The Moral of it

The advertising column of the Review are an index to the most progressive business houses in Vanicek Hill. People who know recognize that to reach a very large class of the best purchasing public it is necessary to use the Review columns. A very patural deduction is that the merchant who does not use the Review as an advertising medium does not care for the trade of those who can be reached only by the Review. Therefore the moral: Patronise the merchants who think your trade is worth while rellingeyou about their offerings .- Vanlesh Hill

Patronise Merchants who invite you

Only Results Count

The one thing above all else that you want to know about the range you buy is this-that it will cook and broil and bake with absolute satisfaction.

Other features of a range, such as convenience, economy and appearance, are, of course also indispensable, but the prime necessity in a range is results in cooking. The Gurney-Oxford gives results not now and then, but always.

Every Gurney-Oxford is a source of continual satisfaction to its owner. Day after day, year after year, it enables her to produce pastry, bread, roasts that contribute to the pleasure of housekeeping. That is why the Gurney-Oxford finds its strongest support among those who have had actual and intimate experience with it. You too will number your Gurney-Oxford among your best friends.
