TWO SPLENDID ADDRESSES GIVEN The interdenominational banquet held last Thursday evening in the Methodi Holicol Itoom was a splendld auccoss. men of the Anglican, Haptist, Proshyterian and Methodist Churches attended in very gratifying numbers and the proceedings throughout were of a most interesting and instructive character. The addresses by Mr. J. Reynolds Johnston and Mr. D. M Rose, Heoretary of the Anglican Men's Missionary Movement, both of Toronte were of a very high order. They were in formational and inspiring and vividly emplicated opportunities, responsibilities

When the men, of whom there were about 140, had surrounded the tables, verse of "All Hall the Power of Jesus Name," was sung and Rev. C. H. E. Hmith, M. A., offered prayer.

The menu was provided by the ladles the Red Cross Society and was excellent! all respects. The tables looked very tempting and full justice was done by the men to the appetizing visuals provided The school room was also attractively decorated by the ladies with flags, bunting and flowers. Their efforts were all highly apprognated, and received very cordi thanks in a formal resolution at the close After singing the National Anthem Mr

J. Reynolds Johnston was Introduced delivered the first address. It was masterly presentation of the missionar work entrusted to the followers of Jenus Christ to-day. The extent of the missionary field was vividly portrayed. The encouraging work alreadily accomplished by the faithful missionary workers in all onial Bearstary, Mr. Boner Law, his Royal | lands was rehearsed in most interesting terms. The present opportunities and responsibilities were strongly impressed and all were exharted to have a share in the spread of the gospel to all people during the present generation. The conscerntion of talent; the reflex influence upon those wh faithfully express the duties of steward ship, and the value of prayer were force fully and attractively sat forth. Mr. Rose followed in a very practical address dwelling largely upon methods of work in the various missionary activities and recounting the results which have been or young women; another, the personal unhieved. He showed very conclusively that sarnest, prayerful work by the membership of the local church in behalf of missions has invariably resulted in the upbuilding of the church so engaged both in material enhancement and spiritual awakening. SOME OBSERVATIONS

Very unique and of historia importance was the Mon's Interdenominational Mis slowery Hanquet, the first of its kind In Acton. It will be spoken of in the years to

Not the least feature, and perhaps the lost just now, was the assembling of men of at least five local churches, Anglican, Haptist, Congregational, Methodist, Pros byterium, mot as churchmen, yet as one to est and drink together, and to listen to topics common to all. As Mr. J. Reynolds Johnston, of Toronto sald : "Huch a thing would have been impossible, a generation or two ara.

There were there men of the farm, the store, the shop, the factory, the school, the legislature, the study | old men, young men, and bly boys-hungry, sociable, attentive, especially attentive. Chairman of Executive Moore handled

The first was pitched too high, the last too low, the other just about right, but the "kist of whitstles" is safest The supper-well, one hundred and quarter men are really to testify that was excellent-prepared by comely matrons, who were assisted in the service by handsome damaels wearing the Red Cross insignia. The only regrettable feature was the late hour before they themselves could be served. But then, as Red Cross workers, they are working under the sym- sickle grinder, I horse power, I set heavy But what of the addresses ? The carnest attention paid was the greatest compli ment. For a layman like Mr. Johnston to hold forth for an hour on "The Kingdom" in such an elequent, sarnest, persua-ive manner was remarkable. His elequence was not so much in a torrent of language, as in fact power of his subject conveyed dirent to eye and ear of his listeners. Rev Mr. Roso's practical appeal as to ways and means, backed up by his personal devotion of himself to the great foreign work, wo his place too in the hearts of the men. Two strong appeals were made : one for systematic devotion of the Lord's share weekly to Ilia cause. Mr. D. M. Honderson's manly, straight forward testimony as to the effects of the plans of the systematic giving principle, as worked out in Knox Church during the present year, was most convincing and persuasive. Indeed, Mr. Henderson, and the other speakers, would make good

The announcement on Saturday of the death of Bir Charles Tupper, the last of the Futhers of Confederation, at the advanced age of 04 years, recalls his brist visit to Acton in the election compaign of 1800, nearly twenty years ago.
