EDITORIAL NOTES

The Herald is pleased that the County Council, by a majority, has decided in favor of good roads. The $8,000 received by the county last year from the government was worth having, and we may have more. But the council should do the fair thing by the towns and villages.—Georgetown Herald.

The avoidance of serious commercial interruptions in Canada threatened in the Payne-Aldrich maximum tariff clause, effected by the concession of so few changes in our tariff, may surely be regarded generally as good evidence of statesmanship on the part of the Cabinet Ministers, who were invited to confer with President Taft. More than this, the proposed conference looking to closer trade relations between the two countries will undoubtedly result in bringing Canada and the United States together in mutually advantageous reciprocal trade relationships.

The canals of Canada during 1909 carried what was, perhaps, the largest volume of traffic in their history. The freight which passed through amounted to 33,720,749 tons, as compared with 17,592,820 in 1908. This was an increase of 16,217,928 tons, or 93 per cent. in one year. To give an idea of the measure of increase which has taken place year by year in the freight traffic through Canadian canals it may be stated that three years ago the total traffic was only 10,523,183 tons, and ten years ago it was only 5,013,033 tons; so that last year it was nearly seven times as much as it was ten years ago.

That the Ohio brewers have sent to President Taft intimations amounting to threats of what they will do if he antagonizes them in the fall campaign is about the only piece of political luck he has had for some time. This is not to deny that the brewers have power in politics. Of course they have, but nowadays they can exercise it only when the fact of its exercise is kept secret from the general public. We are not yet all prohibitionists by any means; but there are few of us who have not made up our minds that the liquor interest never exerts itself politically except for the most selfish ends, and that its methods are invariably those of falsehood and corruption.—New York Times.

While the big advertisements of stock brokers of the George Munroe class, are largely confined to metropolitan dailies, it is from the readers in smaller cities and towns that they draw their dupes. Saturday Night has to date exposed George Munroe, The Hartlett Silver Mines, The Universal Signal Co., The Barna Taxi-Cab Co., The California-Alberta Oil Co., The Chicago-Alberta Oil Co., Mackintosh's Toffee, Ltd., Estables, Limited and now Patriarche & Co., Over five million dollars of shares, intended for the public, and partially fed to them, have been rendered worthless and the companies forced out of existence. Two promoters have landed in jail three have skipped out.

It is stated that Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, has plans for a new liquor license bill for the next session of the Legislature, which will include many important changes. The bill proposes the abolition of the local boards of license commissioners and inspectors, and will provide for a central board for the entire province of five commissioners. In some respects it will have functions similar to, those of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board. As a tribunal it will deal with all license appeals and the granting of licenses. The absence of a clause in the act passed this session providing for the taking of a local option vote within a year after a contest, in which the majority was over 50 per cent. and less than the required 60 per cent., is said to be due to the intention of Mr. Hanna to bring down a more comprehensive measure at the next session.

The Chicago Canadian-American says: A trade war between Canada and United States would be disastrous to both. While the Americans are flocking to Canada's fertile prairies, the Canadians are steadily increasing their patronage of United States industries. Each is in pressing need of each other, and every lover of Anglo-Saxon unity will hope that prevailing conditions will go on world without end. The present is a good time to reiterate the truth that co-operation and commingling is quite feasible without annexation. There may be platonic affection in this instance, without the international love affair going any further. President Taft and Finance Minister Fielding, in their recent interviews, drew the cords of fraternity closer together, and became boosters of business on both sides of the border. They did not in any way weaken Canada's allegiance to Britannia, or give Uncle Sam a firmer grip on King Edward's domains to the north.

MISSION WORK IN WEST CHINA

Rev. E. W. Morgan, B. A., Who is Home on Furlough, Gives Interesting and Effective Addresses

LARGE MISSIONARY OFFERINGS

The congregation of the Methodist Church was favored last Sunday with interesting and instructive addresses on the work of the Church in West China, by Rev. E. W. Morgan, B. A., a missionary fresh from the field, and full of enthusiasm respecting the great work undertaken there by the Canadian Methodist Church.

In the morning Rev. Mr. Morgan based his address on St. Paul's words in Romans 1, 15, "I am a debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians, both to the wise and unwise, so as much as in me is I am ready to preach the gospel." We are here this morning, he said, because we believe the Christian religion is the absolute religion. If our religion is not true we had better change it; if it is true it is distinctly our duty and privilege to propagate it. As followers of Christ in these favored Christian lands we have been perplexingly slow in learning God's lessons: 1st, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and 2nd, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. This principle Jesus lived in his life. It is a great day for any man when he puts his life into consistent relationship with Christ's life. Missions is the only legitimate reason for the existence of the Church. I do not mean foreign missions only when I say that. So long as there are unsaved souls the Church must be a missionary institution. It was missions established in the wilds of Canada by Churches of Great Britain and the United States which laid the foundations of the Christian country we now enjoy. May we be as true to those whom God has given us to reach, as were those who helped us. The objective of Paul's whole life was missions. The great question of the day is how much of my time, my money, my interest, my thought, my prayers, should I give to missions. Is Paul's the standard for me? How much? Listen to Paul's answer, "As much as in me is." It is the whole duty of the whole Church to give the whole gospel to the whole world, and do it as quickly as we can.

Special emphasis was then laid upon mission work in West China, because in the recent conference of the churches, in apportioning the work in heathen lands so that there would be no overlapping in the mission work undertaken, a large section of West China was allotted to the Methodist Church of Canada. Our debt to China, said Rev. Mr. Morgan, is only limited by China's need and our ability to meet that need. If China has need and we have ability, we have a definite debt to China. We have a debt at home, to the French population, to the Indians, to the Europeans and Asiatics coming to our shores. We must Canadianize them or Christianize them or our own country will suffer. We have the ability to do all this and still have ability to embrace the opportunity open to us in China. China's great need to-day is Christian education and Christian leadership. She is going to have education; it is ours to see that it is Christian education. She is to-day the focus of the world's attention. Travellers, scientists, business men, the nations, are interested in China to-day. The Christian Church ought to be interested in China. When Egypt flourished, China was flourishing. Egypt, Greece, Rome and their greatness are all gone, while China which lived then with them, lives to-day as a nation. She is moving to-day to a greater nationhood which means danger to other nations and perhaps to herself. The Christian Church is not the only organization which is working in China to-day. Men of evil design are there from the West as well. But the Christian Church has an opportunity now of giving to China the supremest thing—the love of Jesus Christ. They need most the blessed news of his life and his love. They need a new religion which will tell them of our God, who will give them the comfort which their cold brass idols do not.

In the evening Rev. Mr. Morgan gave a most interesting resume of what the Church is doing in West China. He described very vividly the important work which is being accomplished in the four departments of work now in active operation: 1, The hospital and medical work, the forerunner of the gospel; 2, The printing establishment, which is disseminating millions of pages of the gospels and religious literature in the language of the people; 3, The educational work where the children are educated and brought into touch with Christian life and character, and 4, The evangelistic work, with the direct proclamation of the gospel truth. All departments have the one object in view and are contributive to the great object of bringing the people to Christ.

His address to the Sunday School in the afternoon was listened to with keenest interest by the scholars, and as he described the Chinese boys and girls they felt a new zeal in adding to send them the good news of Jesus and his love for all. The missionary offerings of the Church this year will be about $600.

Rev. Mr. Morgan's visit and his wealth of information will give the congregation a new and intelligent interest in the missions of West China.

The April number of the Canadian Magazine is unusually strong and attractive, with a list of contributors including Robert Barr, the well-known Canadian novelist; Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec Province; Albert R. Carman, chief editorial writer for The Montreal Star. The number is highly interesting and very worthy of its name throughout.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

"And all for the want of a horseshoe nail," was the summing up of the causes leading to the loss of the rider we read of. How often trifles do incur serious consequences. The last Saturday Evening Post records the case of a West Virginia horse thief in the 60's who was sentenced to two years imprisonment, but whose attorney discovered that the indictment said "W. Virginia," claiming that the sentence was not legal. The prisoner agreed with him and the decision was eventually upset.

When our citizens learned a couple of weeks ago that the reversal of the recent conviction in the local liquor case, hinged on the omission of a few words, in the original information, there was keen disappointment felt that the proverbial violation of the liquor law in Acton was so easily triumphant.

Was the phenomenon of so many marriages a week ago the result of the vernal equinox, or was it merely conjunction of planets?

After several years' experience in Court work, our local Division Court Clerk has won his own case — in another jurisdiction.

The Council will need to consider the question of widening the pavements, if there is going to be a steady advance in the dimensions of feminine head-gear, else the men of Acton will have to adopt the Englishman's style, and take to the middle of the street.

Here is a legal query... If a person should enter one of our churches and sit down with an umbrella hoisted, and keep it so, to the obstruction of the privilege of seeing the speaker addressing the audience, is the action indictable?

How little the admonition in "Health hints" of current journalism as to the admission of fresh air into sleeping rooms are heeded may be observed by noting the small percentage of open windows in the homes along our streets. Those who have to go to the early train or early work, or who take early strolls in the fresh air may well deplore their fellow-citizens who, for the sake of warmth, have been refusing admittance to nature's great health medium, and at the same time making themselves more liable to "ammonia, or Information of the lungs," whichever it is.

Do you think this weather is going to last? This query has had ample opportunity of an answer the last two weeks, any one could answer it. The old-timers are searching their memories for precedents and they are hard to find. One citizen who makes a kind of specialty of reminiscences has been telling that forty years ago last Monday there was the worst snow-storm he ever know, and he know a few before that time and a great many since.

Little Digesters are a Great Help to Mr. John F. Becker

The weight of years very often brings with it a still heavier burden, that of Indigestion or some form of Stomach Trouble.

Then "Little Digesters" come to the rescue—If you give them a chance, as did Mr. Becker. Here is his letter telling what they did for him:

"New Dundee, Nov. 10, 1909.

TO THE COLEMAN MEDICINE CO.

Dear Sirs,—

I was for a long time troubled with bloating after meals, and my tongue was always coated. Seeing the "Little Digesters" advertised I bought a box, and they took all that trouble away, but I thought one box would not be enough so I sent to you for more. They are a great help to my body.

Yours truly,
JOHN F. BECKER.

Excuse my writing with pencil, being an old man of 74."

"Little Digesters" aid the feeble stomach to digest the food perfectly. This means that you can enjoy every meal, and get the strength out of what you eat, if you take a "Little Digester" afterwards.
