Pole of Toronto Scottish Societies
We have much pleasure in presenting to our readers the portraits of two little folk who are the pets of all the Scottish societies in Toronto, Annie Ross and May Neill. As the exponents of national dances, they have very few equals—and certainly no superiors—in this or any other land. Their movements are graceful when grace is required; where the purpose is of a lively nature, and at all times, and in every character, their movements may aptly be referred to as embodying "the poetry of motion" and the perfection of grace. The Scottish societies of Toronto are under a deep debt of gratitude to those young people who have contributed to their amusements on very many occasions, and it is hoped that before long they will receive some tangible mark of the high esteem in which they are universally held. They are both pupils of Piper George Murray, who has good reason to be proud of them. Miss Annie Ross is the daughter of Mr. James Ross, formerly of Acton.

—Lever Brothers, Toronto, will send you free a cake of their famous Pileolol toilet soap, if you mention this paper.

Encouragement to E. P. Workers
During the past week Mr. and Mrs. William Grant have been visiting friends in Acton and vicinity and living over again scenes of long ago when they were esteemed residents here. On Sunday Mr. Grant visited the Methodist Sunday School and gave a very feeling and interesting address. Back to the school and seventies of the nineteenth century he was one of the most faithful teachers in the school. Reference was made to his old Sunday School Class, and it was stated among the members of this class there were Rev. T. Albert Moore, General Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Toronto; Rev. J. E. Farmer, D. D., pastor of First Methodist Church, Detroit, Ill.; Rev. C. A. Cook, D. D., pastor of First Church, Spokane, Wash.; Charles W. Hill, Chairman of the Board of the First Methodist Church, Montreal, Mich.; H. P. Moore, General Secretary of the A. E. Neill's, Associate Superintendent of the school. In reviewing the results accruing from the sound principles instilled and solid foundations laid by this earnest, congenial teacher of thirty or forty years ago, there is surely encouragement for the workers among the young people of to-day. Mr. Grant will always be a welcome visitor to his old Sunday School.

Visits Acton After Half a Century
Mrs. S. O. Palmer, of Minneapolis, Minn., has been the guest of William Henderson and other friends here the past week. Mrs. Palmer spent her girlhood days in Acton and is much interested in the development of the town, which has taken place since the time she used to walk the rows in the Lucius Adams' farm in the barnyard, where the Canada Glove Works and the Bowling Green are now situated, and pick berries and currants in the garden where the garden where the fine residence of D. Henderson, M. P., now stands. Mrs. Palmer was Miss Edith Thatcher, and made her home for years with the late Lucius Adams, one of the founders of Acton. Spoke with much interest of the late Alex. Brown Sr., as her Sunday School superintendent, and Miss Alice Adams as her teacher; of the time when Alex Hall was not only the magistrate of the township, but the doctor and dentist as well, and remembers yet the excruciating pain he caused her when he extracted the first tooth she ever lost with the turn-of-the-hand pliers. She also spoke of her respect for the services in the old Methodist Church when she was a member of the choir and the Thomas Moore pie which she was a tuning fork. Mrs. Palmer has not a number of the early residents and her visit has proven one of much interest.

Pretty Lawn Wedding in Minto
A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, July 7th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan, 2nd con., Minto, when their only daughter, Mary Ellen, was united in marriage to Mr. Samuel Sanders Lee. Presently at 5 o'clock the strains of the wedding march reverberated by Mrs. Oliver Nichol, the bridal party entered the lawn and stood beneath an arch of evergreen decorated with flowers. The bride looked very graceful and charming in her gown of white tulle silk trimmed with tucks and insertion. She wore a bridal veil and orange blossoms and carried a sheaf of white carnations. The bridesmaid was Miss Iona Lee, cousin of the groom. Her dress was of white organdy trimmed with tucks and insertion. She carried a sheaf of pink carnations. The groom was assisted by the bride's brother, Mr. Melvin McMillan. Little Miss Vera McMillan, cousin of the bride, made a pretty flower girl, daintily attired in white organdy, and carried the ring in a basket decorated with pink roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Granton, of the Palmerston Presbyterian Church. After the usual congratulations a dejeuner was served under a tent erected for the purpose. The presents were numerous and costly, including sums of money, which showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held. The guests numbered about 200, being present from Erin, Brantford, Hamilton, Palmerston and Mount Forest. The evening was spent in various amusements, after which the guests departed for their homes, all wishing the bride and groom many years of prosperity and happiness in their wedded life. They will settle on Mr. Lee's farm, 2nd con., Minto.

IF your baking goes wrong, investigate—find the cause. Look to your stove, your yeast, your baking methods.
If you succeed in pinning the trouble down to the flour—then take up the flour question in dead earnest.
Consider that flour, to be successful from a baking standpoint, must be fine to produce light bread or pastry, pure to make that bread or pastry wholesome, and rich in nutriment to make it nourishing.
