Brief Local Items

Action Fall Fair, 1918.—The best ever.

Chautauqua now on at George town.

Eight miles to Georgetown and moonlight all the way to Chautauqua.

There'll be attractive grand stand performances at Action Fall Fair this year.

The Tent Royal Grenadiers' Band of Toronto has been engaged for the Action Fall Fair.

Mr. H. H. Campbell, foreman of G. T. Hynds work shop, is adding a substantial veranda to his residence on Gladwin Street.

Send in your special prizes for Action Fall Fair to-day. The general list is ready for press.

Mr. John Agnew, of Hartney, Man., writes: "All well. We are just starting to cut our wheat."

There are magnificent fields of fodder corn to be seen on the farms in all directions just now.

This year's harvesting operations are nearly over. The abundant crop has been safely housed.

Every day the best day at Chautauqua. Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Monday at Georgetown.

The young men of the Interprovincial Agricultural Society had a delightful picnic at St. L'Isle's on Saturday afternoon.

The temperature on Sunday was very agreeable. The mercury registered twenty degrees lower than the previous Sunday.

A new cement pavement is being laid in front of St. Joseph's Church, with a substantial cement horse block at the side drive.

It is predicted that owing to the absence of rain and the scarcity of mountain ash berries this year a mild winter is assured.

The brick work of the first story of the new school factory is being done. The timbers and joists for the second floor are being placed.

Miss Lulu Somerville, of London, sang with much acceptance the solo, "A Child is Born," at the Methodist Church last Friday evening.

There'll be no concert staged on the track at Action Fall Fair this year. Genuine attractions which all may enjoy are being provided instead.

The Herald urges the Georgetown Council to secure an adequate supply of water for the waterworks system. There is always a shortage during the dry summer.

In the opinion of the Action Horticultural Society on Action is equivalent in all parts of the town. More flowers better lawns, well kept gardens, make the town more attractive than ever before.

A letter from Mr. H. P. Johnston, secretary of the Ontario Agricultural Council, to Mr. H. H. Campbell, the head of the department, and the loss of rain in the spring, the yield of grain in this province will not be more than 50% of what was expected."

There is a well-developed crop of sturdy buckwheat and other noxious weeds, though the old field and the barley property and the house occupied by a family of Australians. They should be cut at once.

Keep the old clothes going, do the needed sewing; though the boys are far away, the bills come home. If there is any time, turn the old clothes spinning, turn the old suit inside out till the boys come home.

These moonlight nights have been fine for getting in the harvest. Men from town have assisted at John Reddick's, Robert Wallace's, Richard Brink's, and others, after their regular days' work was completed. Their assistance has been valuable.

Rev. Mr. McLeod, of Ullapool, who is visiting relatives here, occupied the pulpit of Knox Church last Sunday. In the absence of Rev. J. C. Wilson, Mr. McLeod's services were fine gospel expositions and were enjoyed by the congregation.

A G. T. R. employee at Ottawa whose bump of curiosity is unduly developed, applied a match to a pool of alcohol to see if it would burn. Every day, he found that it did. It will cost the G. T. R. and its customers $112,000 to repair the damage caused by the fire he thus foolishly started.
