Editorial Notes

The delegates to the great Peace Conference have commenced their arduous task. The results of their deliberations will be reported with keenest interest throughout the Dominion. The future peace and good-will of existing nations, and nations yet to be formed, depend upon the spirit of the Conference and the wisdom of the delegates. The French newspapers are predicting that the Conference will end by April.

A strong indication of the feeling of the people of Canada in reference to the adoption of permanent prohibition throughout the Dominion was shown in the election of the Alberta Liberal Convention at Calgary on Friday the following resolution was passed: The Federal Parliament should absolutely prohibit the manufacture, importation, storage or sale of intoxicating liquor within the Dominion of Canada. Out of 40 delegates present only 20 voted against the resolution.

Councillor W. F. Bradley, of Georgetown, declared himself in this manner in last issue of the Herald: "You have elected a Reeve and Council. You are entitled to know their views on all vital public questions. The greatest danger we have to face will be the agitation to bring back booze. Is there a booze organization in Georgetown? I think not. I am declaring myself in this issue of the Herald and hereby invite the Reeve and the Council to declare themselves in next week's Herald. I stand for a continuance of the enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act of September, 1916, and am unalterably convinced that this Act has been the greatest forward step towards a sound and solid standard of living." Wonder where the members of Action Council would line up on a similar challenge by some member of the Council.

The United States are now in a fair way for becoming rid of the liquor evil. State after state has voted by large majorities during the past year for the adoption of "prohibition" as a constitutional amendment. 70-day more than three-fourths of all the states of the Union have individually voted for prohibition. Unless the courts intervene at the behest of the liquor interests the United States will be permanently under prohibition after July 1 next, as the war-time measure, which goes into effect on that date, will hardly expire before the constitutional amendment becomes operative in January, 1920. Canadians would like the advantage of the example and experience of the irrefragable when they are required to decide whether or no they will continue under a Federal prohibition law. A wet Canada alongside a dry United States would stimulate temporary immigration of a kind that Canada doesn't want.

SUCCESSFUL PEACE ANNIVERSARY

Seventy-Third Anniversary Services of the Methodist Church Last Sunday were Epoch-Making

ABLE SERMONS BY REV. GEO. W. BARKER

"O thou whose love begeth words The treasures of the years, Whose Father-heart well knoweth Our gladdest bliss and care."

Since 1846 regular Sunday services have been conducted at the Methodist Church in Acton. For thirty years these services were held in the present building at the corner of John and Church streets, and which gave the latter street its name. For nearly two years the present attractive church edifice has been the home of the congregation. None of the fathers of old church are left, and few of their sons and daughters are now resident here who worshipped in the old church. The anniversary services have always been occasions of great interest. None of them were more interesting, or more largely attended than those of the seventy-third year, held last Sunday.

The preacher of the day was the Rev. W. Barker, of Burlington, a former pastor beloved, who now occupies the high position of pastor of the Hamilton conference. This was the fourth occasion upon which Rev. Mr. Barker has been honored as the annual preacher. Every time he has delivered impressive, inspiring and ably sermons, and always to the edification and delight of the large congregation. Mr. Barker's sermons on Sunday were powerful discourses, worthy in every respect of a President of the Conference, helpful and timely. The morning sermon dealt for its theme with the Challenge of Sacrifice, and the evening discourse pointed out in forcible terms "The Price of Liberty."

The Challenge of Sacrifice, Mr. Barker noted that the anniversary had been referred to in the announcements of the Fair, but that it was not deemed especially fitting after four long years of struggle, sacrifice and the shedding of blood. The challenge of Jesus Christ to sacrifice, Jesus Christ himself met the challenge, so should every true Christian of the church of God be ready to sacrifice. The same law of sacrifice must upon every individual. A few, because of this the church of Jesus Christ is today face to face with the greatest challenge of its history. It is a challenge to sacrifice. The men there found out that sacrifice meant friendship. It is a challenge to sacrifice. The way of advancement, of progress, of attainment is by struggle and sacrifice. Jesus Christ knew Gethsemane and Gethsemane. We too must know sacrifice if we wish the highest good.
