ETIQUETTE IN SIAM.

On Hands and Kness Before the King Was Long the Custom There. Perhaps the most revolutionary reform carried out by the late king of Slam was the abolition of the arbitrary rule of eliquette which forbade an inferior in rank to raise his bead above that of a superior or even level with it. The inferior must not even pass over a bridge while a superior was underposth it, nor must be enter a room in an upper story while a superior was occupying a room beneath tt. Servants approached their masters on hands and knees. This custom is by no means obsolete today in apite of the royal edict, for many of the powerful nobles who live far away from the court still enforce it., In 1874 the king held a large court, at which to one present presumed to appear otherwise than on hands and knoce. It was at this audience that the edict forbidding the custom was read to the prostrate multitude. They there and then ruse and stood like men in the presence of their sovereign for the first time on record. Since then there has been no prostration at the royal andiences. But If a superior stone to speak to an inferior in the street the latter will still head or lower, his bred in some way-as a mark of respect. - London Saturday Review.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bough

DID YOU PARTICIPATE in these hugh profits, or did you "pigeon hole" the propositions submitted to you by your western friends for future consideration? In short, are you the man who made a profit, or the unfortunate one who had the chance but did not possess sufficient judgment to recognise the opportunity or sufficient courage to close a deal? The man or woman entitled to sympathy is the one who says: "Pive or ten years years ago I had a chance to buy this or that property at $100 or $500, and now it is worth $10,000." The average person sneers at the person who makes such a statement and says: "I would have bought and made that money." Are you going to say five years from now that you had a chance to buy a lot at Poe. Alta., at from $50 to $10,000 in cash as a result of having bought property in this town is this year of grace, 1911?

The surrounding country is settled by a progressive type of farmers and consequently will become the market centre for Northern Alberta. POE district possesses rich coal mines, is close to rivers and lakes, and large forests are pasily accessible from this point. These natural resources insure for the residents of the town, first, low cost of living, and second, great commercial activity, two exsentials in the uphuilding of a town, thus creating valuable real estate.

POE as a Manufacturing Centre

This townsite and contiguous territory has the requirements outlined by large manufacturing concerns for the location of large factories or large enterprises of any kind employing large numbers of people. The rivers and lakes furnish water, the coal fields and forests furnish fuel and cheap building material, the fine farming lands furnish farm products, enabling the residents to live at a
