That the balmy November weather of Ontario was the warmest he had experienced wince he left bome last spring, was the onsertion of Mr. A. Cousineau, o' Trout Mills, who passed through Toronto the other day on his way back to the North llay region. Mr. Cousineau has been working for the Dominion Government as a rough earpontor at Fort Nolson, where a vigorous, if expensive, effort is being made to create an ocean port to help handle the wheat trame. Mr. Cousinesu went in from Lat Pas last spring overland, walking from the end of the steel the 160 miles or so intervening, carrying his blankets and his "chuck," and slooping every night in the open upon brush laid on the snow. He came out by steamboat and thence home by the intercolon-
