EDITORIAL NOTES

Quebec Provincial Government has voted unanimously to put into effect "bone-dry" prohibition on May 1, 1919. A strong effort was made to exempt beer and wine from the provisions of the act but the government would accept no compromise and the bill will enact total prohibition.

The story of Canada's glorious deeds in the war at Ypres and elsewhere which already has been told in print, is now to be told in glowing colors by some of the most distinguished artists of the day, British and Canadian. Under the auspices of the Canadian war records office, a war memorial fund has been inaugurated. The fund now amounts to about $75,000, the whole of it having been raised in the United Kingdom and Canada by the propaganda section of the Dominion Government, the object of which is to tell the people of Canada, down to the smallest detail, what their share has been in this war.

The Food Controller says the great difficulties in the way of compulsory rationing in Canada rest in a large measure upon the responsibility of voluntary food service upon every Canadian, no matter what his rank or circumstances may be. With a tremendous stretch of country sparsely settled, except in a comparatively few districts, the enforcement of compulsory food economy on any general scale presents serious obstacles. It is hoped that the greater production campaign, which is now being started, will make unnecessary any resort to compulsory rationing in this country. At the same time our people must realize that efforts must not be relaxed to conserve food, for the need is very great.

By far the most outstanding matter which has come before the local house since its opening on the 6th inst., was the proposal put forward by Mr. William Proudfoot, the Opposition Leader, for the extension of the school year without difficulty or interruption. This spirit of the united congregations has entered into the young people also. The Young People's Guild and the Epworth League united in their proposal, and maintained that it was not desirable to have the school year in winter when there was no outstanding issue before the people to warrant it. The suggestion was adopted by the Premier, and as it is within the constitutional powers of a province to extend its own life a bill will be brought down later in the session enlarging the time-limit of four years to which the Province is restricted under the British North American Act.

The Food Controller says: Hoarding is one of the new words of the war. It means storing in excess of requirements, especially of foods and fuel, for the purpose of making a profit. Hoarding is a crime, but the man or woman who hoards and coolly decides to-day to store more food than he or she needs for his own family, is committing something that has the character of a crime. There is no cause for panic among the people of Canada. We must expect to make some food and fuel shortages and be willing to modify our eating habits to meet the emergency that the soldiers and our allies may be fed. There is a world shortage of foods because other people have had to be withdrawn from farms to fight which is our joint fight. Our obvious duty is to aid them by at least sending them sufficient food. They are fighting our battle. Hoarding is the crime of selfishly taking care of one's own wants to the detriment of others. Hoarding food on the lands or at home, storing food in Canada, imposes a burden on the poorer classes in the Dominion. There has been some hoarding in Canada of sugar, flour and perhaps other commodities. The effect of hoarding under consideration just results in the exposure of Canadian hoarders. The hoarding is unnecessary and unpatriotic. The better elements in the community will refrain from it so far as their own households are concerned. It is elsewhere. Every patriotic Canadian will do well to resolve that he will play the game fairly with his neighbor, and with the poorer classes, by purchasing food only in normal quantities while the present emergency lasts, and by discouraging hoarding wherever he finds evidence of it.

THE HEATLESS DAYS
Were Loyal Observed by Citizens and Business Men
Saturday, Sunday and Monday were the heatless days and the loyal spirit of business houses and manufacturers resulted in the certain saving of a considerable amount of coal. The citizens entered voluntarily into the spirit of conservation of fuel and the united services of the Methodist Church permitted the furnaces in Knox Church and the Baptist Church to remain cold, and here too there was a substantial saving.
The tanneries, glue factories, business places and the mercantile houses were all closed and everybody seemed to enter into the fulfillment of the order of the Fuel Controller to the letter. The action of the business men in leaving notices that their stores and business places would be closed, saved any annoyance to customers from the night of the 13th to the 15th.
Saturday and Monday were hot holidays with good holiday weather and all enjoyed them.

Acton's United Church Services

Abie Germans by Rev. R. G. E. Large, D. A. D. and Rev. J. C. Wilson, D. A. Last Sunday

BLENDED SPIRIT OF FRIENDLY INTERCOURSE

The first Sunday service for the united congregations of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist Churches, which is the result of a most interesting character. The spirit of very hearty Christian fellowship was everywhere manifested and the worshipers here appeared to feel quite at home in the Methodist Church, where the services were held for four successive Sundays.

Rev. Mr. Large preached in the morning and was assisted by the services by Revs. Wilson and Jones. Mr. Large took for his text Matt. 24, which pronounces the gospel of the second coming. His sermon was an able exposition of the extra-Christians and dealt with the spiritual meaning of the sermon on the Mount. Jesus impinged the fact that the Christian is to do more than to have the spirit of the man who is to have the extra mile. It was this contentment which is the man's duty to wonder at the action of the follower of Christ in carrying his burden so far as the second coming. It is the dynamic of the power of the Lord Jesus Christ lived out in every day of his life. The man who is to have the extra mile is to have the extra mile in his life. The man who is to have the extra mile is to have the extra mile in his life. The man who is to have the extra mile is to have the extra mile in his life.

The arrangements for the Sunday School services worked very satisfactorily. The Methodist school opened at 10 o'clock and was dismissed at 11:30. The Presbyterian school opened at 10:15 and was dismissed at 11:45. The Baptist school opened at 10:30 and was dismissed at 12:00. The spirit of the united congregations has entered into the young people also. The Young People's Guild and the Epworth League united in their proposal, and maintained that it was not desirable to have the school year in winter when there was no outstanding issue before the people to warrant it. The suggestion was adopted by the Premier, and as it is within the constitutional powers of a province to extend its own life a bill will be brought down later in the session enlarging the time-limit of four years to which the Province is restricted under the British North American Act.
