MY PRIENDS

My heart has been hit with the hamme of human hatred, and it hurt. But this does not happen often. Then again, some person comes along and strikes it, and, like Presently she slept a little. She woke at a bell, it sounds; it rings through my soul the sound of a light knock and a low volce. the songe of friendship.

And to-night, in my study, I am in the mood to take each reader into my confid- le a disappointment - this unknown sace and say in truth I harbor no malice friend toward any man. And for this reason, perhaps, I can more fully comprehend the facod each other-the grey-haired woman wooderful worth of genuine friendship; with the brave, sweet, serene face, and the for, remember, it is first necessary to be a girl who had so little time to live. In common with most men I have found a few people who have taken the trouble to go out of their way to try to injure me, but afternoon. The next day she waited im-I have paid these few with the colu of in- patiently for the doctor. difference-paid them with pity.

The point I would make in this article is the real value of true friesdably; and this includes business friendship, personal friendship and ous other.

Because I do business with a man this is so reason why I should expect him to be my private banker. On the contrary, this to a greater reason why I should not mix my business ideas with that of a mutual ald association, and then threaten to suspend my business acquaintance from my organization when he refuses to contribute to my support before I setually sarn it.

Real friendably in business must be val ued for what you find in it that is fair to both and not just for what you can get out of it to benefit yourself.

Business friendably to not a one-aided affair. It is not a false bottom, not short weight. It must prove a success if you prove to be a friend on the level and give what you ask of another. You cannot "work" a man in business without running the risk of exposing your own hand and getting exactly what you deserve.

The man that courts business friendship, that really wants friends in business, is a man of mettle and he is a mighty poor man to monkey with, If you have friends in business it is because you deserve them. If you say you don't believe in friendship in business, it is because you are a fraud os human nature, a counterfelt in commerce. No good man can be without good friends in business very long. This little magazine is an excellent example of how it lady stopped him with. "But you haven't pays to have friends in business.

These there is the personal friendship the stoutest link in the chain of life. It I welded steel that aline into the see and bolds the old ship in the storm. It is the searchlight that alines into the dark spots, and finds the fellow when he is down and out. In all the bound volumes of my library there can be found no nohler subject than this one-friendship.

Priendship is a word that is often used and often abased, but when you find a real friend you have discovered a rare gam. Simply because the beach is not strewn with diamonds do not deceive yourself; do not decide that clam shells are the best you oun find.

Occasionally something is sure to happen that will cost you a friend. Illatance or death-something is sure to happen ; and is order to keep your list of friends com plote it is necessary occasionally to make a new friend-remember this. Keep your

I would much prefer to be wrenched from my position on earth than to lose my faithful friends. And so, through the halls of time through the haunts of humans, I might take you until we reach a crumbling, oldfashloned country cottage with its sagging porch, its uneven roof and its phostlike look ; and hare I will burn into your heart the words that will bring lack the memory of the one greatest friend you ever had or ever will have -your mother .- "The Bilent
