VANCOUVER ISLAND

Is About-One-Third the Size of Vancouver Island is the commercial and naval bulwark of the Province of British Columbia. It is a billion dollar island - a thousand million dollar paradise. Perhaps not capi talized at that amount to-day. in the future it could be bonded for that amount. It is one of the largest non-continent islands in the world. It comprises 16,400 square miles of terri tory, or ten million acres. As agri cultural land, it should be worth ten dollars an acre, or a total of one hundred millions. But to this must be added the value of the coal, Iron, cities and towns. Perflaps a billion is too high an estimate-but not extravagantly high. -

Vancouver Island is one half the size of Scotland and a little more. If people. It is one-third the size of Ragiand. It it had one-third the teeming with top million people. Has ing an estimate on its present popula ion of less than a hundred thousand people, on its climate which correponds to that of the south and west of England, and the south of France on its vast natural resources and its commanding commercial position, Vancouver Island should have a milion people in twenty years. The chief centres of population on the Island now are Victoria, Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Esquimalt and Port Alberni. Victoria is the seat of fortrument for the province, and has a was known as Camosum, an H. B. Co.'s trading post: It did not enlarge until the gold excitoment of 1856. Since then it has been growing quietly, waiting for the tide of immigration to cross the Rockies. Napaimo, 73 miles away on the cast coast of the Island, has about 10,000 people and is coming fast. The other places are small and undeveloped. The chief railway of the Island sion for the improvement of Toronto the Esquimelt and Nanairjo Railway. operated by the Canadian Pacific. they have been building a crossisland road from Nanaimo to Port Alberni, a distance of fifty miles. This was completed recently, and! there will soon be a daily service from Port Alberni to Victoria. Other branches are being built one to Ocwichen Lake and one to Courtenay. The Canadian Northern has recently commenced operations and will touch Victoria, Port Alberni, and Patricia Hay. From the latter place there will be a ferry across to the mainland Victoria and Hidney, to be operated in connection with the Great North-the district around Victoria. The first coal mine opened in British Columbia was on the northeast coast of the Island. In 1850, a discovery was made at Nanaimo and in 1963 some 2,000 tons were shipped to California and sold at $26 per ton. The Island deposits and Crow's Nest deposits are the chief coal areas in the province, worth nearly twentyfive million dollars a year. The principal fron deposits of the province also occur on Vancouver Isand. They are of high grade and almost wholly free of sulphur and phosphorus. With coal and iron in close proximity, Vancouver Island must ultimately become a great steel centre and the home of a steel shipbuilding industry.-Canadian Courier.
