Local Option for Georgetown

Most encouraging reports come from Georgetown as to the splendid pro spects of carrying Local Option in the present campaign. A prominent citizen and leading business man when writing to an Acton friend this week says: 'Our workers here are much encouraged by the reports received from time to time, and we are looking forward confidently to having George town take its place next year alongelds of its neighboring towns, as freeised liquor treffic." Tubergulosis Uny next Sunday The response made to the efforts of the National Sanitarium Association to secure the observance of next Sunday. the Free Library has been lasted and was obtainable by readers at the library last evening. The new books will be available on Saturday evening. The new catalogues will be welcomed by all patrons of the library. It brings together all the books of the old cats logue and the half-dosen supplementary catalogues, listing all over their respective classes in consecutive order This will greatly facilitate the search for books in any distloct class. The 206 volumes of new books just catalogged will be found at the back of the lists. They comprise a very fine list of books. The Book Committee has especial pleasure in commending the new list of 44 volumes in the Home University Library. MOTOR HE MORK IN ACTOR

Sir: I have just completed five weeks of house to house work in your the scriptures. I have had exceptional opportunities for seeing the people ecquaintanceships, and have formed a high opinion of the town. During my calls I have been asked numerous questions relative to conditions in Acton in contrast to other towns that I have visited. This, I prosume, has largely grown out of the present agitation respecting the value of Local Option to a community. I was asked the other day if I sold as many bibles in a locality where the sale of liquor is legalized, as in places where Local Option is in force. My reply was conscientiously and gladly given that I have sold many more bles in Acton than in any licensed lauor town la Ontario of Acton's size. in the eight years of my experience as Colporteur of the Bible Boclety.
