HARRIS—At Catfish Lake, on Tuesday, Nov. 2nd, Laura Gertrude Hall, beloved daughter of W. H. Reid, aged 10 years, 6 months.

IN MEMORIAM

HORSEY—In loving memory of Mary Alice Horsey, who died at Naval Station, December 15th, 1914.

One year has passed.
Oh how we miss her.

Never does her memory fade.

Her daughter's smile still lingers.

"I loved the person when Mother laid me."

Yet again we like to meet her.

When the days of life have fled,

When in heaven we hope to great her,

Where no farewell words can part us.

HIGH LOVING GREETINGS.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Finance Minister of Canada has decided to accept $100,000,000 of the subscriptions to war loan, $50,000,000 to used to provide credit for purchase by Britain of war munitions in this country. The subscriptions, aggregated $110,000,000, Canada evidently has some cash stored in the old blue stockings yet.

The U.S.A.-Co. Navvayra, Guelph, has it fair enough to land this left-handed compliment to the local member for Peel. "Peel county does not seem to have realized that there is an age limit for war horses, but possibly the electors of Peel county will decide there is an age limit to its representation in Parliament."

The Provincial License Commissioners have made it plain that they mean business. It can never be the result of the Commissioners, as the result of their litterary throughout the Province, and the pronounced temperance sentiment prevalent everywhere, will apply the pruning knife to some persons, and probably between 200 and 300 Licenses will be cancelled at the end of the present fiscal year.

The big Walkerville distillery is closed for a year. In making the announcement Mr. William H. Walker, managing director, said: "We have been asked to close down from July to October, but because of the large surplus of liquor now on hand, about 7,000,000 gallons, a condition brought about by the decrease demand for our product, we shall keep closed until October of next year." Significant.

At a GREAT meeting in Paris on Sunday one of the leaders of French activities in the war said: "France will not be beaten until Alsace and Lorraine are won. Helgoland and the Rhine, and German Imperialism and Prussian militarism are past. The possibility of resurrection there will be no peace until a system of right, founded upon the victorious union of the allies, and supported by the free adherence of neutrals, has abolished forever the violence of war."

The Commissioner of Conservation has been investigating the cause of fire and is in connection with the general campaign for a reduction of the consumption of coal in Canada. He has issued from insurance authorities statements giving actual experience with lightning rod protection on buildings in the rural districts. These show that not a single building in a wide area equipped with lightning rods has been destroyed. In the face of this evidence, and in view of the small cost of installing lightning rod equipment, it would seem advisable for farmers to equip their property with this protection, and also to the advantage of insurance companies to give a preference in premium rates to risks so protected.

MASAGAWAYA

The Presbyterian Churches at Campbellville and Hodson occupy a unique position. For the first time in thirty years the pulpit is officially vacant. Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Acton, preached sermon at Hodson and dedicated the pulpit.

The opening services of the new Methodist Church will be held on Sunday, 10th inst., and the following Sunday, Nov. 25th. Rev. James A. McLean, B. A., of Tillieberg, President of Hamilton Conference, will preside morning and evening and dedicate the new place of worship.

On Monday evening, 10th last, a banquet and entertainment will be held.

There will be a fowl supper, followed by a very attractive programme, including a recital on the new church organ by Prof. Harry of Yewett. Recitals will be given by former pastor and old members will be invited.

On Friday, the 10th last, services will be presided over by Rev. G. W. Barker, Guelph, Secretary of the Conference, in the evening, and Major the Rev. G. H. Williams, late pastor of Chateaugay Church, Hamilton, chief recruiting officer of the Western District, in the evening.

The choir of the church will render special music at the opening services. The congregation is looking forward with great anticipation to the various events in connection with the opening exercises.

The annual meeting of the conference will be held on Thursday evening, December 2nd. An excellent programme will be provided. Part of the proceeds will go to the Red Cross funds.

Mr. Joseph Little's new house on the Guelph road is nearing completion. It is of the bungalow style and will be a fine residence when completed.

Mr. Dew Milton has purchased the farm recently owned by G. L. Watson, known as part of the Morris property.

Mr. James Jones had a very successful sale of farm stock on Wednesday, November 28th. He has sold his farm and is moving.

The threshers will nearly all finish their season's work this week.

SPRINGFIELD

One of the most successful sales that has been held in Kitchener for some time was that of Joe Rice's on Dec. 1st. Everything went at top-notch prices, one driving mare bringing $100.00 and her foal $10.00. Much cows sold as high as $100.00. Auctioneer Kerr walked the hammer.

"Our Mynester's Bryde." A Magnificent Success

This Well Presented Drama Attracted A Crowd

House

WAS REPEATED LAST EVENING

The character sketch entertainment entitled "Our Mynester's Bryde," was given in the town hall on Tuesday evening in aid of Red Cross funds, and was a gratifying success. It was successful both in point of financial return, and in the excellent manner in which the cast of characters presented this quaint and original drama, which required such a diversity of character impersonation and versatility of conduct and action. Every part with admirable skill and the play was most creditably presented throughout.

The plot was told in a round community to which the young minister, Rev. John West, had brought his newly-wedded bride from their honeymoon. A delegation of women of the congregation are arranging the parlor for the homecoming, and indulging in varying opinions as to the bride and the arrangements for her reception.

In the second scene the minister and his wife are in the parlor hanging a couple of pictures of Madonna. The wife has added a few touches to the original which improve the appearance of the room.

Hooks and a parlor lamp are on the centre table. There looks in better taste than the ladies' depiction had arranged it.

The minister and his wife receive numbers of callers.

Scene three shows the minister and his wife sitting at the reading lamp. She is very prettily dressed, working a motto on the card board. The minister is reading aloud to her out of a large volume. A couple, not very young, enter and want to be married. Various interesting events are enacted.

The closing scene opens with a number of young people at a party at the minister's house. All are in old-time costumes and having a very enjoyable time together. Games and general conversation are succeeded by an impromptu concert with the minister as chairman.

The various parts presented in the several scenes had much of interest, were very pleasant, very human, often amusing, and always to the satisfaction and delight of the audience.

The cast of characters was as follows:

The minister—Rev. John West—a young man of good appearance and presence, possessing a decided sense of character, and clothed in clerical garb—Mrs. Percy Howorth.

The minister's bride, a pretty young girl, hair hanging in curly bunches, caught up on one side by a bunch of roses—Miss Margaret Harvey. Miss Harvey was every inch a bride; pretty as a picture and charming in her manner. She wore a beautiful gown, wholly handmade, and which has been in the Warren family in London and Canada for two hundred years.

Mr. Joe Crabb—A strong-minded man, with opinions as old-fashioned as his costume—Mr. Dennis Bennett. Miss Bennett was a cassiterian show girl, 8 years old, which belonged to Mrs. S. Hurst's mother.

Mr. Dan Ritchie—A weak, retiring man.

Mr. Dan Ritchie—Rev. J. Hynd, a tall, slender man, with a very pleasant voice—Rev. John West.
