THE LATE ELI SNYDER

Passed Peacefully Away at His Home in Toronto last Friday Evening.

REMEMBER ACTON MANY YEARS.

On Tuesday morning 7th inst., Mr. Eli Snyder, Toronto, who had been in somewhat feeble health since he received a paralytic stroke three years ago, went to South Yorkminster station and took a train to Guelph, turning away from the latter last when he again struck.

He was being cared for by several gentlemen standing near by, when the train from Oakville pulled in and Mr. J. P. Snyder, his son, stepped off. He found the "sufferer" was his father and had been confined to the family residence at 113 Springhurst Ave. He lay in a semi-comatose condition for a week and then relapsed into unconsciousness, gradually growing weaker until Friday evening when he died.

Mr. Snyder was the son of the late Jacob Snyder, and he was born in Erin township on August 21st, 1861. During his boyhood his father removed to 30th Street, Kitchener, and Mr. Snyder spent his youth in that town.

He married on January 11th, 1887, to Miss Mabel, oldest daughter of the late Fred Heintz. Their golden wedding was arranged for Christmas Day, 1909, 12 days before the happy event.

Mr. Snyder's wife leaves him a widow, and his son, Mr. Eli, is the sole survivor of the family.

Mr. Eli Snyder is a builder and always aimed to excel in his work. He erected a number of the best buildings in town and improved architectural designs gave an impulse to a better class of residences in Acton.

Mr. Eli Snyder, the builder, died in 1904, but his wife, Mrs. Mary Snyder, still lives in Acton.
