EDITORIAL NOTES

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' estimate the census to be commenced June 1st will show the total population of Canada to be nearly 8,000,000. In 1901 it was 5,371,000. The estimate is largely based on the immigration figures for the past ten years, and the natural increase during that period.

Dr. Hobbs, Guelph, Supreme Medical Examiner, speaking at the annual convention of the Supreme Circle of the Order of Canadian Home Circles, at Toronto, last week, said, working at high pressure had become a habit of to-day, and that it must result, sooner or later, in nervous collapse, unless it were alternated with proper rest and recreation.

The statement of the Canadian banks for February shows increases in the bank circulation, in savings deposits, in loans; decreases in deposits on demand and in call loans. The note circulation was $79,027,785 on February 28th, an increase during the month of $2,816,814. The demand deposits amounted to $258,300,503, a decrease of $10,817,977. Savings deposits increased by $1,649,804 to $551,424,373. Current loans in Canada show an increase during the month of $6,728,086, namely from $683,506,005 in January to $690,234,781 at the end of February.

A report from Winnipeg states that the winter just closing has been the best in years in regard to lumbering and bush work in the province of Manitoba. Twenty thousand men have been employed and have piled up a lumber cut that will go near to one hundred and fifty million board feet, and this in the territory tributary to Winnipeg alone. Four million ties, two hundred and fifty thousand poles, and two hundred thousand cords of wood are other items in the winter's cut, which cost in wages half a million dollars and will give the Winnipeg market the nearest to a sufficient supply that it has had for a long time.

Despite the fact that reciprocity does not stand much chance of being settled one way or the other for some time to come, Canadian industries are booming, and there is a feeling of the utmost confidence pervading the atmosphere breathed by those who have money tied up in Canadian industrial securities. The severe depressions which have prevailed during the past twelve months in such staples as cement, [illegible] and asbestos are now lifting and legitimate business is getting back to a normal basis again. On the whole industrial stocks and bonds have never been looked upon more favorably than now.

CREWSONS CORNERS

The first day of spring had a very promising appearance.

A large number of sugar maples have been tapped in this locality this spring.

Mr. H. Damper removed to Mr. W. Lambert's farm on Monday. We are pleased that this esteemed family are not leaving this locality.

Mr. Wm. Frier, who rented Mrs. McKinnon's farm near Knatchbull, will remove there next week. We are sorry to lose Mr. Frier and his family from this neighborhood.

The residents of this locality are very much opposed to the closing of the railway crossing and the diverting of the road to the present subway. If the crossing is to be closed then a new subway should be built. We are very grateful to the reeves of the different municipalities who took such a strong stand in favor of a new subway before the Railroad Commissioners in Toronto recently.

Miss Nettie Wansborough, of Toronto, spent a few days last week at her home here.

Miss Annie Crewson is visiting friends in Milton.

Mr. L. Allison removed to Rockwood last week. He will leave shortly for the Northwest where he has taken up land.

Mr. E. Kingsbury has moved on to Mr. W. Y. Grey's farm, which he has rented.

Mr. Will Graham, of Knox College, Toronto, was home for the week-end.

MIMOSA

One of the most successful sales that has been held in the county for some time was that of S. Hamilton, near Living Springs, Carafaxa. Everything went at top prices—aged sows from $50.00 to $68.00 and young sows $30.00 to $35.00. The hogs were mostly bred from R. J. Kerr's prize-winning stock. R. J. Kerr wielded the hammer.

FARMERS' BANK SHAREHOLDERS

D. Henderson, M. P., Asks for Royal Commission for Investigation of Origin and Operation

RESOLUTION WAS NOT CARRIED

Ottawa, March 20th—For two days last week the resolution of Mr. David Henderson, M. P., calling for the immediate appointment of a Royal Commission to investigate the circumstances surrounding the origin, operation and end of the Farmers' Bank, commanded the attention of the House of Commons. Mr. Henderson has taken a large interest in the matter since the failure, involving serious financial losses to many of the people of Halton who are shareholders and depositors in the ill-fated bank.

In adressing the House he said he spoke generally as a Canadian, but more particularly and personally for his constituents, who were deeply interested. In the small county of Halton there was subscribed in Farmers' Bank stock $196,200, involving the double liability, and deposits amounting to $60,581. The probable loss to the people of Halton was accordingly $461,961. To many it meant the savings of a lifetime and more. Many had had to put mortgages on their farms to meet their obligations, and the majority were so advanced in years that there was no opportunity for them to lift the mortgages. "What I want to find out," said Mr. Henderson, "is who is responsible for this great trouble brought on the people." He maintained that the Treasury Board had granted the certificate to the bank in violation of the conditions of the banking act. He believed the board was misled, but alleged that the members did not take the necessary time to investigate.

Mr. Henderson read the reply of the Minister of Finance to a question by Mr. Foster, to the effect that before the issue of the charter the Government had not received in any form, verbal or written, any information affording grounds for its refusal. As he had found every evidence of irregularities, and as he was interested by reason of the large number of his constituents who had invested in the bank stock, Mr. Henderson said he had himself gone to the Minister of Finance previous to the issue of the certificate and laid the conditions before him. The Minister had received him courteously, and had told him that in view of the conditions represented he would hold the certificate back as long as he could. "I left the Minister," continued Mr. Henderson, "believing that the matter was in the strong hands of a strong man in a position to defend my constituents and prevent them from being defrauded."

Hon. Mr. Fielding rose. "I am sorry," said he, "to interrupt at the present time, but I must tell my honorable friend that I will have to take exception to that statement later on."

"I am sorry to hear the Minister say that," replied Mr. Henderson, "for I have a very distinct recollection of the occasion of the words, and I give them to the House as a member desiring to have the House fully understand."

Mr. Henderson maintained that had the Finance Department exercised proper care to protect all interests no certificate would have been issued to the bank.

Dealing with Mr. Henderson's assertion that the latter had specifically warned him against issuing the certificate, Mr. Fielding declared that, while he did not doubt the good faith and honesty of the member for Halton, he was obliged to take direct issue with him in this respect. "I am bound to say," said Mr. Fielding, "that he is mistaken when he says he warned me not to issue the certificate. All my conversations with him arose out of my objections in the committee to granting the charter at all. If matters had ever taken the shape where I had to choose between the word of Mr. Henderson and that of Mr. Travers, I would certainly have accepted the statements of the former, in whose truthfulness I have every confidence. But I am bound to say that his memory is wrong as to what really occurred."

Mr. Henderson interrupted to again declare that he had explicitly warned Mr. Fielding against the issuing of the certificate, and repeated his former statements.

Mr. Fielding said that the House would have to judge as to whose memory was at fault. He noted that if the member for Halton had felt so keenly about the matter it was strange that he did not put his views on record and communicate in writing with the department.

Mr. Henderson explained that he had not done so because he did not wish to be quoted as saying something which might possibly be construed into an attempt to wreck the bank.

Reviewing the circumstances leading up to the issuing of the certificate, Mr. Fielding declared that there had been no haste in its issue, but that the department had adopted the usual course of seeing that all the preliminary conditions had been fulfilled. He said that while he deeply sympathized with the unfortunate victims of Mr. Travers' duplicity, he could not see that the circumstances warranted the Government in relieving the shareholders from the double liability, or in appointing a Royal Commission. The liquidator was fully authorized to investigate all the financial operations of the bank since its organization, and all matters were now on record before the House which could throw any light on the circumstances surrounding the granting of the certificate. A Royal Commission could bring out no new facts.

Sir Alan Aylesworth, who spoke after midnight, demonstrated the fallacy of the recriminations which had been hurled all day at the Minister of Finance and the Treasury Board. He endorsed the position taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier last night that the present was not the time to take action calculated to return the best results. The proceedings of the courts will be noted and the Government may subsequently consider the wisdom of any special action.

The vote being taken the resolution was defeated by 97 to 62.

Citizens Protest Against Junk Yards and Other Abuses of Streets in Town

A SMALL FINANCE DOCKET

The sixth report of the Committee on Finance was presented and recommended payment of accounts as follows:

Can. Gen. Electric Co., supplies	$37 15
Sunbeam Lamp Co., "	7 74
G. H. Wheeler, cartage, etc.	4 25
Alex. Moore, work at cemetery	1 50
Beardmore & Co., tile	1 25
Acton Tanning Co., tile and valve	1 80
	$54 00

The report was adopted.

The Public School Board asked permission to borrow money for current expenses.

Moved by Alex. Bell, seconded by A. T. Brown, that permission is hereby given the Public School Board to negotiate such loans as may be necessary to meet the current expenses of the Board until the school rates for the year are levied and collected.—Carried.

The by-law conveying a part of Guelph and Queen Streets to Beardmore & Co., was read the required number of times and passed.

This is the point where the new siding will cross the street. It is expected that work will be commenced on the new line as soon as spring opens. The matter is now being referred to the Railway Commissioners.

Messrs. John R. Kennedy, John A. Mowat and E. Macklin addressed the Council asking if some protection could not be given citizens, and the appearance of the town generally, against the opening of junk yards on the principal streets, building stables adjacent to residences on adjoining lots, and other abuses which tend to reduce the value of property in the vicinity, and give streets an untidy and forbidding appearance. They felt that every citizen should be interested in beautifying and rendering attractive all properties and the streets upon which they are located, and that the Council should put into effect all the powers of which they are possessed to assist in this desirable outcome.

The Council assured the citizens who appealed to them that they would do everything in their power to abolish or prevent nuisances. Unfortunately their powers are limited; but they were prepared to give matters complained of due consideration.

The Council then adjourned.

ROCKWOOD

The past winter has been one of the best shipping seasons Rockwood ever had. The turnip buyers have made many shipments, while the shipment of cattle and hogs has been unusually heavy.

The concert in the town hall under the auspices of the Public Library Board on Tuesday evening of last week, was a gratifying success. The hall was comfortably filled by an appreciative audience. The work of the Public Library is progressing very favorably, the membership for the year being now nearly fifty; seventy new volumes have been added recently and fifty-four in a travelling library case.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, of Eden Mills, entertained a large company of Guelph young folk on Wednesday evening.

The temperance hotel, under the splendid management of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Watson, continues to grow in popularity. Numbers of commercial travellers stay there in preference to Acton or Georgetown hotels.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Necessary Improvements to School Property Being Considered

The Board of Education met on Friday evening at the call of the Chairman.

Members present: D. M. Henderson, Chairman, Wm. Thomas, J. A. Mowat and J. Williams.

The Committee on Finance presented their third report and recommended payment of accounts as follows:

Nelson & Co., supplies	$ 2 30
R. W. Chisholm & Co., car coal	31 07
Grand Trunk Railway, freight and duty	67 18
Wm. Anderson, teaming coal	7 40
	$107 95

The report was adopted.

The Secretary reported that coal to the value of $11.17 had been disposed of, the whole car not being required.

The Janitor handed in $0.00 received for outside work.

A resolution was passed authorizing the Chairman and Treasurer to borrow money for current expenses.

Mr. Mowat thought it would be interesting information if the Principal would give a monthly report showing the enrollment in each department and the average attendance.

The Janitor suggested that the cement walks at the school be extended around the school and to the outbuildings in the rear.

The Property Committee will consider this and some other matters requiring attention.

The matter of new treads for the front stairway will also be considered by this Committee.

The Board adjourned at 9.15.

—because Psychine (Si-Keen) is its own best advertisement. Read this offer:

You know the "know-it-alls." Suspicious of everybody and everything.

They promised well at one time in their career, then they seemed to come to a full stop.

Just because of that unhappy distrust, that suspicion that won for them the same attitude in return, that made every one distrust and dislike them.

Now you're not a "know-it-all." Only about one per cent. of the people are.

We feel sure that you have an open receptive mind—one that is anxious to learn more, to advance.

And to you we say that you owe it to your own best judgment to try Psychine.

* * *

Every now and then we come to a certain epoch in medicine when we think advance or improvement impossible.

Then some one comes along and the whole school of medicine is overturned, new and apparently indisputable theories, all good, all progressive.

In the progress of medicine we sometimes discover new values in old things.

One of these is in the efficacy of certain herbs to cure disease.

And the reason they cure is that they increase and strengthen the white corpuscles of the blood—the Phagocytes—the scavengers of the body, devouring every germ of disease that gains entrance to the body.

A third of a century ago, Psychine was compounded of certain herbs.

Since that time it has cured hundreds of thousands.

And all because it contained those herbs that science now knows builds up and strengthens the white corpuscles of the blood—the Phagocytes.

If you have any of these ailments don't be a "know-it-all," it won't pay you.

This book amplifies and expands the narrative of TWICE-BORN MEN in many much-required ways.

In the first book the instances of conversion were of the elemental, unreasonable type. Souls in Action deals with cases in which the dynamic change of conversion was completed through struggle on the part of the individual—a progressive struggle of the will, even after the heart had been persuaded, covering days, weeks, and in one case, years.

The first book recorded the testimony of men of the baseless classes, some of them the very lees and dregs; Souls in Action deals with persons of a higher strata of society, whose natures, being more complex, have in them a greater capacity for intellectual self-distrust. These instances, therefore, bring out in a striking manner the permanent and divine elements of the subtle force.
