ENGLISH ANTHEM IS WROTE

The teacher, a lesson he taught;
The student, a sermon he brought;
The master, his school;
And the scholar, his student;
The long-winded speaker, he spoke;
The poor man, he ate;
The master, he ran;
The dinner, he dined;
And the shaker, his hurriedly, shook.
The flyer 'on wings of love' flew;
The buyer, on wings of home; he bawd;
The drowsy, he did;
The dead, he died;
And the law is (sheer) law.

The writer, this unseemly he wrote;
The fighter, a rivel he fote;

The skinner, he skant;

And the killer was hungry, and bote.

DILIGENCE IN LITTLE THINGS

It is the little things that make our lives.

The small trials, the small anxieties, the small joys, the small acts of self-sacrifice that make up the sum total of human misery.

The small pleasures, the small acts of kindness that constitute true happiness.

These combined form true character. If you are faithful in the small duties and responsibilities of life, you will have larger ones given you.

You may not like to do them. They may appear too insignificant to suit your ambition.

You long to do something grand and showy that will win applause from your friends and the world.

You have a lesson to learn, maybe many lessons, before you are able to do the things your ambition longs to do.

Keep your aspiration firmly fixed in your mind.

Never let go of it—now a single instant.

The fact that you have that ambition and longing to do great and noble things is an unfailing sign that you will be fitted to do those things when the right time comes.

What will you be will be.

Keep up your heart. Keep clinging to your ideal. Keep on doing the little things that come to you.

The greatest thing, the good thing that your very soul craves is coming to you.

You may not know when it is near you, and, on the other hand, you may feel its presence before it comes.

That depends on yourself.

Do not expect you will get it just by wishing for it.

It will not come to you that way. You will have to work for it.

Nothing worth having is ever won in this world without working for it in some way.

You can earn whatever you get, and you always get whatever you earn.

That is one of the laws of life that are fixed and unchangeable.

No matter what you get, either good or bad, you have earned it, consciously or unconsciously.

If you want all good for your life, word for it.

Learn to do the little things that you find in your way and do them the very best that you can.

Do them faithfully and cheerfully.

There is nothing that will help you more than to you more than little thing that often makes or mars a great thing—punctuality.

It will win confidence for you.

It will make you self-reliant.

It will win you respect.

People will trust you instinctively, and it will bring out that faith in yourself, and your ability to do that will make their trust well placed.

Qualities thorough.

"Whatever you need find to do, do it with your heart."

If it is even the smallest task or kindness that comes in your way, if it looks like the meanest drudgery to you, just look at it and say to yourself, "That looks mean and insignificant, but it is not; for whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well. There is a lesson in it for me, and it is what I need just now to fit me for my ideal, so I will just do it the best I can and better than anyone else ever did it before."

If you go at it in that spirit, that which looked like drudgery to you will soon become a pleasure.

You will finish it with the greatest satisfaction and find yourself in sympathy and harmony with all the world.

"We are plants, not of earth, but of heaven."

All plants spring from the tiny seed. The great oak from the tiny acorn. Everything in nature springs from the tiny atom.

It is all these small things combined as one that makes the beautiful earth.

So it is in our lives; all the small details make the grand whole of true nobility.

DULL BOYS

Douglas Jerrold was a dull boy, Isaac Burrow, who became an eminent minister, was so dull when a boy that his father hoped if God took away any of his children he hoped it would be Isaac. Napoleon's teacher thought him hopeless, dull and said it would be better to get anything into the hands of a fool. Walter Scott, Dryden, Goldsmith, Chatterton and Gibbons as boys were notable dullards. General Grant's schoolmaster and neighbor often made him a laughing stock by some practical joke which he was too dull to understand.

NOT IMPLICATED

In His Robert Anderson's recently published book of reminiscences, entitled "The Lighter Side of my Official Life," there is a story of a judge who was trying to get the very words of a reported conversation from a person somewhat scantly equipped with brains.

"Witnesses," said the judge, "will the prisoner say, 'I stole the oil?'" "Oh, my lord," the witness replied in a deprecatory tone, "Your ladyship's name was never mentioned."

A Coroner of Pulmonary Troubles. Many testimonials could be presented showing the great efficacy of Dr. Thomas' Emetic Oil in curing all disorders of the respiratory processes, but the best testimonial is experience and the oil is recommended to all who suffer from these disorders with the certainty that they will find relief. It is medicine in itself, and can be got for a quarter of a dollar.

BRIGHT LITTLE EMILY

The good, old-fashioned way of getting the bright, new visitors was to breakfast before the guest came down stairs. Later, some genius furnished a round button that said, "Here's Your Hat! What's your Hurry?" a little Buffalo girl who is the third member of a three-piece family, does it even better. The other day when the unwelcome guest was at the table Emily said: "I hate everybody in this house except papa, mamma and myself."

NERVOUS CONDITION

Results from Kidney Trouble

Sick kidneys make you feel sick in a number of ways and it is now known that a nervous condition often results from kidney trouble. When the kidneys are sick the whole nervous system becomes irritated, causing headache, dizzy spells, fits of "other" neuralgic attacks, weak eyesight, when a micturition pains and dull, tired days, and a constant inclination to worry over trifles.

Booth's Kidney Pills strengthen the weak kidneys, cure backache, regulate the urine and restore to normal conditions. They are guaranteed. All dealer sell. 25c. a box or postpaid from the T. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. If you like to have them free write for a trial box. Sold and guaranteed in Action by A. T. Brown.

WAS IMPOSSIBLE FOR HIM TO SLEEP.

Mr. Clark, 34 Woodstock Street, Montreal, Que. writes:—"For two years I suffered with nerve trouble, and it was impossible for me to sleep. It did not stop me from working, but it kept me awake at night. I was even worse than the night before. I consulted a doctor, and he gave me a tonic to take a half hour before I went to bed, but it did not help. I could not sleep at all for a time, but the old trouble returned with greater force.
