Editorial Notes

Premier Hearst has given the strongest evidence that the Provincial Government is determined to stand behind the Ontario Temperance Act without qualification for at least a year after peace is declared. In answer to the appeals of various organizations asking for less stringent legislation and a higher percentage of alcohol in beer the Premier emphatically stated on Monday that no change would be made in this direction.

Canada may well be proud of her soldiers. General Currie says that the Canadian army in the last two years of strenuous fighting has never lost a gun, has never failed to take an objective, and has never been driven from an inch of ground once consolidated. The world admires our fighting men whose skill and prowess have been developed during the war, but whose courage and indomitable aggressiveness have been bred into them for generations in this vigorous climate.

The feeling is strong throughout Canada and is growing stronger as the men in khaki return from their activities at the various battle fronts that the soldiers must be generously treated by the Government upon their return home, and be given special attention and favorable advantages as they re-enter civil life. National igratitude or any degree of carelessness respecting these brave men must not be tolerated. There must be no "between-times," no painful state of transition for the men who have been fighting their country's battles. They have been on the national establishment in war-time, and must be kept on a national establishment until they are well started in wage-earning employment again. Soldiers' pensions must be generous, especially for all men who are incapicitated.

Prohibition is still a question of great importance to the people of Canada as well as to those of the United States and Great Britain. One of the very livest issues before the temperance forces in Canada to-day is the permanency of the Dominion regulations that temporarily prohibit the manufacture, importation and interprovincial trade in intoxicating liquors. Unless the orders-in-Council giving effect to these regulations are put into permanent legislative form the operation of [illegible] acts will become seriously impaired. If the people of Canada were to [illegible] to-day we believe they would with overwhelming voice say that they want the total nation-wide suppression of the liquor traffic. It is confidently expected the Government will pass this desirable legislation at next session.

It is most commendible that so many of Canada's soldier sons manifest a desire, immediately upon their return home, for the attainment of higher educative qualifications. Since the signing of the armistice five weeks ago, it was announced yesterday by the Toronto University Registrar, no less than 110 students have registered at the different faculties open to them. Sixty have registered at the Faculty of Arts, while at the Faculty of Applied Sciences and Engineering 50 have signed up. Seven, just returned from overseas, entered this week. Men are constantly coming in, and it is likely that registration will be kept open for some time. Special preparations are being made for the late arrivals, and it is probable that they will receive extra tuition next spring. A summer session may be held for them this year. What is true of the Provincial University is also true of the secondary, vocational and technical schools. This movement is highly creditable to our soldiers.

Capt. Percy Edge, brother-in-law of Lieut.-Col. Le Pan, was one of the officers who returned to Toronto via Portland on Saturday. Capt. He was wounded in the hip in September while serving with the 15th Battalion. Capt. Edge states that very few of the original 15th officers are left. He is the only son of the late Rev. THE SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS IN JULY

The School Term Will be Extended Until the Last of June

To enable the public and high schools to make up the loss of time occasioned by the epidemic, Hon. Dr. Cody, Minister of Education, has decided that it will not be necessary to hold any of the departmental examinations in June next, so that the second term of the school year will be longer than it has been for several years.

The Minister said he believed that with this provision and with the terms of the regulations for the conduct of these examinations, the ill effects upon the school work of the interruption which occurred may be reasonably well overcome.

In view of the unavoidable interruptions to school work which have taken place the holding of the mid-summer examinations will be deferred to the following dates:

Junior High School Entrance—July 2nd.
Junior Public School Graduation—June 30.
Lower School—July 2.
Middle School—July 11.
Pass Matriculation—July 2.
Upper School and Honor Matriculation—June 30.

A number of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. W. Mr. John Bennett was chosen chairman, and he called on Rev. W. E. B. James to read the following address:

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lamb,—Dear Friends: A few of your many friends have gathered here this evening to spend a social hour with you ere you depart to your new home in Acton. Knowing you as we do, and knowing us as you do, it is unnecessary to assure you that we very deeply regret your departure from us. While we rejoice with you in your new daughter, and are delighted that they are to occupy the old home, we shall miss you from the church on Sunday, and your place in the life of our community will be very hard to fill. Few things are harder to gain and keep than an unsullied name, and this you both have had all your life. While you are in Acton we are sure you will keep fresh in your minds the memory of the many pleasant associations we have enjoyed. We shall hold you in the kindest remembrance and are glad you are to be so near us. As a small token of our regard we beg of you to accept this clock and butter dish, hoping they will ever remind you of our friendship. Signed on behalf of the people of Crewsons Corners—Rev. W. E. H. James, Messrs. E. J. Klingsbury, C. C. Kitching, A. E. Richardson, J. H. Bennett.

Mrs. Kitching and Mr. C. Kitching made the presentation. Mr. Lamb, although surprised, made a very suitable reply, thanking all for the beautiful presents and the kind words spoken of himself and Mrs. Lamb. Speeches were then made by the chairman, Rev. Mr. James, E. J. Klingsbury, C. C. Kitching and Orrie Lamb. Games and music were then indulged in. Violin selections were given by Messrs. C. Kitching, J. Moore and W. Lamb, accompanied by Miss Mamie Near, also gramophone selections. Lunch was provided by the ladies and an enjoyable time spent by all present.
