When Pigs were Cheap

DN your grandfather's day-ask him about it-you could buy a dressed hog for three dollars; a nice big pig. And a live pig would cost you no more.

> Everything in those bygone days was cheap-that is, the things of common use.

> Clothes, boots, milk, bread, beetsteak, eggs, butter, lumber, farm labor, domestic servants - they all cost a good deal less than they do to-day.

It cost less to live-and less to be born-and less to die fifty years ago.

And it cost much less to publish a country weekly fifty years ago than it does to-day-very much less.

Yet you paid-or your grandfather did-just a dollar a year-the same as you are paying to-day.

But the dollar rate must yield to the pressure of necessity. We must do now what we ought to have done years ago-raise the price of the FREE PRESS to $1.50. The tremendously increased cost of paper, ink, supplies, and the more-thandoubled cost of living have made us "furiously to think." And so the price of the Free Press will be $1.50 a year, at a date this year to be announc-

If you were in our place, and knew all we know about the higher costs of publishing, you would wonder how we didn't make the advance long ago. We trust you to meet the new rate with a smile. Not for 50 cents a year will you say "Stop my paper."
