THE FRESH-AIR BRIGADE

Sing a song of Sleeping-Porch, a family of Fresh Air,
Beds are vacant in the house, people everywhere,
On the roof, and on the porch, on verandas, too,
Blankets covered thick with snow, noses pinched and blue.
Father's bed is on the roof of the kitchen ell;
Mother's underneath a drift, where the snow flakes fell;
Brother takes his Sleeping-Bag down among the trees;
Sister has a Window-Tent to concentrate the breeze.
Though they scorn me and deride, I shall not begin—
Someone's got to watch the house, so I'm sleeping in.

—Robert Shaver in Woman's Home Companion.

BELIEVED IN CANADA

AND J. L. ENGLEHART CAME AT A TIME OF BIG EXODUS.

The Man Who Is Now at the Head of Ontario's Public Railway Came From the United States In the Early Eighties—Is a Man of Private Means and Loves His Work and His Employes.

It was in the eighties, when all the talk was of Canadians trekking to the United States, that several Americans of greater foresight reversed the process and came to Canada.

In their ranks were numbered—not only such outstanding figures as the late Ezra B. Eddy of Hull, Que., and the late Hiram Walker of Walkerville, who built up businesses which are known practically throughout the Empire, but also such railway magnates as Sir William Van Horne, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and Mr. C. M. Hays. To this honorable roll belongs by right the name of Jacob Lewis Englehart, chairman of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway Commission, and vice-president of the Imperial Oil Co., Ltd.—a man who represents a type of worthy, useful, self-made and splendid citizenship none too frequently met with in Canada.

Mr. Englehart was born in Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 2, 1847, big parents being John Jost Englehart and Hannah Richards Englehart. His school-days were brief, for he left Cleveland in 1860, at the age of thirteen years, and went to New York, where he entered the Pine street offices of Sammons, Drafoo & Co., an oil-exporting firm, as clerk and rose by his own efforts to be a partner in the concern. In 1870 Mr. Englehart came to Ontario to investigate the oil fields, and, perceiving their possibilities, he decided upon the establishment of the first refining works for export in Ontario. While retaining his New York connection, he founded the firm of J. L. Englehart & Co. at London. After six years of success in London Mr. Englehart sold out, and was on the point of returning to the United States, when he purchased the works of the Carbon Oil Co., and moved them to Petrolia, where the principal oil wells were located, himself becoming president of the town. In 1881 the Imperial Oil Co. was established, Mr. Englehart becoming vice-president, a position which he still holds. The company was reorganized in 1891, and the refineries removed to Sarnia.

After definitely deciding to remain in Canada, he had assumed British citizenship, and chose Conservatism as his political faith. He took part in many election contests, but sought no political honors. When the Whitney Government assumed power Mr. Englehart's prominence as a successful business man and his intimate knowledge of railway affairs marked him out for preferment when the Temiskaming Commission was being reorganized. On his return from Europe in 1906 he was appointed to membership on the commission, and when Mr. Cecil B. Smith resigned the chairmanship soon after, Mr. Englehart was regarded as his logical successor for this important post.

The salient characteristics of Mr. Englehart are his simultaneous grasp of the broadest aspect and the most minute detail of any subject, and his unfailing courtesy and affability.

The visitor to the offices of the commission finds it a head easy of access, urbane of manner, disbonair of person, and unvaryingly genial and obliging. It does not matter whether it be a member of the Government who drops in, a railway magnate come to confer upon momentous matters a newspaperman in search of information, or the humblest employe of the road with a grievance or a request—all alike are made to feel welcome and at ease.

In the conduct of the affairs of the Temiskaming Railway Mr. Englehart has adopted what might be called the paternal, not to say the patriarchal, method. The employes of the road are made to feel that they are not only active partners, but members of one big family.

In addition, Mr. Englehart keeps close watch upon the work of all employes, and the man whose monthly report makes a good showing is likely to receive a personal letter of commendation for excellent work done, with a hint that the faithful and efficient performance of duty will not be forgotten.

Possessing abundant means of his own, the $5,000 salary which he receives as chairman of the commission is but a bagatelle to Mr. Englehart. His pleasure has never been in accumulating money, but in using it wisely. His services to the people of Ontario are given freely, not for the monetary return which he receives, but for the pleasure he takes in demonstrating the possibilities of success in Government ownership and operation of a great public utility.

THE LATEST HEALTH FAD

People must go to bed earlier and get up earlier in the morning. The doctors are insisting upon that. They claim that 90 per cent. of the people of this country are ruining their race for the future by refusing to get up before 7 o'clock in the morning. They should get up at that hour at least, if not earlier, and take a two mile walk or ride on a bicycle or horse, and one doctor says there is no use pleading poverty against that because none are so poor they cannot walk. Then they will have appetites for breakfast, and better health. But they must get the children to bed by 8 o'clock at night and retire themselves as early as 11, always tired enough to go right to sleep. Society women in several cities have taken to early rising and walking as a fad, and the doctors claim that it is bound to have a good effect on the entire country, worth more in the end than all the woman can do with equal right in the ballot box.—Worcester Telegram.

WONDERFUL BALANCING ROCK

One of the most remarkable rocks in the world is that known as the Balancing Rock, which stands on the bank of the Willmette River a short distance above the city of Portland, Ore.

Rising from a broad base is a small column, roughly round in shape. Just above this is a huge mass of rock, bearing a tree on the summit, total height of rock and column being about a hundred feet.

Although a great deal larger and heavier than the pillar on which it stands, the big rock is very accurately balanced.

The entire rock is of a volcanic nature, and the most singular thing about it is the fact that the knob and pillar are entirely disjointed from one another.

A COW OF MANY HORNS

A cow with 17 horns, born and bred in the lower section of Grenville county, S. C., was brought to Greenville the other day by Mr. H. R. Scalf, of the Conastee neighborhood. Mr. Scalf stated that the cow is an excellent milker, giving approximately two gallons of milk in a day, and has 17 horns along her back between her shoulders and hen-tail. The owner has been offered a large amount of money for the cow by museum owners, but he refuses to sell. The farmer has named the cow Cornucopia, and he thinks the name appropriate.

TOOK IT FOR GRANTED

He had been calling on her twice a week for six months, but had not proposed. He was a wise young man and therefore didn't think it necessary.

"Ethel," he said, as they were taking a moonlight stroll one evening, "I—er—am going to ask you an important question."

"Oh, George," she exclaimed, "this is so sudden! Why, I—"

"What I want to ask is this," he interrupted. "What date have you and your mother decided upon for our wedding?"

PIGEONS AS MILITARY AIDS

Pigeon-flying is something more than a sport in France. The practical side has appealed to the government, and as a result almost every garrison is fitted with a loft, where pigeons are trained for use in time of war and during army manoeuvres. Several years ago a decree was signed forbidding the keeping or training of racing pigeons (pigeon voyageurs) by foreigners residing in the country. A French citizen to keep such birds, must first make an application to the civil authorities.

A BAD BACK

Is a Warning That the Kidneys are Sick

A bad back turns every twenty-four hours into one dull round of pain and misery—you are lame in the morning, nagged all day by a dull throbbing backache, cannot rest in the evening or sleep well at night. It hurts to bend over, straighten up, get up from a chair, or lift even a light weight. Any sudden twist, turn or awkward movement sends a tearing twinge of pain through the weak spot.

Was Terribly Afflicted With Lame Back.

Could Not Sweep The Floor.

It is hard to do house work with a weak and aching back.

Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered that they get out of order.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for lame, weak or aching backs and for all kidney troubles.

Mrs. Napoleon Larmour Smith's Falls, Ont., writes:—"I take pleasure in writing you stating the benefit I have received by using Doan's Kidney Pills. About a year ago I was terribly afflicted with lame back, and was so bad I could not even sweep my own floor. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, and with the greatest benefit. I only used three boxes and I am as well as ever. I highly recommend these pills to any sufferer from lame back and kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

PEBBLE-GATHERING IN NORMANDY

The pebble industry is making rapid progress and is assuming considerable importance in upper Normandy. The cliffs of the Caux region, undermined by subterranean springs and by the waves of the English Channel, slip, fall and break. They are formed of a calcareous mass containing flints. These flints fall to the bottom of the sea, where they become flat and take an ovoid shape. Their color is blue, spotted with brown yellow or red stripes. They are used to manufacture concrete stone and earthenware, and their dust is even employed to make paint and rice powder imitation. Over 120,000 tons of pebbles are annually picked up on the Normandy beaches. Most of it is sent abroad.

A woman isn't so afraid of quarrelling with her husband as she is that the neighbors will hear it.

There are still a few old-fashioned women who think it a sign of sheer laziness to hire the washing done.

A Cure for Fever and Ague.—Disturbance of the stomach and liver always precede attacks of fever and ague, showing derangement of the digestive organs and deterioration in the quality of the blood. In these ailments Parmelee's Vegetable Pills have been found most effective, abating the fever and subduing the ague in a few days. There are many who are subject to these distressing disturbances and to these there is no better preparation procurable as a means of relief.

ANIMALS THAT GO MAD

In Paris in a list of 1003 of all kinds of animals which had bitten people and which were suspected of being afflicted with rabies there were as many as 833 dogs; of the remaining animals in this official list there were 247 horses, 6 cats, and 7 others of the various domestic animals. In Prussia, that country of statistical delight, there are numerous instances, officially listed, of bites from rabid cattle and even from the mildest of animals, ordinarily, the deer. As regards Russia, one would naturally suppose that wolves would figure largely as a source of danger in biting other animals and man. Russian statistics substantiate the correctness of this supposition.

LARGER FEET

Woman's growing sphere of activity—not to mention her increasing stature—has resulted in making her feet larger. A leading shoe manufacturer says that a few years ago the average woman wore a number four shoe, now fives and sixes are popular, and many shoes of much larger size are worn. The average width used to be B, and is now C.

Jugs are all right in their place, but a man who wants a drink bad enough to take it out of one has too much thirst.

"It Isn't Liver Pills."—Many of the ailments man has to contend have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their operation though gentle is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Betsy, an old colored cook, was moaning around the kitchen one day, when her mistress asked her if she was ill. "No, ma'am, not 'zactly," said Betsy. "But I'se fas' 'is, I don't feel ambition 'nough to git outer my own way."

SHE HAD CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup Cured Her.

Weighed 135 Pounds—
Now Weighs 172.

Mrs. Charles McDermott, Bathurst, N.B., writes:—"I thought I would write and let you know the benefit I have received through the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Three years ago I had consumption. I had three doctors attending me and they were very much alarmed about my condition. I was so weak and miserable I could not do my housework. While looking through your B.B.B. almanac I saw that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was good for weak lungs, so I got a bottle at the drug store, and after taking ten bottles I was completely cured. At that time I weighed 135 pounds and now weigh 172, a gain of 37 pounds in three years. I now keep it in the house all the time and would not be without it for anything, as I owe my life to it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, which, combined with other absorbent, expectorant and soothing medicines, makes it without a doubt the best remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

Price 25 cents at all dealers. Beware of imitations. The genuine is manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE TEARKERCHIEF

There are many quaint and pretty customs that prevail in the Tyrol; but none more so than that of the tearkerchief.

When a girl is to be married, and just before she leaves her girlhood home for the church, her mother gives her a handkerchief, made of newly spun linen, which is called the tearkerchief. With it the bride is to dry the tears that are regarded as only natural as she leaves her home.

The tearkerchief is never used after the marriage day; but is laid away with the bride's most cherished possessions until the day of her death, when it is taken out and spread over her face.

LIGHTNING'S QUEER PRANK

A queer prank was played by lightning the other morning when it struck the residence of John Sagar, at Avon, New Jersey. It bore a hole in the roof, setting fire to it, passed through into a bedroom where Mrs. Sagar and her year-old baby were asleep, ripping a section out of the plaster on one side of the room and then leaped over or under the bed and set fire to the cover. ing and melted the wire ribs of an umbrella which stood at the side of the room.

Mrs. Sagar and the child were absolutely unharmed and not even dazed.

CHINESE EDUCATIONAL PUZZLES

It is generally recognized that China has set to work at the wrong end of her educational problem. China has begun at the top, has tried to establish universities without preparing students for them, and all the lower rungs of the ladder are so badly constructed that it is almost impossible for the student to mount by them.

HAD HEART TROUBLE

NERVES WERE ALL UNSTRUNG.

Wherever there is any weakness of the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown, the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will soon produce a healthy, strong system.

Miss Flossie Kinsley, Arkona, Ont., writes:—"It is with the greatest of pleasure I write you stating the benefit I have received by using your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. This spring I was all run down and could hardly do any work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had heart trouble and that my nerves were all unstrung. I took his medicine, as he ordered me to do, but it did me no good. I was working in a printing office at the time, and my doctor said it was the type setting caused the trouble, but I thought not. My father advised me to buy a box of your pills as he had derived so much benefit from them. Before I had finished one box I noticed a great difference, and could work from morning to night with out any smothering feeling or hot flushes. I can recommend them highly to all nervous and run down people."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

QUEER WAY OF CHOOSING A WIFE

Matha is the chief town of the arrondissement of St Jean d'Angely. A day or two ago the serenity of the place was disturbed by the crier with his trumpet, which, by the way, has replaced the drum, making the following announcement: "Two young men desirous of early marriage place themselves at the disposition of the girls of the town of an age to marry. The young men are now at Cafe——, and will be pleased to meet girls desirous of marriage, and will give all particulars concerning themselves."

All's fair in love—if you don't care for the brunettes.

Girls are very seldom satisfied with the names their parents give them, but boys don't fuss about such trifles.

A man isn't as henpecked as possible until his wife begins to pick out his clothes.

Attacks of cholera and dysentery come quickly, there seldom being any warning of the visit. Remedial action must be taken just as quickly if the patient is to be spared great suffering and permanent injury to the lining membranes of the bowels. The readiest preparation for the purpose is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. It can be got at small cost at any drug store or general dealer's, and it will afford relief before a doctor can be called.

WEARING ONE COLOR

Where economy has to be considered in matters of dress it is an excellent idea to keep closely to one or two colors all the year through. The wearer looks much better dressed in this way and is saved quite a little money on accessories, as it is not necessary to provide a different hat, petticoat and parasol for each dress or suit.

There never was and never will be a universal panacea in one remedy for all ills to which flesh is heir. What would relieve one ill in turn would aggravate the others. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound, unadulterated state a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual and judicious use the frailest systems are led into convalescence and strength by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves those to whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and by tranquillizing the nerves disposes to sound and refreshing sleep—imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which being stimulated, courses through the veins, strengthening the healthy, animal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame and giving life to the digestive organs which naturally demand increased substance—result, improved appetite. Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto, have given up the public their superior Quinine. By the opinion of scientists; the wine approaches nearest perfection of any on the market. All druggists sell it.

THE WRONG LEXICON

The late Thomas Lowry, of Minneapolis, was a great wit and a great story-teller, as well as a great financier.

He needed a million dollars one time for one of his railroad enterprises, and he went to New York to get it. On the morning of his arrival a friend met him at his hotel and asked: "What are doing, Tom?"

"I am going downtown to get a million dollars."

"Can you do it?"

"My boy," said Lowry impressively, "in the bright lexicon of youth there is no such word as fail."

That night Lowry came back to his hotel after a hard day. The same friend met him. "Did you get the million?" he asked.

"No," replied Lowry; "I didn't. I opened that bright lexicon of youth and the word was in it.

WHERE THE FISHERMEN'S CAT-GUT IS MADE

Probably but a small percentage of the fishermen who use flies strung with fine translucent "catgut" are aware that the almost unbreakable substance that holds the hooks against the fiercest struggles of the struck fish comes from the silk-worms. The principal centre of the manufacture of this kind of catgut is the island of Procida, in the Bay of Naples. But most of the silk-worms employed are raised near Torre Annunziata, at the foot of Vesuvius. The caterpillars are killed just as they are about to begin the spinning of cocoons, the silk glands are removed and subjected to a process of pickling, which is a secret of the trade, and afterwards the threads are carefully drawnout by skilled workers, mostly women. The length of the thread varies from a foot to nearly twenty inches.

Now and then men ask for the truth and won't stay long enough to hear it.

If business ever gets good enough for some business men they won't admit it.

Time Has Tested It.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has been on the market upwards of thirty years and in that time it has proved a blessing to thousands. It is in high favor throughout Canada and its excellence has carried its fame beyond the seas. It has no equal in the whole list of liniments. If it were double the price it would be a cheap liniment.

Many a man is wrecked because he is reckless.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Caulfton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. LETITIA BLAIR, Caulfton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

You can't always tell which side of a fight will get the worst of it until a peacemaker dips in and then he's it.

While men are somewhat cowardly, it is not recalled that fear of a railroad wreck ever keeps any of them at home.

Thousands of mothers can testify to the virtue of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, because they know from experience how useful it is.

While the modern mother wears funny clothes she should be given credit for this: She doesn't put red flannel underwear on her children.
