BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS

—December—Last month.

The merry sleigh bells are welcome again.

—It's December—Time for holiday shopping.

—Slugs and cutters were running yesterday quite freely.

—The snowy mantle pretty effectively covers nature now.

—Every store glove ample evidence that Christmas is coming.

—It is to be hoped that the turnips have been pulled up well.

—A couple of inches more of snow would ensure excellent sledding.

—The Young People Christmas number will be issued next Thursday.

—Plans are out for a new Merchants' Bank building at Oakville. It is prominent position.

—Monday's ice storm was not so disastrous to fruit and shade trees as the ones of a year ago.

—Have you ordered your extra copies of the Foxglove Christmas number? Order to-day.

—Mr. H. L. Gregory and family have moved to their pretty new brick home on Church Street.

—The French Puncto, at the end of 1911, with the splendid Christmas number, to new subscribers $1.00.

—The Sons of England intend holding a Christmas Social on Friday evening, December 2nd. All fellow-scoutmen are invited.

—The Oakville News has been enlarged and the subscription price increased to $1.00 per annum. The News is now on the same footing as the other newspapers of the country.

—Now that December has come every citizen should begin to shop early to lessen the extra pressure of work which during the holiday season falls upon the salespeople.

—Ex-Councillor James Erwin, of Nassagawaya, has purchased the James Quaintie farm and will remove to Acton. Acton will cordially welcome Mr. Erwin as a new citizen.

—The members of the Epworth League are dressing dolls and making toys for the Deafness Home Christmas Tree. Tuesday evening, with that will be "Doll's Night" at the League.

—It was the Oakville Record which removed to larger premises a few weeks ago, and not the Star, as was stated in those columns. The Record is making progress and building up a fine business in Oakville.

—Rev. J. C. Wilson, B. A., conducted a song service at Ryan's on Sunday evening, giving an interesting sketch of the circumstances which inspired the composition of each hymn. It was most interesting and helpful service.

AN EVENING WITH THE CHOIRS

Major Parsons, Chalmersmaster of Georgetown, Provides an Unique and Enjoyable Event

The conception of Major W. Parsons, chalmersmaster of Georgetown Methodist Choir, of getting the choir of the Methodist Churches of the neighborhood together for a musical and social evening, was novel, and the consummation was a thoroughly enjoyable and interesting event.

The choir were invited to meet in Georgetown on Monday evening, the event being intended by Major Parsons as a fitting climax to the successful anniversary services held on Sunday.

Unfortunately for the complete success of the arrangement, the weather was unpropitious and several of the choirs intending to be present were unable to do so owing to the storm prevailing. However, Ashgrove, Acton, and Georgetown assembled in full force and a delightful programme of songs and solo solos and quartettes was rendered.

Ashgrove had 10 members, Acton 20 and Georgetown 28. Each of the choirs sang two anthems, Ashgrove and Georgetown furnished numbers by male quartettes, and Miss Burt Smith, Acton, and Miss Nixon, of Ashgrove, sang solos.

The anthems by the choirs were all highly creditable and each of the leaders came in for praise for the degree of efficiency attained in execution and interpretation of church music. For the size of the choir the Ashgrove girls deserve special praise. In her solo Miss Herle Smith sang with exquisite skill and splendid volume. Miss Nixon's "sweet-tones" and true rendering of every note were much enjoyed.

Rev. Dr. Clark, the pastor, occupied the chair and both he and Major Parsons extended a very cordial welcome to the visitors.

Brief addresses were made during the evening by Messrs. H. P. Moore, Harry Reid, Joe M. Moore and Rev. W. E. Hindson, of the Baptist Church.

At the close of the programme Major Parsons invited the visiting choirs and their friends and the members of the Quarterly and Trustee Boards of the church to the school room to partake in an oyster supper which all enjoyed thoroughly.

During the supper Mr. Williams, leader of the Acton choir, in graceful strains moved a hearty vote of thanks to Major Parsons and the Georgetown choir for the very jolly evening provided. The words recited by Mr. Morrison, of the Ashgrove choir, and tendered to the Major and his choir by Dr. Clark.

For over twenty years Tim Weekly Sun, Toronto, has occupied an enviable position, diligently serving the Ontario families. It is edited for their particular benefit and a special effort will be made during the coming year to make it even more practical value than ever before. All interested in farming should read The Sun.

NEWS OF LOCAL IMPORT.

Frands Firth Co. Coming
The Canadian Order of Woodmen have engaged the Frands Firth Co. for one of their popular entertainments to be given on Friday evening, Dec. 2d. December. The company has been strengthened and give a very interesting entertainment.

Getting Ready for New Presents
Mr. George J. Wallace expects to get into his fine new clothing store for the Christmas trade, and in order to have a large stock ready for the early shipment of Christmas goods, opened a big romance sale in his old premises yesterday. He expects to clear out a large portion of his present stock within ten days.

Boy Scouts' Birthday Party
A pleasant evening was spent at the Scout's drill hall on Saturday, when a small tea was given by Asst. Scout Master Fogg as a birthday celebration. About 35 down to tea, after which Rev. Mr. Kellerman proposed the health of the King and many happy returns of the day to Mr. Fogg. The remainder of the evening was spent in games, songs, etc.

Old-fashioned garments, natural, unfamiliar to five-year-old Helen. Recently she was looking at the pictures in a somewhat amateur magazine, and observed an engraving of a woman equipped with a fan-spreading umbrella. "Oh, mamma, look," she exclaimed. "There's a foolish lady who's wearing her hat for a skirt!" —Woman's Home Companion for December.

The House of Ifs
According to the Commissioners' report, presented to the County Council last week, there were 31 inmates in the Halton-Peel House of Refuge on the 18th inst., 10 males and 4 females from Peel and 10 males and 1 female from Halton. One male and one female, both from Peel, died since June 1st, two abandoned, both males, and one female was taken away by relatives.

Rev. D. D. Mann, D. D.

In an interesting sketch of Mr. D. D. Mann, D. D., of the M. E. Church, the Rev. Augustus Briddle, in his article entitled, "The Man who does a Day's Work," says: "Intended by his Presbyterian father at Acton for a preacher, if Dan Mann had gone into theology so thoroughly as he has gone into railroading the world would have lost its best. He is a man of great energy and ability, and will be a success."
