With Canada's fire losses that every possible measure for fire prevention be adopted by our people.

In the great drive on the Western front in which the Aliles are forcing the Germans back at remarkable speed the Canadians have been given a place of honor. On the main battlefront on August 8 the honor of the first advancos was shared by the Australians and Canadians. It was chiefly a Canadian buttle. It was their advance at Luce which was the core of the operation, and on their progress the advanceboth of the Australians' left and that of the successive French armies on the ment of the following accounts: right depended, each of which was thrown in only as the advance above Acton Tanning Co. coal streets prospered. The Canadians are right in claiming that the fighting of the first two days was the biggest thing Canada has done, not excepting the capture of Vimy Ridge. Certainly nothing could have been better.
