EDITORIAL NOTES

THE very current expression by friends of the barroom last January when Local Option was repealed in Acton, that the tide had turned and that there would be a landslide of repeals throughout the province this year, was hardly carried out at the polls on Monday.

IT IN STATED that the Dominion Government, through the Department of Mines, has undertaken a very thorough investigation into the merits of peat as fuel. The inquiry will cover not only the available supply, but likewise the commercial feasibility of its manufacture at a reasonable market price or otherwise.

agitation throughout the Dominion. to eliminate the middlemen in agricultural and orchard products between farmers of the West were paying questions and snawers of the shorter three or four times as much for fruit catechism. as the Ontario farmers received.

AMONG WORDS OF ADVICE to Canof Lord Strathoons in a recent article, was this, that, as this country as a delicacies. source of profitable investment had been held in high esteem in Britain in the past every caution should be taken to maintain it. Canadian industries are as good as ever, but over statement in their favor has had the opposite effect from that intended.

A DEPUTATION from the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress waited on Premier Horden and members of the hottest sections on Monday in her Cabinet on Monday and laid before history. The polling resulted in the them a number of requests for labor legislation. Among these, that dismissed men have for thirty days the status Councillor Jos was again the popular of employees to enable them to apply man among the Councillors and beaded for an Arbitration Board in case of the poll. The vote was as follows: disagreement with employers; that the Dominion election day be made a public boliday, pointing out that at present it was often difficult for work- Wm. Camble. inguan to exercise the franchise. Pinally they asked for eight-hour day bill for all government work.

THE PRACTICE of bonusing manufasturere in any form by municipalities to condemned by teading municipal men and a portion of the press. The Windsor Record says that "Windsor would not regret the passage of a very strict law probibiting bonusing of any kind whatever. It would have the effect of placing all cities and townson an even basis ; and there would not be that rackless bilding for ledustries to the way of free cites, fixed assessment, or tax exemptions." The Brantford Expositor remarks : "There is not a monitorial March for the Researchip Up rose one of the aforesaid pil- and then sending them to teach the not welcome prohibitory legislation of the kind indicated."

HEXAKING AT the Wolfe birthday dinner, at Landon, Eng., on Monday. Alfred Saithers, Chaleman of the Grand Trunk Rallway, remarked "There are some people in this country to-day who, in somewhat parrot fashlos, take up the cry that Canada la going too fast. I do not think they realise that Canada has been goldg throught the most difficult time for the last eighteen months. The the campaign this year. orisis they talk of is to a great extent passad. "Canada wascaught like a ship carrying full sail in a storm of scarce THEMENTHODISTEUNDAYSOHOOD and dear money. I say unhasitat ingly that she stood the strain margiflocatly. I don't know any country suddenly confronted by transandous difficulties which has ever come through such a pariod so well. I am certain the more intercourse increases between the people of Canada and the motherland the greater will be the prosperity both will attain."

ONTARIO'S MUSEUM.

New Institution : To Be Opened Soon

After New Years. One glance into the Egyptian room of the new Royal Ontario Museum, which will be opened to the public shortly after the turn of the year, is sufficient to interpret the phrase inthe book of Exodus: "Against all the gods of Egypt." To see a number of these various gods degenerated to showcase articles for the enlightened populace of a twentieth century city. and to see somethin; of the mode of life in those far-off days is to secure a vivid glance into the depths of the past. But what is a great museum for if not to record the activities of past hims in his ondervors to add to his material comfort on the one side, and his methods of defence and offence on the other side, with something of his higher and religious tendencies interspersed? But the riches of the museum date farther yet, for there are things here which belong to prehistoric times and that is anything unterior to 5,000 H.C. What has the museum to offer from these remote times? There are sellpsed all former efforts in this hall, the remains of a man who lived and tolled in northeastern Africa before the world had known how to construct elaborate burial caskets. When this . hap's turn came to die his comrades wrapped the remains in a rude grass mut and in this condition he is to be seen to-day in our new

Close by the layptian room there are several cases of Homan camp equipment and the frying pans and many prodecessors of our present day Williams, Mosers. Ernest Barr. we come on representative collections of later peoples such as the Venetians and medieval England. Bir Honry Pellatt has placed his famous collection of armor and wespone within the building and the best portion of a large room is devoted to the display of these articles. The manner in which man has expended his energies on devices to murder and mutilate his fellows is almost bidsous. The forerunner of the modern automatic pistol is clearly seen in ing mechanism. Then on the other side the ingenuity expended to offset the terrors of these and other wespons is extremely interesting and includes almost everything from suits of armor upwards. The students of athnology, the comparison of the barbarous nations and the civilized, is of great benefit, for one may see the relics of a pen-ple who have stood still for centuries contrasted with a race whose ideas, if not ideals, have slowly evolved in the years they have existed. The Royal Ontario Museum has been seeking a home for some years and now that the Provincial Government and the university have combined on this magnificent house and its contents, Toronto undoubtedly is in possession of one of the finest institutious of its class in America. The upper floors are devoted to exhibits of a more or lass scientific interest, dealing with rocks, minerals, crys-

HORSE'S KEEN INSTINCT.

Lamps With Certainty. liucephalus, as every schoolboy knows, has always been the "top liner" in horsedom, though the enchanted hotes in that old friend of our boyhood, "The Arabian Nights," ran him a close second. Hince time immemorial tales have been told of the intelligence of "man's best friend," and the latest comes from the city of Toronto, just at a time, too, when the auto seems about to back Dobbia off the stage. Among the multifarious departments which are in existence to attend to the various utilities run by the city, is one called the Hydro-Electric garage. Here are kept the autos used by Hydro officials; trucks for the "trouble department," and other machines too numerous, almost, to mention. There are also horses, which are used occasionally to save gasoline. One ancient equine has necturnal duties; to wit: He hauls about, all over the city streets, from dewy eve to morn, an equipage prosided over by an employe whose duty it is to prowl round, from one thoroughfare to another, and replace burned out street lamps with new ones. Whether, like that friend of Haroun Alreachid (to drop once mory into mention of "The Arabian Nights") he bries "New Lamps for Old," deponent sayoth not.

But it is in connection with the intelligence of this particular horse that this tale has to do. Bo "wise to his job" has the venerable nay.become that, while rouming the streets in the wee sma' hours, apparently sometimes, saleep on his feet; he will instantly spot a Hydro post in front of which a lamp is not burning, and, without word or act on the part of his most remarkable, to turn round, if on the wrong side of the street, and

"dead" lamp is attached. Nor does the intelligence of the gentle animal stop at unlit lamps. He has a keep scent for apples, and can lics of these past empires are stored in the language of his driver, "apot one on the street a hundred yards away." A loose rein and humane driver allow Dobbin fair chance to pick up his tid-bit, which he masticates lelsurely and then, without urging, starts once more on his way in quest of "doad" lamps.

Lepers Are Cared. Dr. Montisumbert, director of pubic health in Canada, believes that he has discovered a cure for laprosy. During the past year two of the the great ponderous guns which are cases which have been under the equipped with many barrels and fir treatment at the Canadian Leper Colony at Tracadie, N.U., have been sent away cured. In all there have been four absolute cures. The only doubt which is in Dr. Montisambert's mind is that the disease has run limit out, for two cases have been cured in some way without more than ordinary care and treatment. 'At any rate, four cases which have been under this special treatment have been completely cured, and apparently hopeless cases have been materially benefited. The cure, Dr. Montisambert ware is chaulmoogra oil. He has made a special study of laprosy during the past 30 years, and amongst all the remedies which he has found used in various parts of the world, he planed his faith to this oil, which The has been in use in India for canturies. He will explain the treatment to medical societies and submit detailed reports of the effect of the Indian treatment. Birange Bavage Accomplishment

In British Columbia dwall certain tribes of Indians who reed and write shorthand with facility. The story of the manner in which they sequired the accomplishment is a truly remariothie one. It is stated that a Briton who visited the country of the Indiana as a missionary found himself so hampered by the ignorance of the tribes, who could not read the Bibles he gave . them, that he set to work to teach them shorthand as the quickest means of enabling them to read and write! It seemed a doubtful experiment at first, but being based on the been on usw eredt shrow edt to bance to learn spalling. The priset began by teaching the more intelligent men,

Bo successful was the undertaking that there is now scarcely an Indian, old or young, in the district who cannot read and write shorthand.

Down to Hard Pan. Rev. Frank W. Patterson, of Calsary, during a recent trip east in the Interest of Hapilet Western Missions, used to tell a story of a minister who was preaching .bout the "Prodigal

"And then," said the preacher, "he began to be in want, and he sold his coat, and next he sold his vest, and then he parted with his shirt, and then, my friends, he came to himsalf."-Baturday Night.

The Ohleken Oath.

For the first time in the history of the Vancouver courts the chicken oath was administered recently to Mah Quang, a Chinaman, who was a witness in the case of seven men charged with rioting at Nanaimo. After the cath was administered a young white cock was procured, its head placed on a block of wood, and chopped of by the Chinaman. The ceremony was witnessed by a large crowd of parsons. An Karnest Appeal.

Is the early days of the Province of New Brunswick, one of the Judges had called in a local clargyman to "O Lord," he began, "we implore Thee to bestow upon the judge of this court the wisdom and discretion he so greatly needs."
