence, the judge asked the woman what she had anything to say. "Kin I ask ye hona?" she replied. He inquired the prisoner. The judge nodded affirmatively. "Well, then, you hona, I'd like to ask yo' whether yo' was ever the parent of a perfectly worthless infant child."

HONORABLE WOMEN

Mister Walter, aged five, had eaten the soft portions of his toast at breakfast and piled the crusts on his plate. "When I was a little boy," remarked his father, "I always ate the crusts of my toast."

"Did you like them?" asked the little fellow, cheerfully.

"You," replied the parent.

"You may have these," replied Master Walter, pushing his plate across the table.—The January Delinquent.

WHEN FREDDY WENT VISITING

The Host.—Now, Freddy, what part of the turkey will you have?

Freddy.—I'll take a wing, the neck, some white meat off the breast, a drumstick, the gizzard, and some stuffing. Ma told me not to ask for a second helping.

A CONSCIENTIOUS ARCHITECT

Call—$1000 to put into a house, and I wish to select a design.

Honest Architect.—Yes, sir, John, show the gentelman the plans of our $10,000 house.

IMPATIENT SUSIE

"Oh, I can't stand this needle, ma." Was little Susie's cry. "Just as though I'm being through. The needle tickles me."

—Woman's Home Companion.

Make up your mind to act decidedly and take the consequences. No good is ever done in this world by hesitation.—Huxley.

CASETORIA.

"The Kind You Have Always Bought."

—John H. Fletcher.

SPARKLES

Five minutes after the tardy group had struck, the principal of the school was walking through the lower hall when he saw a puny little fellow scampering toward the first grade room as fast as his fat legs could carry him.

"See here, young man, I want to talk to you," called the principal to the late comer.

"I don't got time to talk to you; I'm late already," replied the breathless beginner, as the door of his classroom closed.

Mother.—"Why, Johnny! aren't you ashamed of yourself—striking your little brother?"

Johnny.—"I'm doing it for his own good, ma, and it hurts me more than it does him."

"What became of Nineveh?" asked a Sunday school teacher.

"It was destroyed," said Johnny promptly.

"And what became of Tyre?"

"Punished."

Young Mattie—I like natural decoration, but they say there are some creepers about a house which are very annoying in their habits. Do you know what kind they are?

"Casty Old Bachelor (with a glint) Yes, madam, babbles."

The Happiest Hour.—He—"Do you think the night I proposed to you?"

Sue—"Yes, dear."

He—"We sat for one hour, and you never opened your mouth."

Sue—"Yes, I remember, dear."

He—"Ah, that was the happiest hour of my life!"

CAUSE AND EFFECT

The story goes that in the recent Presidential election campaign in the United States, a Republican orator concluded his speech with the announcement that he would be glad to answer argument put forward by the other side.

An old Irish-American citizen accepted the challenge.

"Eight years ago," he said, "they told us not to vote for Bryan, an' that we'd be prosperous. Did we vote for Bryan, an' O've never been so prosperous in me life, an' now, begorrah, O'm goin' to vote for him again!"

HEADACHE.

Burdock Blood Bitters.

What Medical Skill Could Not Do Was Accomplished with Burdock Blood Bitters.

COULD NOT WORK.

Miss Mabel Wright, Munroe, N.H., writes: "I have a bad headache which a doctor could not cure. I took a dose of this bitter twice a day, mouth, blisters, and it relieved me. I am now well again. I was not able to drink house-keep and doctor no longer. Several doctors and dentists in the vicinity of a friend I got to see him, and he prescribed this. I am well again. I am now, begorrah, O'm goin' to vote for him again!"

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

AN ENTERPRISING NOBLE-WOMAN

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.

The Viscountess Molesworth has found her jam factory so remunerative that she has decided to enlarge the plant before the beginning of the next summer. She has engaged an architect to have plans made. Lady Molesworth began to make all the jams and preserves for the household. Her friends liked her jam well that she finally decided to go into the business. An old housewife adjoining her home, Walter Hale, was re-roofed and fitted up as a factory, and a staff of expert women engaged to make jam under her direction. Next year she expects to double the number of her employees as well as the amount of her products.

DOCTORS.