One of the most useful and instructive and at the same time interesting exhibits on the grounds, was that of the Department of Agriculture, under the supervision of Mr. H. It. Have, the district representative. Demonstrations, of various sorts were constantly in progress. The value of farm drainage and weed irradication were among the subjects treated. Hare became acquainted with many of the farmers of this section, whom he is at any time ready to aid in the farm problems. Special complimentary tickets had been given the public school children, and the attendance of the day was greatly enhanced from this source. It is estimated that there were about ,000 people present. The gate receipts totalled $444.25, exceeding last years' toll by about 860. A large number of members tickets, sulmitting two, und the school children's tickets, brought the attendance up to the estimated figure.

The horse races, were largely entered and the competitions were keen, and hotly contested. Large numbers of spectators were constantly in attendance and interest and outhusiasm ran high.

While the entries for the baby show were not numerous, a great deal of interest was evidenced in the event. The entry of the highland pseudo beby called forth loud applause and much good-natured chaffing. Home of the bandsman of the Kilties were oliosan us judges.
