IN MEMORIAM

Wallace—In loving remembrance of Rosanna O'Neil, beloved wife of Benjamin Wallace, who died March 26th, 1910.

A year has passed—dear mother,
Since she was called away;
Lonely hearts will always linger
Around the grave where mother's laid.

A loving mother, true and kind,
No friend on earth like her we find;
Our parting was hard, our loss severe,
And oft is shed a silent tear.

Her smiling face we'll not forget,
Though years may fade away;
The loss of her we sadly feel,
As keen as the first day.

Now our hearts are sad and lonely;
How we miss her, none can tell;
But we know she's free from trouble,
For God doeth all things well.

Now she waits in yonder mansion;
Waits to welcome us all home;
May we each go there to greet her,
When our call to heaven shall come.

DAUGHTER MAGGIE.

EDITORIAL NOTES

In view of the fact that the annexation of the Bahama Islands by Canada seems to be well within the realm of possibility, it is interesting to note that several of our Canadian banks already have branches in the principal towns of the Islands and that the Islanders are particularly friendly to Canada and Canadians. The result of the union would be a great growth in the trade which, even now has reached fairly respectable proportions. The area of the islands is about 4,500 square miles and the population about 65,000. The chief industry is sponge gathering but the islands grow immense quantities of fruit and vegetables.

Any man who has a habit of beating his better half will, after this, get a taste of his own medicine if he happens to be hailed before judges or magistrates sharing the opinions of Judge Langelier, of Montreal. For the first time in many years a sentence, with the cat-o'-nine-tails added to it, was pronounced by His Lordship the other day. He also was good enough to warn all wife beaters that, if any of them ever appeared before him, they would catch the same punishment. It is a peculiar fact, but none the less true, that almost every man criminally inclined fears the lash more than anything else. Governor Valleo of the Montreal jail is of the opinion that a large percentage of his boarders would be much more Christianly inclined were the cat-o'-nine-tails a little more freely applied.

Speaking on the question of the loyalty of Canada at the big reciprocity meeting at Montreal on Saturday evening, Hon. W. S. Fielding said: "As a boy, some fifty years ago I remember the visit of the late King, the then Prince of Wales. He visited us at the time of our reciprocity treaty, yet he found us loyal to the core. We traded freely with our neighbors, but our loyalty to the flag was not affected. The Prince returned to tell his mother, the Queen, of our loyalty and the friendliness of the United States. A new Prince is now in training for his duties as king. In a few years he will come to visit us, as his grandfather Edward the Peacemaker, came. He, too, will find us trading with our neighbors to the South, but loyal to the King and flag we love. He, too, will return to tell his sovereign father of our loyalty and devotion. We are not disloyal, and they speak falsely who charge us with disloyalty."

MR. AND MRS. J. W. BURNS ARE DROWNED IN B. C.

Were Passengers on the Foundered Steamer Sechelt from Victoria to Sooke

AFTER THEIR SON'S WEDDING

Monday's dailies had the following dispatch from Victoria, B. C. Rev. W. J. Burns and wife referred to are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Burns, formerly of Eramosa, near Rockwood:

Victoria, B. C., March 27—Thirteen was the death toll in the foundering of the steamer Sechelt, off Sooke Harbor, in the Straits of Juan de Fuca, on Friday afternoon.

Among the known dead are the Rev. W. J. Burns and wife, Presbyterian missionaries at Sooke, who had been in Victoria attending their son's wedding; J. S. Henderson, aged 22, of Cody, Wyoming, surveyor for the Canadian Northern; Captain James and Engineer H. Young.

The other victims were all Italians and Greek railway laborers. There were thirty-one people aboard, including four of the crew, when the steamer left Victoria. Of these eighteen passengers refused to proceed beyond William Head, because of the rough weather, and debarked.

An Indian on Beechey Bay was the only witness of the disaster. Through him news was sent to Victoria, and the tug William Jolliffe went to the rescue. After cruising about the place of the wreck for hours the tug returned to Victoria and reported that no trace of the Sechelt could be found afloat or ashore.

Henry Charles, the Indian, was gathering wood on Beechey Bay at 5.30 p. m. yesterday and saw the Sechelt was three miles off Beechey Head as the gale struck her, and she leaned over and swung around as though she intended to run across the strait to Port Crescent on the American side. The small craft had hardly turned broadside to the wind when she righted, then went over and lay on her side.

The Indian watched the steamer ten minutes, and at the end of that time the vessel was swallowed up by the sea, leaving not a trace on the surface. The Indian ran to Rocky Point, and notified T. Parker, a stage driver, who telephoned the news to Williams Head Quarantine Station, whence a launch was dispatched to Victoria.

Beechey Head is west of Beecher Bay, in the Strait of Fuca, 25 miles from Victoria.

This sad circumstance has much of the pathetic in connection with it. Mrs. Burns, who has been with her son, near Red Deer, Alta., for some time, met Mr. Burns at Victoria, when he came from his mission field at Sooke, the first of last week, by appointment to attend the wedding of their son William, on Wednesday. After the wedding a day was spent with friends in Victoria, and on Friday afternoon they embarked for Sooke, Mrs. Burns intending to accompany her husband to be with him at his farewell services on the field where he had been for three and a half years the faithful missionary.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns were married in Acton some thirty-four years ago, Mrs. Burns being Miss Martha McMaskon, the eldest daughter of the late Thomas McMaskon, for many years an esteemed resident here. They settled on their farm, lot 3, con. 6, Eramosa, where they resided until five or six years ago, when Mr. Burns decided to take up missionary work in connection with the Presbyterian Church. After spending some time in the west he went to British Columbia. Three and a half years ago he was appointed missionary to the fishermen and settlers at Sooke, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, some twenty-three miles from Victoria. His earnest efforts and faithful ministrations at Sooke were productive of splendid results. A letter to his brother-in-law, Mr. John Cameron, Acton, written the second week of the present month said that eleven new members had already signified their desire to unite with the church at Sooke at next communion and a number additional were expected at Tugwell Creek, an outside appointment. The same letter said that notice had been received from Rev. Mr. Clay, the missionary convener at Victoria, that he had been transferred to Poidar Island, a more important charge, where there is a good church valued at $2,500 and a number of workers. Mr. Burns intended to preach his farewell sermons at Sooke last Sunday.

In reply to the letter referred to Mr. Cameron posted a letter to Mr. Burns last week enclosing photographic views recently taken by a friend of scenes in Rockwood and vicinity, of which Mr. and Mrs. Burns were quite familiar.

While Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Moore were attending General Conference at Victoria last fall Mr. Burns came down from Sooke and spent several days with them and at the Conference sessions. He was much pleased at this opportunity of visiting old friends.

Deceased leave three children, William, who has been in Victoria for several years, but who left for Calgary after his marriage last week; Edward, who is farming near Red Deer, and Mrs. Adam Hope, of Rochester. Two of Mr. Burn's brothers, William and Alexander, reside near Rockwood, and there are numbers of relatives and friends in the vicinity. Messrs. David McMaskon, of Highgate, Thomas, of Bothwell and William, of Ridgetown, former residents of Acton, are brothers of Mrs. Burns.

A telegram received by Mr. John Cameron on Tuesday from Victoria, confirmed the news of the sad catastrophy.

BISHOP DUMOULIN PASSES AWAY

Died at the See House at Hamilton After a Week's Illness

WAS A WELCOME VISITOR HERE

Hamilton, March 29—Right Rev. John Philip DuMoulin, Bishop of Niagara, died this morning at half past twelve after an illness lasting only a few days.

For some time the late Bishop had been a sufferer from acute indigestion, and only two weeks ago returned from a six weeks' visit to New Orleans, where he went in the hope of benefitting his health. About a week ago he became ill and was progressing favorably until this morning, when he was seized with a sinking spell. He recovered partially from this, but later there was a recurrence and his heart gave out. Mrs. DuMoulin and Miss DuMoulin were with him at the last.

His Lordship was born in Dublin in 1836; ordained deacon in 1862; ordained priest in 1863; first rector of St. Thomas' Church, Hamilton, in 1871; rector of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, 1882-1896; was elected Bishop of Niagara in 1896, which position he has filled with ability and much benefit and blessing to the diocese for fifteen years.

Bishop DuMoulin frequently visited St. Alban's Church here during his Episcopate. His address at confirmation services was always of an able, eloquent and helpful character.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

It is to be hoped that the discussion in the Council Chamber last week, as reported in the Free Press, may be but the preliminary of an active, organized movement for the conservation of conditions tending to the beautifying of public and private property in Acton. There is no doubt that the position taken by those addressing the Council is quite justified, for recent occurrences in the building on, and occupation of properties in prominent places, has been most offensive in several cases, to adjoining occupants in particular, and to the public in general.

* * *

While the Council wisely did not become committed without fully knowing its ground, yet the citizens in general would surely endorse any by-law which could legally be made prohibiting erection of offensive buildings close to adjoining residents, or the creation of junk yards at any place whatsoever along a leading street. There is of course limits to a Council's power, for any person might captiously take umbrage at almost any kind of business in close proximity, in a way which no one else could condone.

* * *

But apart from all this, citizens might well arouse themselves to take an interest in this fine old town enough to secure, if possible, conditions making for permanence in the way of introducing and maintaining a regard for what is pleasing to the eye. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." About a year ago there was suggested in these notes the formation of what might be of the nature of a Guild of Civic Art. Such an organization, might, failing any powers being legally possessed by the Council, appeal quietly to the reason and better judgment of persons who not having given much thought to such matters, be contemplating actions which the people in general might not desire.

* * *

Of course, a man's property is his own, and interference is seldom agreeable or desirable, but when, for instance, the front of an old historic pioneer residence should be threatened with utter disfiguration when other promises would serve well enough for the purpose, a little moral suasion might well be in place. In this utilitarian age we are in danger of losing much of the little of the sentimental we have, and that is not for our advantage ultimately.

* * *

There will soon be ample work for citizens in cleaning up and tidying premises in the ordinary spring routine and as far as possible, it would be well to add such further beautifying as paint, and horticulture, and other improvements as can be afforded. Those citizens who have spent considerable sums in making attractive homes would welcome to their ranks all property holders, large or small, who endeavored as circumstances might justify to follow their example. But then, what about the Guild of Civic Art?

CREWSONS CORNERS

The first auto to appear in this vicinity passed through here on Tuesday.

The annual mobilization of the wheel transport of the army service took place in Acton on Wednesday. A number of the farmers of this vicinity who are members of the corps attended.

This community was greatly shocked on hearing on Monday of the sad death by drowning of Mr. and Mrs. John Burns, which occurred on Friday on the Pacific coast near Victoria, while returning from their son's wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Burns formerly lived in this locality and were held in the highest esteem and to their sadly bereaved family and friends the heartfelt sympathy of all is extended.

Mr. Ronald McEachern, of Erin, is moving to the farm he recently purchased here. We extend a hearty welcome to Mr. McEachern and his esteemed family.

Mr. H. Brown, of the Traders' Bank, Guelph, spent Sunday at his home here.

Mr. Alonza Carroll, who has been in Philadelphia for the past nine years, is visiting his parental home here. Mr. Carroll intends going west shortly to join his brother Herbert, who is living there.

Mrs. Wm. Carroll is visiting her mother, Mrs. Menzies, who is critically ill at her home in Acton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Laird, of Acton, spent Sunday at Mr. Jas. Gamble's.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lamb spent Sunday with Acton friends.

BALLINAFAD

The funeral of the late Mrs. James Binnie was held on Monday of last week to the cemetery on the 8th line. Deceased had suffered from an attack of grip for some five weeks and on a weakened system, pneumonia set in. The funeral services were conducted in the Presbyterian Church, of which Mrs. Binnie had been one of the earliest members. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Currie, was assisted by Rev. R. Fowlie, of Erin. Besides her sorrowing husband deceased leaves one daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) W. McKay, who have the sympathy of their many friends in their sad bereavement.

General regret is felt in this community at the news of the serious illness of ex-Councillor Thomas Cook. Mr. Cook has been in poor health for some months and last week went to the hospital in Guelph for treatment. His physicians decided that an operation was necessary if relief was to be obtained, and the date was fixed for Tuesday. On that day an incision was made and the examination proved that his ailment arose from a malignant growth in the stomach of a character that could not be effectually removed. It is hoped Mr. Cook will be about again after recovering from the shock of the operation.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this.

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box. 6
