As anticipated in there notes two weeks ago the proposed amendment to the cigarette by-law occarband strong protest. Perhaps never lo this municipality has any proposed legislation been more strongly disapproved of, or more unitedly opposed. And a remarkable feature of the agitation in opposition was the signing of the petition by several whose personal sympathies with members of the Council might be expected to cause neutrality at least.

The contention that in a free coun try persons should be allowed liberty to do as, or use what they please, has been too often exploded to need much Old refutation. No one making such an objection would allow the argument in meeting her for her esteemed to be pressed to its logical conclusion In all cases. When the rights or welfare of others steps in perconal liberty has to welk carefully. And to extend to persons halling from other lands liberties to which they have been accustomed, irrespective of customs, When the almenso sayespring's here rights or privileges maintained for the welfare of our own people bere, would be preposterous. A curious objection is that which ridicules the work of women in a crusade such as this. Were it not for the Interest taken by Obristian, women in the welfare of many communities some of these places would be ill off in deed.
