EDITORIAL NOTES

ROYAL KENNEDY are reported to have already increased their rate for accommodation. The travelling public will have to pay for prohibition—Milton Champion. And why shouldn't they? Was there any sane reason why any man should pay for liquor at the hotel bar to help pay for the accompaniment of a traveler who does not drink? By all means let the hotel be raised to pay a fair profit for lodgings and meals.

AN IMPROVISED CHAIR in the manner of handling eggs by wholesale has been made. Under the new rule merchants will be obliged to furnish "cassie free" when selling eggs to the consumer. These cassies will be destroyed on reaching their destination and therefore will not be returnable to the retailer again. The loss to the shippers in the past by dealers packing in old cassie cases will be done away with and brand new cassies will accompany each shipment of eggs to shippers for outside points.

NEW MONKS the citizens of Hampton, under the auspices of the lower Council acting with the Board of Trade, Horticultural Society and Women's Institute, will commence a week's clean up and paint up campaign. A proclamation under the imprimatur of the mayor calls upon every citizen to participate. The personal pride and civic pride of all is appealed to. They will clean the yards, paint the buildings, lay down sod for grass and plant flowers. This is a most worthy effort upon which units and will inevitably mean a cleaner, healthier, happier and more beautiful town. Could we not emulate Hampton's example in Acton?

AN AMENDMENT to the Sheep Protection Act recently passed provides that the owner of sheep killed or injured by dogs can recover from the municipality "reasonable expenses and the amount of the damage sustained." In place of the two-thirds paid heretofore. This is the event that the owner of the dog cannot be located. Any municipality may increase the dog tax to $1 for the first five and $3 for each additional dog; $5 for the first five and $10 for each additional dog. This is a very just amount. There is no good reason why a farmer whose sheep are worried by dogs should not recover the whole amount of damage inflicted.

THE MIRROR reviewer, whose editor has two sons in the war, rightly says: "It is unfair and unjust that men who with families should have to go to the front and fight the battles of the Empire while hundreds of young men with no one depending upon them should be walking the streets as if there were no war at all going on. Why should this be? There are families with three or four sons in khaki, and there are other families, where there are three or four sons just as physically fit, who have no intention whatever of going to the front to do their share of the fighting. It is to do their share of the fighting that the Empire, and that means Canada, which is an integral part of the Empire, what rights have the sons of the one family to go and fight the battles of the other family? When we consider the present recruiting system in all its bearings it seems to be simply "rotten" from beginning to end, and most unfair and unjust."

CREWSON'S CORNERS
Mr. E. J. Cripps lost a valuable driver last week. He was driving from the Clewary to his home when the horse plunged forward and fell overturning the buggy. When Mr. Cripps got out from underneath the buggy the horse was dead.
The quarterly meeting was well attended here on Sunday morning. Mrs. Ella Frommer, Rockwood, was present and sang a solo very sweetly.
Miss Margaret Dennis is not improving as fast in the Guelph General Hospital as her many friends would like to see. Mr. Lamb in the same institution is recovering nicely.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dancy, Churchill, visited friends here on Sunday.
Miss Clara and Della Lantz spent the week-end with friends in Guelph.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore and baby, Miss Bolton, and Messrs. O. and W. Yates, motored out from Guelph on Sunday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Algar Cripps.

MOTHER'S DAY

Next Sunday will be observed throughout the continent as Mother's Day. Out of love to our mothers, and the hallowed memory of those who have passed into rest, everyone who can will wear a white carnation or other white flower. This token of love and esteem will be a slight evidence of thoughtful appreciation. A loving, good mother is a treasure of an earthly nature, as she never feels any sacrifice too great, any anguish too keen, any fate so overwhelmingly terrible, as to transcend the endurance or crush the power of a mother's love. Under an inviolable inspiration, when danger threatens her children, she knows no fear, death affrights her not, she extends her arm to arrest every approach, offers her own breast as a shield against bullets, and sword thrusts, and counts it a privilege to lay down her life in defense of those loved ones. O, loyalty, supreme, sublime, immortal! Thy name is mother's love. Her very existence is intertwined with her children, their counsellor, comforter and guide; therefore we should highly prize and sincerely cherish that valuable possession, a good mother. This world is so dreary when we are bereft of mother, yet so few appreciate her as we should, for what is home without a mother?

THE WHITE CARNATION
Was it for this through all the countless years
The sun and dew poured spices in your cup?
Was it for this, with patience and with tears,
You generated all your priceless lineage up?
Oh, white carnation, symbol of the flesh,
Whose memory at last has found its own!
Today we break your distant to refresh
Our memory of mother and of home.
It may be with soft fingers slow entwined,
A golden hand against your bosom now.
It may be distance or a grave she finds,
A man with furrowed face and silvered brow,
But they are still her little ones as when
She loved the pang of death that they might live!
She perished all her life for these,
And that their overwrought heart had more to give.
And we! What have we done to fill her years,
How have you paid her sacrifice and pain?
Oh, Mother for her love, her hopes, her fears,
Have we a gift of recompense not vain?
My mother, take these fragrant flowers today!
In giving them I pray that I may be
To you—a God's still touch take you
All that you have ever been to me.
And if too late to win your loving smile,
And you have risen pure and white and true,
'Twill only be for me a little while,
'Till I may come to be at rest with you.
And when my eyes close in my last long sleep,
To breathe of that sweet song, your lullaby,
I'll place my hand upon your breast—
My mother—then I'll know that God is nigh.
—Mrs. Baker P. Lee

OBITUARY
Dr. FREDERICK TOWNSEND
The Guelph Star says: "Dr. Frederick Townsend, one of the best known surgeons and general medical practitioners in northern Michigan, passed away at an early hour Tuesday morning following a brief but severe attack of pneumonia. Dr. Townsend was born near Hampton, Ontario, August 6th, 1847. After completing a primary course in the Acton Public School, he attended the Georgetown High School. From there he went to Toronto Medical College. Later he studied in the Medical College of New York where he completed a special course in operating surgery in 1875. For one year after his graduation he practiced in New York, during which time he was associated with the Department of Public Charities and Dispensary in that city. He then located in Detroit, where in addition to his private practice he held the chair of Anatomy in the University of Michigan. Eighteen years ago Dr. Townsend came to the Soo where he associated himself with his brother, the late Dr. Wesley Townsend, in the Courway and Hall Block, which he occupied up to the time of his death. He was respected and valued by the public as well as private patronage in both an active and consulting capacity and his work ably justified the confidence placed in him. For several years Dr. Townsend was assistant surgeon for the Upper Peninsula Hospital at Sault Ste. Marie. He was also Surgeon in Charge of the Marine Hospital Service and also Surgeon in Charge of the Chippewa Medical Society and the Upper Peninsula Association. Before the latter body last fall he demonstrated a successful splint which he had perfected and patented. About a year ago he was honored with a fellowship in the American College of Surgeons. In 1901 he was appointed by Governor Osborn as a delegate to the International Congress of Surgeons which convened in London, England, and while abroad he took advantage of the opportunity to witness clinics and hear lectures in the Medical and Surgical Department of the Old World. Personally Dr. Fred. as he was familiarly known, was one of the best liked and most respected men in the Soo and Chippewa County. He was every ready with sympathy and advice in private matters and loyal support to all worthy public propositions. He was affiliated with the Masons and Knights of Pythias Lodges and for years has been an active member of the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Townsend is survived by his widow and four children also his father and one brother, J. E. Townsend, 534 Spruce Street, East, conducted by Rev. Dr. H. A. Hartlett. Interment took place at Riverside Cemetery." Dr. Townsend was a son of William Townsend, a brother-in-law of the late William Moore, of Acton. Mr. Townsend resided for several years on the old Moore homestead, on the first line now owned and occupied by Mr. Richard E. Johnston. While there the boys, Fred and Wesley, attended Acton School and also attended Church and Sunday School here. Dr. Wesley met a tragic death last winter. While playing in a curling match he slipped and is falling backwards struck his head on the ice and died in a few minutes.

The team were in heavy marching order, carrying their great coats and rifles. A few minutes before the order to march was given, Messrs. Hyde addressed the officers and men in fitting terms of fare well. He said the march had been a credit to the town, both as to their conduct and as to their improvement in drill and discipline. The officers of Acton, he said, were very sorry to see the boys leave, and on behalf of all he wished them every success in their work as brave soldiers and hoped we would have the pleasure of welcoming these all back again.

Dr. Lantz, the platoon medical officer, also spoke words of appreciation of the march. He said: "I have been with you a great deal and have seen some of you that any one else here. I am sure you will be a credit to the town."
Shortly at 10:15 Lieut. Kennedy gave the order "March," and the team swung off down Mill Street on route for Milton in the step, full of swing and pep, and with the air of veterans. As they went down Main Street, and over the hills toward the County Town.

By 12:15 they reached a splendid point on the mountain side, near Decker's School and between six and seven miles from home. Here they bivouacked for lunch and an hour's rest.
Just as they had opened up their lunch a big motor car from home arrived and hung down the mountain toward them. It stopped at their rendezvous when Messrs. Hyde and H. P. Moore, J. P., the two of whom had sworn them all in when they were in the military service. A few gallons of fresh coffee, and an appetizing assortment of hot lunch, cakes, bananas and other toothsome provender, was unloaded from the car. These boys to lunch and enjoyed to the full, especially the invigorating hot coffee. Their thanks to Mrs. H. P. Moore, President of the Red Cross Aid Society, and Mrs. A. T. Brown, the doers of the wayside luncheon, were most appreciative.

After a series of photos with the attention natural background here afforded, the team fell in again and at 1:15 started forward on the second half of the long day's trek. The motor party accompanied them and allowed them their great coats, which made the marching more comfortable. At 2:30 they reached the outskirts of Milton where they were met by the Battalion Band, and at a quarter to three they swung down Main Street, wheeled at Main Street at the Post Office and marched to Battalion Headquarters where they reported and received their billets. Every man of them stood the march well and evidently enjoyed to the full the experience of the day.

LETTER FROM PTE. GEO. CASWELL
Sentured by Captain George McNair, "Somewhere in Belgium" on April 20th
The following letter from Pte. I. G. Caswell, written on April 20th and passed by the late Captain McNair, the officer in command of his Company in the 58th Battalion, was received by the Free Press on Monday:
Somewhere in Belgium,
April 20th, 1910.
Dear Mr. Editor:
Would you kindly thank the ladies of Nasaagways through the Free Press for the books we received from them through Capt. McNair.
We receive the Free Press nearly every week and we all enjoy it. The George town boys are just as anxious to see it as we are.
I am in good health. We have had a very wet weather and cold. Snow fell last Monday.
I saw Heave Hyde's son, George, a few days ago. He was looking well.
I heard that the ladies of Acton had sent us parcels some time ago. If so they have not reached us yet, but we appreciate their thoughtful kindness all the more.
Considering the number of soldiers who have enlisted in Acton, I am sure the old town will have much to be proud of.
Kind regards to all the friends in the home town.
GEORGE CASWELL.

CAPTAIN McNAIR KILLED IN ACTION

Had Commission in the 58th Battalion and Went Overseas Last Year

The relatives and friends here of Capt. George McNair were shocked last Friday upon receipt of the news that he was killed in action in Belgium the last of April. Captain McNair was a brother-in-law of Mr. James H. Anderson, Acton, and he spent several weeks here at intermittent visits on leave before he went to England with his battalion, the 58th, in November and had been in the trenches only a couple of months.
In his young manhood Capt. McNair was a school teacher and was principal of the Arkell school. Since the news of his death reached Canada the school flag has been flying at half mast in honor of the intrepid citizen who gave his life bravely and nobly in the great war struggle.
Capt. McNair was a very fine man and enjoyed the esteem of all who knew him. Much sympathy is felt here for Mrs. McNair and the children who are left without a father.

Remember this—Power is the thing which makes or mars motoring pleasure and satisfaction. Other things may have a stronger appeal to the inexperienced eye, but eventually all motorists discover that power is the great essential.

And remember this—You can't have sufficient power in your motor car unless the motor is of the Valve-in-Head type. Racing drivers, almost to a man, use cars with Valve-in-Head motors. They know from years of experience that you absolutely cannot get sufficient power from any except a Valve-in-Head motor.

Finally, remember this—"McLaughlin" motor cars always have had Valve-in-Head motors, and developed to the highest point of efficiency yet attained in automobile engineering.

Power! Valve-in-Head! McLaughlin!
