ON THINKING GLAD

Never enjoy a change of scene—
Try a change of thinking.
What if things seem odd, mean,
What's the use of blushing?
Life is not all work, nor is it all leisure; stars are shining;
Try to think your joys out loud,
Silence all replying.

By degrees, by thinking light,
Thinking glad I surely,
You're not the last of night.
Worry gone completely.
Get the habit going for
Humbane puncturing,
Tapping gaily at the door,
Bursts out for frolicing.

John Hendrick Blings.

HE SMOKED ON

Andrew Carnegie, at a recent dinner, told the following story:

I was travelling Londonward in an English railway train, when I saw a smoking carriage. At a roadside station a man leaped the train, sat down in my compartment, and lit a vile cigarette.

"This is not a smoking-carriage," said I.

"All right, governor," said the man. "I'll just finish this pipe here."

He finished it, then refilled it.

"Now here," I said. "I told you this wasn't a smoking-carriage."

You persist with that pipe, I shall report you at the next station to the guard."

"I handed him my card. He looked at it, pocketed it, but lit his pipe nevertheless. At the next station, however, he changed to another compartment.

"Calling the guard, I told him what had occurred, and demanded that the smoker's name and address be taken."

"Yes, sir," said the guard, and hurried away. A little while he returned. "He seemed rather awed."

He bent over me, and said apologetically:

"Do you know, sir, if we were to I would not prosecute that gent. He is just given me his card. Here it is. He is Mr. Andrew Carnegie."

A CHRISTIAN SCIENCE STORY

A well-known physician who is somewhat skeptical as to the soundness of Christian Science doctrine tells this story of an ardent Babbitt and her little boy: The mother was crossing the field with her little son when a goat appeared and came toward them threateningly, to the dismay of the youngster, who shrank in terror behind his mother's skirt. Her members of her belief she tried to re-

"Why, Georgia, absurdly enough, as the goat continued to advance, don't you know that you're a Christian Science little boy, that there's no such thing as pain, and that it would be useless for the goat to try to hurt you? Don't you know that?"

"Yes," wailed the doubling believer between sobs, "I know it, and you know it, but the goat don't know it!"

Caught Cold By Working In Water.

Dressing, Tickling Senses in the Throat.

Mr. Albert MacPhee, Chicago Miner, writes: "In Oct., 1908, I caught cold by working in water, and had a very bad cough and that distressing tickling sensation in my throat so I could not sleep at night, and my lungs were so very sore I had to give up work. Our doctor gave me medicine but did me no good so I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and by the time I had used two bottles I was entirely cured. I am always recommending it to my friends."
