The Fall Fair—Entertaining, Educational, Acton Fall Fair to be held next Tuesday and Wednesday will have much of interest for all classes of the community. The officers and directors are aiming to make it one of the best exhibitions ever held in the county. New classes have been added. Prices have been increased in a number of sections. The list of exhibitors is unusually attractive, and the entertainment features have been developed. Fall exhibitions are a permanent feature in the life of Ontario, and are of great social interest and value to the people. At the present time, with things agricultural in the foreground, as they are, exhibition management and the value of a strong agricultural and livestock department of the fair, are making this a leading feature of their work. In fact, no fall fair, large or small, could exist without the representation of the products of the fair. It is brought to the attention of the exhibitors that the boys and girls should be encouraged to study and learn as well as to enjoy themselves. Exhibitions are the best way to get away from work for a few days, and might with a few dollars, make a cumulative matter of interest to all, and see what progress is being made in the fair-year gets his or her living with a whole showman. A little clean, order to get the most out of life. Come to Acton Fall Fair with the idea of improving your education and at the same time to have a real good time and stay to the splendid concert on Wednesday evening.

MAKE YOURSELF FIRST-CLASS. There is never an over-supply of first-class people. Even in those trades and professions which are most crowded to us are vacant places at the top. It is not a matter of chance that people who suffer most from competition are those who are standing out. Make yourself first-class in your line of work, and you will find your service in demand.

IN DEBT TO THE WORLD. The very fact that you are on this earth shows that you have a work to do. Every one of us must prove his right to the man he occupies. L. STARKMAN MILL STREET - ACTON

Kitchener was right when he said: "Either the coalition government must go short of many things to which it is accustomed to times of peace or our armies must go short of munitions and other things indispensable to them." NOW the only way we can possibly live up to that obligation is by going without in order that our soldiers may have. For the money we waste is not money at all—it is equipment, clothing, shot and shell that are urgently needed in France. By denying ourselves, therefore, we enable Canada to procure to the fullest extent the materials and labor which she and our Allies need for the successful prosecution of the war. What happens when we fail to save? A pull on labor by the Government in one direction and a pull on labor by the people in the opposite direction. Hundreds of millions of dollars are of no use to the country if goods and services can be secured only to the extent of eighty millions of dollars. So we must do everything in our power to release both goods and labor for the purposes for which Canada needs them. WHETHER it be food, coal, wool, steel, leather, labor or transportation, the result in all cases is the same. Whoever competes with the nation by freely satisfying his own desires, selfishly appropriates to his own use that which is so urgently required for our fighting men in France. For the sake of your country and the boys "over there," spend cautiously. Think of what Lord Kitchener has said, and ask yourself first, "Is this something I really need or can I do without it?" Published under the authority of the Minister of Finance of Canada.
