Two HUNDRES MILLION boshels are confidently expected from the precrop in the northwest, mearly all of i high grade, and uings per cent. of it already cut. From all quarters the indications are for by for the largest yield the prairie provinces have ever produced. The effect of this splendid yield is already reflected in business circles and reality activities have al ready responded to the encouraging

Good Naws has just been announce ed: Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Pustmaster General stated on Monday that when the percels post system was inauguraled in Canada on January let it would extend to every part of the Dominion from east to west. There will be no half measures. "The saving to private citizens here," the Postmaster-General continued, "will be enormous, the rate, of course, beldy, much less than at present, but the expense to the benedt."

THE NEWLY AMENDED law for th protection of women and the suppresslop of white slavery went into effect on Monday much to the entisfection of moral reformers. From now on, offenders will not be so difficult to con vict. Perhaps the mosty sweeping change is with reference to men being found in disorderly houses. The old law was practically useless. Now hi presence proves his guilt, unless has good justification, and the coust of proving the latter is upon him. One affect of this will be the stopping volunteer and amateur "detective" work. Deserting husbands are now also liable to criminal action, and not | D. A. Henderson, on account to civil action as beretofore.

PEW WEEKS this year have given rise to more reason for optimiem is Canadian financial and commercial circles than the one just past. Sir William Mackensis returned home from London triumphant with an leens of over $12,000,000 for his Canadian Northern Railway over subscribed, and convinced that there is little to fear for the future of affairs in Canada. The words of the Hon. Mr. White, Canadian Minister of Finance, and they may be taken as official and authentic, are even when glowing than liam. - He sho has just returned from Bugland. He says that a besitancy very few, as follows: almost vanished. Then there are the crops which are already moving in J. RAIDS BY PROVINCIAL OFFICERS

EMBLVE INFORMATIONS One of the strongest arguments put forth during the recent campaign for the repeal of Local Option was that if the liquor bare were re-opened the evidently not been the result. It looks as if blind pies were more numerous and aggressive now than over before. Provincial Inspector Ayearst-and several provincial officers visited town m Saturday evening and raided four or five places in the search for natraband liquor. A sonsiderable uantity was secured on the premises I Jess Bridges on Beardmore Cree ent and removed to the town hall to trials to be held at the town hall on Tuesday, 16:h lust.

It now transpires that three or four government officers bave been working the places where liquor was suspected of being illegally sold, for the past five or six weeks. These included two places at least that were suspected of doing illegal business during the Local Option regime, the owners of which places then swore positively that no illegal selling was being done. Two places of foreigners were also raided. will then be adduced by the ufficers of the Provincial Government.
