SOFTENING MEPHLLANT IDEAL The tendancy of mankind to soften repellant ideas by pleasant or playful terms is as wide-spread as the tendency to vell physical ngliness, says F Make Crofton, writing on "Eaphenis Jems" in The Canadian Magazine, for March. Donth, "the King of Terrore," the bug-bear of all mortals save philosophers and devotees, is described in many soothing terms and phrasos. The restfulness of death is suggested in such synonyms as falling asleep," and "entering into one's rost." 'The idea that to die is to join a vast and goodly company is conveyed in the expression "going over to the majority." . In some phrases dying is represented as a more change of scene; the dead are the "departed" or the "deceased," which means the same. On the principle of whistling to keep one's courage up, death is spoken of, in filppant slang, as "passing in one's checks" or "going to Davy Jones" locker." "Kicking the bucket" can hardly be called a suphemism, for the "buoket" in this phrase meant the cross beam to which the feet of the slaughtered pigs were tled. Archblahop Sandys, when in danger of being executed expressed his fears that he and his friends would be "made deacons of" -- a deacon's crown being usually shorn. Among criminale, hanging is spoken lightly of as being "stretched" or as "a dance upon

I bound up the hand in Zam-Buk, and each day applied Zam-Buk frequently and liberally, until the burn was quite oured. The little one was soon able to go on with her play, and we had no trouble with her during being stimulated, courses through the the time the burn was being healed. I feel very grateful for this cure, and would recommend all mothers to keep Zam-Buk handy for emergiencies like

This is good advice, Zam-Buk, being purely herbal in its composition, is particularly suited to the delicate skin of children. While a powerful healer, it is also highly antisoptic. Applied to a burn, a cut, a scald or a scratch-to any injury of the skin, in fact-it will kill all disease germs, and removes all danger of festering, blood-poleoning, or inflammation. At the same time, It atimulates the colls to great activity, and fresh healthy skin is soon produced to ropair the damage. Fifty cents epont on a box of Zam-link has saved scores of people as many dollars, to say nothing of saving hours
